An official information has been received here that the rebels contemplate, at an early day, the planting of a battery on the Potomac at points to command the channel.

As part of their general programme, they have at Acquia Creek five guns upon one bat-tery and three upon another, and while an ex-cursion party of distinguished gentlemen from Washington was in that vicinity on Sat-urday, a train of cars, full of troops, came up to the station there. By way of unusement or experiment, a few inelicetual shots were fired, at a distance of three miles, from the steamer containing the pleasure party, which comprised several members and ex-members of Congress. Some of our citizens were considerably alarmed last night by the successive reports of heavy cannonading, which subsequently proved to be from the same steamboat, on its weturn to Washington, and not from the enemy as was at first apprehended.

The business of the Sonate in Executive session has, so far been confined principally to action on the appointments made by the President during the recess.

Thus far, the army, under the new bill for its increase, will it is said by some Senators, be thoroughly sifted, in order that efficiency in that branch of the public service may be secured, and incompetency excluded.

Further Particulars of the Late Battle.

More Rebel Barbarism .- The War Department has positive information that Messrs. Harry McGraw and Arnord Harris, with a livery stable keeper here, who went for Colonel Camenon's body, have been taken to the Rebel quarters.

THE TWENTY-SEVENTH REGIMENT NEW YORK Volunteers.—This regiment was in the very thickest of the fight at Bull's Run, and suffered very severely. Con. Slocum was severely wounded by a grapeshot in the thigh. The Lieutenant-Colonel, Jos. J. CHAMBERS, was also severely wounded, being struck three times in the shoulder and side by musket balls, and having his clothes literally ridled with balls early in the action. When, with the Colonel, he had dismounted for the purpose of leading a bayonet charge against a series of hill-side batteries, he was still uble to retain his command, but still later in the are well cared for. GRIFFIN'S BATTERY .- Captain GRIFFIN'S hattery at Bull's Run was planted at a distance of 1500 yards from one of the enemy's, and without and beyond the range of their pieces. Every shot told upon them with mur-derous effect. He was ordered to advance it within 500 yards. Captain G., supposing it was a mistake, replied that he was in a fine position, and not losing a shot. He was orlered a third time to advance, and obeyed. In three discharges, or less than two minutes time, he lost forty-five men and sixty horses, and, unsupported as he was by infantry, was compelled, to retreat, leaving all his guns but LIEUTENANT BRISBIN.-This officer had three men shot while endeavoring to stop the retreat, and he himself performed gallant service in this way after having received the following wounds:—A pistol shot through the arm, received in the last charge of the Secession cavalry; a wound in the side from the splinter of a shell, received in the field; a sabre cut on the shoulder, received while endeavoring to stop the retreat.

They say the rebels lost 1,500 killed and wounded. They could get no idea of the function cavalry; a wound in the side from the splinter of a shell, received while cut on the shoulder, received while cut of the rebels refused to bury the slain of the deavoring to stop the retreat.

WRITING LETTERS FOR SOLDIERS .- Messrs. BALLARD & COLGER, representing the Army Committee of the New York Young Men's Christian Association, have been writing letters all day to the friends of wounded soldiers at the hospital. The poor sufferers greatly appreciate this thoughtful attention.

It is established that the Secessionists had 91,000 men within their lines at Bull's Run on the morning of Sunday last, and that JEFF. Davis in person brought up 17,000 more from Richmond, who reached there about noon. They had, therefore, fully three times as many as Gen. McDowell, and four times as many ns were brought into action on our side.

John F. Porter, Jr. of the Brooklyn Four teenth, son of J. F. Porter, Esq., of the Michigan Southern Railroad of this city, relates the following incident:—William Anderson the following and so he fell he was mortally wounded, and as he fell he grasped his (Porter's) arm, saying "Good bye, old fellow, I'm done for. FROM ALEXANDRIA. ALEXANDRIA, July 28.

Mrs. Hinsdale, whose husband is a member of the Second Michigan Regiment, which is now on the Virginia side of the Potomac, has returned from Manassas Junction. She was nt Centreville during the engagement on Sunday, and waited there for the return of the soldiers, looking for her husband. Failing to see him, she supposed him a prisoner at Manassas. The enemy captured her, and conveyed her thither, and employed her as hos pital nurse. On Thursday she procured a pass from Gen. Beauregard and his consent to leave. FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, July 29. The National Intelligencer, of this morning

Some of the newspaper writers are designating points in the neighborhood of Washington which they think need special and strong-er defences. All we can say is to repeat the remark of one in authority, namely—that "military men in charge have an eye to all these things, and the arrival of regiment af-

The evacuation of Harper's Ferry, and its motives are well understood here. We may say the same of the evacution of the village of Hampton, by our forces, Captain William Allen, of the Eleventh Massachusetts; E. P. Dougherty, of the New York Seventy-first; and Orlando Wuldorf, of the Second Wisconsin, arrived here to day. They escaped from Manassas.
