

surface soil properly pulverized. It yields the largest and best quality of fiber when it follows a crop of wheat or oats immediately out of lea. but may be sown with success on more won ground. It has been found, from experience that the proper time for sowing is from the first to the twelfth of May, a period very suitable for the sowing of clover and grass seeds, when those delicate seeds will CHAINS.-600 pairs of Trace Chains, of all kinds, with a large assortment of have no difficulty in quickly germinating, or their growing progress retarded by frost, when earlier sown ; it is therefore, considered the safest and best crop for laying down land with those essentially useful seeds. Clover has been properly styled the farmer's sheet anchor, and from the preparation that is needed for the due development of flax a heavy crop of clover is the general result. Those intending to grow flax will at once see that much depends on the condition of the lund, and it is highly necessary, to insure a good libit. East Main street,) are receiving duily large crop, to have it perfectly free from any foulness. No crop is more generous in its return for care bestowed on it than flax ; we should be particular in doing everything with it well. When not intended for laying down, but to be followed by fall wheat, it will be off the ground in time for that purpose, as it occupies the least time of any crop in coming maturity. As flax requires but a very slight covering, all unevenness in the ground should be removed by the harrow, and if, the weather has previously been dry. rolling be-fore sowing will pulverize the small lumps, and end much to have an even and productive crop. Holland seed is the best for clayey soils, and Riga for loose friable soils. About seven pecks of seed to the acre is the proper quantity, and should be sown broadcast. When the plants have attained to a height of six or eight inches they should be weeded by hand. They will then require no further care until the time of pulling.

Bye for Shtep. Rye is one of the most valuable of the green feed for sheep. A friend of ours, an amateur farmer, who has his means all lock-ed up in real estate, but who is determined. make it pay his expenses in spite of the hard times for all the real estate speculators, en-closed four hundred acres, which he rents out on shares, the most of which has been cultivated in corn since the crash of 1857. Beginming to fear that his third of the corn crop would not pay his taxes on some thousands of acres of wild land, with his other expenses, he applied to his arithmatic, which convinced thin that a thousand good mutton sheep would help him out; so, after the corn was laid by, he persuaded one of his tenants to allow him to sow some thirty acres of ryc among the corn. His thousand sheep were ed in August, herded wherever he could find feed until the corn was ripe, when they were turned on the young rye, which onnterpanes. &c., &c. was their principal feed until the first of June, was their principal feed until the birst of oute, when it was turned under and planted to corn. A portion of the crop was well fed down, but had it not been for the standing corn-stalke, a respectable crop could have been harvested from a part of the field. Here was the large part of the field. Here was the large part of the feel of a thousand sheep for eight months, costing $12 for the seed and about the same for labor, and re-turning the land in far better condition than it was before, no doubt to the extent of the seed and labor. We have never seen a lot of sheep and lambs at this season in so good a condition as this rye-fed flock. The flock is now on the prairie, and will re-
