

Latest from Corinth!

Gen. Pope Takes 10,000 Prisoners.

15,000 ARMS CAPTURED!

REBEL ARMY DEMORIALIZED.

Beauregard Tells his Forces to 'Save Themselves!'

WASHINGTON, June 4, 1862. The following official despatch was received at the War Department this afternoon: GEN. HALLACK'S HEADQUARTERS, June 4, 1862.

To the Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: Gen. Pope, with 40,000 men, is thirty miles south of Corinth, pushing the enemy hard.

He already reports 10,000 prisoners and deserters from the enemy, and 15,000 stand of arms captured.

A thousand of the enemy are throwing away their arms!

A farmer says that when Beauregard heard that Col. Elliott had cut the railroad on his line of retreat, he became frantic, and told his men to save themselves as best they could.

We have captured nine locomotives and a number of cars. One is already repaired, and is running to-day; and several more will be running in two or three days.

The result is all I could possibly expect. (Signed) H. W. HALLOCK, Major General Commanding.

Artillery Fight at New Bridge.

THE ENEMY REPULSED.

HEADQUARTERS GEN. MCCLELLAN'S ARMY, Thursday evening, June 6th.

The severe storm which set in on Tuesday afternoon lasted during the whole of yesterday. The water in the Chickahominy rose to an unprecedented height.

The railroad trains from White House to the late battle field were detained several hours, and the telegraph line was down in many places.

An contraband, who left Richmond on Sunday night, states that all the carts, furniture, carriages, and carriages to be found in that city were impressed into the service, for the purpose of carrying the dead and wounded from the battle field, and that the Spottswold and Exchange Hotels, together with a number of public and private buildings, were turned into hospitals.

The rebels opened with artillery this morning from five different points opposite New Bridge, with a view of preventing the destruction of the bridge.

The rebels opened with artillery this morning from five different points opposite New Bridge, with a view of preventing the destruction of the bridge.

Our loss was one killed and two wounded. No further interference took place during the day.

Approved by Gen. R. B. MARCY, Chief of Staff.

Gen. Joe. Johnson said to be Mortally Wounded—General Smith in Command of the Rebels—Affairs in Richmond—Rebel Loss 10,000—From the Department of the Potomac—The War in Alabama—Gen. Negley Drives the Enemy Back—He Utters Defeat and Routs Them at Winchester—Baggage Wagons, Ammunition and Supplies Fall into the Hands of the Rebels—The Rebels in Possession of Memphis—A Naval Engagement on the Mississippi—Seven Rebel Gunboats Captured or Sunk.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

HEAD QUARTERS GEN. McCLELLAN, FRIDAY, June 6.

Two deserters, who came in this morning, state that Gen. Joe. Johnson was seriously and mortally wounded in the grain, by a Minie ball during the recent battle, and that Gen. G. W. Smith is now in command.

Other information received goes to corroborate the fact.

The deserters state that the rebel loss is estimated at 10,000 killed, wounded and missing. No material change has taken place in the position of the enemy.

A contraband has arrived who left Richmond on Tuesday evening. He represents things there as in a terrible state of confusion and uncertainty.

No troops are in the city except those doing guard duty and tending to the sick and wounded, all others being compelled to remain outside.

There was no sign of an evacuation, but on everything going to show a determined resistance on the part of the rebels.

The contraband stated that during the fight of Sunday, the house-top, and all elevated positions were covered with people to witness the battle, every one expecting to see our troops driven into the Chickahominy, but when they saw the Confederates running towards the city, the greatest consternation prevailed.

Many of the inhabitants have deserted James River, expecting the city to be occupied by our troops soon.

It was rumored that Gen. Magruder is going to resign, having become disgusted with the rebel military Department.

We are informed that there are no troops between the Rappahannock and the army of the Potomac under command of Gen. McClellan.

Everything has been very quiet to-day. A flight of truce came in from Gen. Pettigrew, asking for the bodies of Gen. Pettigrew and Colonel Davis, Lightfoot, Long and Britton, who were supposed by the rebels to have been killed in the late battle.

Col. Lightfoot and Long are prisoners, and Col. Britton was wounded, as also Gen. Pettigrew. The body of Col. Davis will be returned.

On the 7th of June 7th—Messages received at the War Department, dated at General McClellan's headquarters at 12 o'clock to-day, state that all was quiet in that vicinity.

FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF SIEGE.

MONDAY, June 6.

Further pursuit of Jackson has been in the Shenandoah river, carrying away the pontoon bridge with which we replaced the after a part of Fremont's forces crossed the river twelve feet in four hours.

The material of the bridge was all saved, and no accident has thus far been taken.

FROM FRONT ROYAL—SEIZURE OF FLOUR MILLS BY THE MILITARY.

New York, June 6.—A special dispatch to the New York Tribune, dated from Front Royal, Va., says: Captain Sanderson, chief of four mills, has taken possession of all the flour on hand. Sixty together with grain gathered by the Commanding General to all families who request them, without respect to their loyalty or disloyalty, and the soldier of being immediately shot. The rebel is still unscathed and the roads along the river are both branches of the Shenandoah are still lying.

United States Troops in Possession of Memphis.

NEW MADRID, June 7. The steamer Platte Valley has just arrived from Memphis. She reports that all is quiet there.

She reports that the operator at New Madrid telegraph that the steamer Platte Valley had passed there direct from Memphis, en route for Cairo.

Our forces are in indisputable possession of the city of Memphis.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Advices have been received from Commodore Davis, at Memphis, announcing a battle between his fleet, aided by Col. Elliott's ram flotilla, and the rebel fleet of eight gunboats and rams.

The engagement commenced at 5.30 o'clock on the morning of the 6th inst., and ended at 7 o'clock in the morning, the result of which was the capture or sinking of seven of the rebel fleet.

One escaped by superior speed. Col. Elliott, who is seriously but not dangerously wounded, is highly complimented for gallantry and skill.

Memphis surrounded immediately after the engagement and was placed under military authority.

THE WAR IN ALABAMA.

WASHINGTON, June 7. Dispatches have been received at the War Department from Gen. Mitchell dated at Huntsville, Ala., June 6th, stating that an expedition from his army, under command of Gen. Negley, has been ordered to march towards the Rebels, under command of Gen. Anderson, from Winchester, through Jasper, and back to Chattanooga, and utterly defeated and routed them at that point.

Baggage wagons, ammunition and supplies have fallen into our hands, and still more important results may be expected to follow this movement.

TEXAS TO BE RESTORED TO THE UNION.

NEW YORK, June 6. The Tribune of to-day says: "We learn through a private channel, in which we confide, that the Unionists of Texas will soon be heard from. We understand that their arrangements for restoring their State to the Union have been quietly matured, and that they have already thrown the old flag to the breeze, under the lead of Gen. Sam Houston.

Though we wish the Kansas expedition southward, planned and organized last winter, had been prosecuted, yet we cherish strong hopes that the Republic of Texas will soon turn up missing, and that Old Sam and Uncle Sam will have possession of the State. We await tidings with lively interest."
