

Olds and Ends.

Why is a fold of grass like a person older than yourself? Because it is past your age. The Pittsburgh Dispatch truly says "The most disloyal papers are invariably those which most vaunt their loyalty."

DEATH OF A STATE SENATOR.—The Hon. E. S. Wharton, Senator from the Huntington, Bedford and Somerset District, died suddenly at his residence in Huntington recently. A large number of rebel deserters lurk in the country between Norfolk and Richmond. They and runaway contrabands commit many depredations and outrages.

THE author of the following is supposed to have hung himself immediately after his "perpetration." Why is the present state of the country like a bawling daughter? Because it is a cry-baby! The Moadville Republican thinks that libel suits against newspapers are usually "provoked by fearlessly telling the truth; and that evidence is not easily generally admitted."

THE only reason why some of the Republicans have fled so strongly is because he did not steal enough. If he had taken as much as Cameron they would pardon all his sins, and give him a foreign mission. The Republicans are devoting themselves greatly to reading Intell, Blair, Browning, Driven, Cowan, Washburn, Dawes, and several other prominent members have been recently read out of their party.

A letter from Richmond states that copies of the New York Tribune are regularly smuggled into the South, for the purpose of copying articles from it to keep the mind of the people inflamed against the North. Pronounce says the South can no longer accuse the Yankees of stinginess—see how they "shell out." At Fort Royal, Palmetto, and everywhere that the Rebels would not wait long enough to receive their attentions.

THE attempt to resuscitate the Republican party by giving it a new title will not succeed. The people will recognize the old mischief-maker, through all the efforts to disguise it. A skunk by any other name would smell as bad. "Tell me, angelic host, ye messenger of love, shall I send printed, here below, have no redress above." The shining angel had replied: "To us is knowledge given; delinquents on the printers' book can never enter heaven."

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press recommends the prisoners taken from the rebels to be set to work at completing the Philadelphia & Erie R. R., or the canal to unite the Mississippi with the Lakes, or some other useful employment. An old dandy in the District of Columbia was heard to exclaim: "Grasshopper, golly, what good times these are; no muscuss—no 'ent an' Mass' Lincoln gill us all we can get an' make de white trash foot us will, Golly, but dese 'Publians am good fellows!"

ONE of our exchanges says he doesn't like the new fashioned bonnet. Confound you, who cares whether you do or not. The Indies will continue to wear them, while they are the fashion. If all the old crones in Christendom issue their fulminations against them. The news of her husband being killed so preyed on the feelings of Madame Philippo, wife of a soldier in Sicker's brigade, and residing in New York, that she printed laudum, whereupon she poisoned herself and her daughter Juliette, five years of age, and both died on Sunday.

A gentleman who drew $1000 from the Treasury Department at Washington, on Friday, was swindled out of it by a sharper who called on him in the name of the Hon. B. A. HARRIS, and got it into his possession by representing there was a mistake made in counting it. He made good his escape.

TREASURY NOTES.—The National and American Bank Note Companies run night and day upon Government work, and so great is the pressure upon them that they are unable to issue unless offered by the Government, but considerable excitement among the Irish citizens of Boston. On Saturday evening a large meeting was held and the course of the Governor denounced in strong language.

A couple of Kentuckians lately visited Boston, and sat down to dine at the "Revere House." One of them, who had a card on the table, and one of the Kentuckians taking them for "corn-dodgers," proceeded to break one or two. Getting the scent of it, he turned to his partner, remarking, in a most solemn manner,—"Something dead in that, Tom!"

VALUE OF A LIFE ANNUITY.—An old lady recently died in Boston, at the age of ninety-six, who, in the year 1828, purchased an annuity of two hundred dollars a year, by depositing in the Hospital Life Insurance Company $1,858.32, for which she was to receive $200 a year, lived to draw from the company six thousand and seven hundred dollars.

MR. STARK was elected, or appointed, justice of the peace when De Kalb county was first organized in Illinois. He lived in a log house, and always lived at court at home; his wife kept his docket, and attended at his court to keep his minutes. She was a helpmate for him, and he courted to some purpose when he got such a wife as Mrs. Stark proved to be. One day when the room was crowded and a trial going on, Mrs. Stark dropped her pencil on the floor, and being unable to find it for the pressure, the justice roared out: "Stand back—stand back, I say! the Court has lost her pencil!"

ARREWS WARD AS AN EDITOR.—In the Oct. 18th my friend, the editor of the Blandingsville Bugle, was obliged to leave professional duties to go to his father's, and he asked me to edit for him during his absence. According to my ground up his Sheers & commenced. I didn't take a grate while to slash out copy sent from the exchanges for 1850, and I please to let me up to the next town in several. I want to rest my mental faculties in a severe rack by my brain efforts. (This is sort of a trial.) As I went over to the Raleigh office and asked the Superintendent for a pair.

"You an editor?" he asked, evily on the point of snickerin. "Yes, Sir," he said, "I don't look poor enuff?" "Just about," he said, "but our Role can't pars' you."

"Can't, hay?" "No Sir—it can't."
