cavalry is a most formidable force, and ju-diciously used on the battle field, might have caused us irreparable loss. But Hooker has seen fit to expend this formidable force, not upon the battle field, but upon the undefend ed railroads, and what damage has he done? From all we can gather, three engines have from all we can gaund, all outputs have been partially destroyed, the rails torn up at several points on the lines, creating a delay of transportation possibly two or three days. The exact amount of the injury done to the the exact amount of the injury done to the railroads has not been assertained, and the rumers and reports are so conflicting and contradictory that it is folly to repeat them.

We learn from a gentleman who was cap-tured by them at Ashland, and whose horse was taken, that no damage was done to the cars, except, perhaps, to the engine; that the force was expecting to be captured ; that a Col. Davis, commanding the force, so expressed himself; that hungry, dispirited, and jaded, many of the mien expressed openly a desire to be captured. Their main object was avowed to be the destruction of the Central Bailroad bridge over the Chickahominy, which they accomplished. Not being gratifield by being captured, they are said to have erossed the Chickahominy at Meadow Bridg-erossed the Chickahominy at Meadow Bridg-es, and gone over the Pamunkey at Old-Church, and to be making their way either.

service of Mexico. Lord Palmerton said that England's commercial interests with Mexico had the best security in the belief that the U. S. Govern-ment would not make seizures without due cause, and there was reason to believe that the U. S. prize courts would not act unjustly. British consels would receive and open suspected mails, and would in honor deliver up any correspondence contrary to good faith. The subject was then dropped. The Daily News regards the interest in Mr. Horsefall's motion as painfully significant.

The British squadron on the Pacific is to be strengthened.

THE BRONZE DOOR for the Capitol at Washington, ordered of Mr. Randolph Rogers, is finished, and awaiting orders of the Govern-ment in Munich. Its total cost wil be about $45,000. It is composed entirely of bronze, back and front, and is said to be the only work of the kind in the world which is thus constructed. Its weight is 20,000 pounds.--The leading subject of its embellishment is the history of Columbus. It has two valves, with four panels in each valve, and one semicircular panel over the transom. The first panel (beginning at the bottom of the left hand valve) contains a scene représenting Columbus before the council of Salamanda Columbus before the council of Salamandal IIATS, CAPS, AND STRAW HATS, the second panel his leaving the convent of La Rabida; the third panel, his audience be-fore Ferdinand Isabella; the fourth panel, his departure from Palos; the semicircular
