HOW THE "LOYAL" ARISTOCHACY TRAVEL. -The Allentown Democrat says: "Morace Greeley, Speaker Colfax and faimily passed over the East Pennsylvania railroad to New York the other day, in one of 'the grady private cars, built for the "Govdriment" at an immense expense. The day was very inclement and the train we immense one. From Harrisburg to Allentown the humpers of the cars were fold wotwith. whe bumpers of the cars were fell, notwithstanding which Messrs. Greeley and Collax kept the doors of their car locked, refusing to admit anybody, although their car was occupied only themselves. A sick gentleman was on the bumper of Mr. Greeley's car, unable to sit down in the rain on the wet bumper, who was supported by two soldiers, leaning against the car door, through the window of which they could look in upon camfortable and "loyal" Messrs. Greeley and Colfax Rex Flours, playing, cardes? The wife of a member of Congress from the West also thok wick on the road. Application was whate to Messrs. Greeley and Colfax for admission into their car, and it was refused. At New York she was carried from the care to the ferry bost—bethe bumpers of the cars were full, wotwithcarried from the cars to the ferry bost-being unable to walk. The conduct of these two men was a subject of condemnation, and the question was generally asked, particular-ly by the soldiers, what right Greeley and Collax had with a "government private car?"
They are, it is true, of the "loyal" aristocrany, and have a great deal to say of their friendship for the soldiers and "brave de-

and adds:
Mr. Sherman has a history worthy of mention. Five years since he commenced with little capitol and hard manual labor to seek little capitol and hard manual labor to seek for oil in Pennsylvania. He sank five wells all of which are failures. This exhausted his funds but he did not despair. He tried again—pawoing his watch and clothing even—to get means to go on with another well. This well, before completed, reduced him to poverty, and yet he managed to sink his well with his own hands until he struck oil in such large quantities as to make famous over the world the Sherman well. This well flowed at first 5,500, barrels per day, and averaged for over a year a flow of 1,500 barrels. About this time he sold the well for $2,-800,000. Since that time by judicious pur-chases and sales has added to his capital unchaces and sales has added to his capital di-til the is now reported worth $7.500,000, all in cash and equivalent stocks outside of oil lands and oil companies. Mr. Sherman is about 50 years of age and still in bachelor's Hundred Millions, payable three years from the bliss—such as it is—and contemplates going to Europe in June where he expects to spend a few years. He has no brother or sister or father or mother living.

TERRIBLE EFFECTS OF A QUARREL BETWEEN HUSBAND AND WIFE.—Ferdinand Eversback and his wife Ernestine, both Germans, resiand his wife Ernestine, both Germans, residing in Philadelphia, got into a quarrel on Tucaday night, which resulted in a desperate fight, which attracted to their residence an excited crowd. A policeman was the first to enter. Everything inside was found to be in disorder, showing that a terrible struggle had taken place. On the floor lay the hushand with a recommendation of the struggle had taken place. On the floor lay the hushand with a recommendation of the struggle had taken place. At his side was a bloody hatchet In one of the upper rooms the wife was discovered, with a number of scalp wounds. Neither of them was able to give any account of the origin of the occurrence. Both were removed to the Pennsylvania Hosnital. It was believed that the husband could not survive his injuries, while the wife also seemed to be dangerously hurt.

Democracy is looking up. From States where at the last elections. Republicanism rode down all opposition, and where Democracy and its principles seemed to have been buried beyond all hope of resurrection by the insane murderers of our country's peace—it is, like truth, rising to new life. In Ohio, in the State of New York, in Indiana, and even in Maine, there are portentious signs that with the dawn of peace the party of the people is gathering a strength and a unity of purpose that will ensure viotory in the next general contest. ncerely trust the good signs may con tinue to increase, for, as they increase, so do the changes of an union of the best portion of all parties brighten and give promise of a grand destiny to our day of peace.—Phila.
