

AMERICAN VOLUNTEER.

JOHN B. BRATTON, Editor & Proprietor.

CARLISLE, PA., JUNE 15, 1865.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.—The annual examinations of our Common Schools will begin on Monday morning next...

BOBBERY OF $1,150.—The dwelling of Mr. SAMUEL BRISTINE, collector of Bounty taxes in Silver Spring township...

ROBBERY—The Thief Caught.—A young man (a stranger in these parts), calling himself GEORGE HOLMES...

SCISSOR BY A SOLDIER.—A soldier at our garrison, who had enlisted at New York recently, calling himself CHARLES DAVID...

LAFFAINE was a Frenchman, about 30 years of age, and from papers in his pocket, it appeared that he had been an assistant surgeon in SHERMAN'S army...

DROWNING CASE.—A black man named AUGUSTUS RHODES, who resided in our town, was drowned in the Canodogues creek...

THE COOKING POT.—Gov. CURTIN has just issued a proclamation to the people of Pennsylvania, recommending a proper observance of the coming anniversary of our national independence...

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—That our valley is at present infested with scores of burglars, horse-thieves, pick-pockets and vagabonds, here-heres, is no news...

STRAWBERRIES.—Carlisle is abundantly supplied with this fruit at from 15 to 20 cts. a quart.

JEN. SHERMAN—THE RELIGIOUS JOURNALS.

Of all the assaults of Gen. SHERMAN, none have been more virulent, impudent and devilish than those unprincipled and heartless hypocrites who spit out their spleen through the so-called "religious journals" of our country.

With unblushing audacity these hirelings have anthematized the distinguished hero, and heaped upon his head the vilest of his wrath. That these sectarian editors are and have been under pay from the War Department, is as universally despised and loathed.

In reading a discourse delivered by an eminent divine recently, we noticed one remark particularly. He said, with marked emphasis, "I tell you, my brethren, infidelity is fearfully on the increase, and if not combated with vigor and power, its votaries will soon be counted by hundreds if not by thousands in every county and town of the North and South."

But, our object in commencing these remarks was to speak more particularly of the assaults made upon Gen. SHERMAN by the so-called religious journals. The radicals, it appears, will never forgive SHERMAN for ending the war in the sudden manner he did.

With the close of the war the national expenses will be vastly reduced, and investors must look for a sharp reduction in the rate of interest as soon as the present loans become due, and can be paid off.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANDING ARMY OF 177,000 MEN!

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, in his letter dated June 12, thus speaks of the permanent military establishment that STANTON is organizing:

"The regular army, or permanent military establishment of the country, will be organized on the following basis:—General officers—One General, five Lieutenant-Generals, fifty Major-Generals, and seventy-five Brigadier-Generals. The regular army proper to be composed of nineteen regiments of infantry, six regiments of cavalry, and five regiments of artillery, all filled up to the maximum number; besides these, fifty thousand colored troops will be retained with the regiments filled up to the maximum number."

Under the proposed arrangement the total strength of the army will be nearly as follows:—Regular infantry, 45,600; regular cavalry, 14,400; regular artillery, 12,000; colored troops, 50,000; Hancock's Veteran Reserve corps, 30,000 MEN!

What an earth does STANTON want with a standing army of 177,000 men? To keep up this immense and consuming force will require more money than all the revenue and taxes that can be scraped together.

THE LADY'S FRIEND.—The July number of this Magazine opens with an engraving appropriate to the season, called "ON THE CLIFF." It is a beautiful picture of two lovers enjoying the repose and freshness of the seashore...

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

STANTON VS. SHERMAN.—The radicals will consent to nothing but the utter ruin of Gen. Sherman, because he did not give under at the fall of Stanton.

LETTERS FROM EUROPE.

Mr. FRANK LAVER, the celebrated ale and beer manufacturer of Reading, is at present travelling in Europe. He gives the result of his observations through the columns of the Reading Gazette. Below we give two of his letters, which will be found interesting.

LONDON, May 18, 1865. Dear Friend: We are just through with the official business of our Commission, and I will have a few minutes to spare, to give you a short sketch of the principal places of the city of London. I kept up my reading time until I reached here, the difference is 5 hours 10 minutes—12 o'clock M. at Reading is 6:50 in the morning here. I am now writing at 6 o'clock A. M., midnight with you.

When we entered the city of London, I observed a number of public Parks, which are common in European cities; but only a few cities in America, such as New York, Boston, &c., enjoy that great advantage. Philadelphia is following by adding to her already beautiful Squares, Lemon Hill and other fine Parks.

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of a resolution declaring that "interference with slavery in the States is a breach of faith."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution which declared that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the provisions of the Constitution in relation to the rendition of slaves must be carried out."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

LETTERS FROM EUROPE.

Mr. FRANK LAVER, the celebrated ale and beer manufacturer of Reading, is at present travelling in Europe. He gives the result of his observations through the columns of the Reading Gazette. Below we give two of his letters, which will be found interesting.

LONDON, May 18, 1865. Dear Friend: We are just through with the official business of our Commission, and I will have a few minutes to spare, to give you a short sketch of the principal places of the city of London. I kept up my reading time until I reached here, the difference is 5 hours 10 minutes—12 o'clock M. at Reading is 6:50 in the morning here. I am now writing at 6 o'clock A. M., midnight with you.

When we entered the city of London, I observed a number of public Parks, which are common in European cities; but only a few cities in America, such as New York, Boston, &c., enjoy that great advantage. Philadelphia is following by adding to her already beautiful Squares, Lemon Hill and other fine Parks.

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of a resolution declaring that "interference with slavery in the States is a breach of faith."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution which declared that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the provisions of the Constitution in relation to the rendition of slaves must be carried out."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

LETTERS FROM EUROPE.

Mr. FRANK LAVER, the celebrated ale and beer manufacturer of Reading, is at present travelling in Europe. He gives the result of his observations through the columns of the Reading Gazette. Below we give two of his letters, which will be found interesting.

LONDON, May 18, 1865. Dear Friend: We are just through with the official business of our Commission, and I will have a few minutes to spare, to give you a short sketch of the principal places of the city of London. I kept up my reading time until I reached here, the difference is 5 hours 10 minutes—12 o'clock M. at Reading is 6:50 in the morning here. I am now writing at 6 o'clock A. M., midnight with you.

When we entered the city of London, I observed a number of public Parks, which are common in European cities; but only a few cities in America, such as New York, Boston, &c., enjoy that great advantage. Philadelphia is following by adding to her already beautiful Squares, Lemon Hill and other fine Parks.

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of a resolution declaring that "interference with slavery in the States is a breach of faith."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution which declared that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the provisions of the Constitution in relation to the rendition of slaves must be carried out."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

LETTERS FROM EUROPE.

Mr. FRANK LAVER, the celebrated ale and beer manufacturer of Reading, is at present travelling in Europe. He gives the result of his observations through the columns of the Reading Gazette. Below we give two of his letters, which will be found interesting.

LONDON, May 18, 1865. Dear Friend: We are just through with the official business of our Commission, and I will have a few minutes to spare, to give you a short sketch of the principal places of the city of London. I kept up my reading time until I reached here, the difference is 5 hours 10 minutes—12 o'clock M. at Reading is 6:50 in the morning here. I am now writing at 6 o'clock A. M., midnight with you.

When we entered the city of London, I observed a number of public Parks, which are common in European cities; but only a few cities in America, such as New York, Boston, &c., enjoy that great advantage. Philadelphia is following by adding to her already beautiful Squares, Lemon Hill and other fine Parks.

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of a resolution declaring that "interference with slavery in the States is a breach of faith."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution which declared that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the provisions of the Constitution in relation to the rendition of slaves must be carried out."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."

Mr. Johnson voted in favor of the resolution declaring that "the Union rests on the equality of the States."