WHEN TO CUT WHEAT:

The wheat harvest is close at hand, there s a right way in which every thing should be done, and a slight neglect may sometimes occasion great loss; it is important that all farmers communicate their experience for the good of the agricultural fraternity. To this end a correspondent of the Germantown (Pa.)
Telegraph communicates the result of his experiment last season in cutting wheat at different stages of ripeness.

The experimental cutting was, commenced on the 27th of June, and from that to the 1st of July, two good sheaves were cut at or near six o'clock; from the 1st to the 20th of July three sheaves were cut every morning.

These sheaves were cut with a sickle, and a metal label containing the date, was tied to the band of each sheaf; every morning they were carried from the field to the barn, and laid on a mow over the barn floor. Each set of sheaves remained in the field one day and were then housed; if wet, care was taken to dry them well.

On the 1st of August the sheaves were to ken down and threshed, by striking the heads over the edge of a board laid on an open barrel, and each lot carefully by itself, with its proper label. As soon as all the lots were threshed and arranged, the following was the result. Equal measures of each were taken One measure of that cut on:

By reference to this table, we find that the By reference to this table, we find that the parcels cut on the 10th and 11th July were the heaviest by nearly one pound, and from these, dating both ways, weight decreases.—

Here, then, is a question in simple arithmetic: If I gain one pound on nineteen, how many would be gained on one bushel, or sixty pounds? About four and three pinctearths. ty pounds? About four and three-nineteenths

In order to test the matter still further. samples of each were taken to an old and experienced Brandywine miller, and his judgment was asked, without his knowing anything about the experiment. He after a lit tle hesitation, picked out that cut July 11th as best suiting his purpose, but he hesitated between the three parcels cut on July 11th, 10th and 9th. He told us that the parcels numbered 13, 14, 15 and 16, (cut July 8, 7, 6 and 4th,) looked as well as any, but did not weigh as much, and would dry away more than those which he selected as the best.

In conclusion, all the members of the part conducting the experiment concluded that the proper time to cut wheat is when the grain in the middle of the ear can be crushed between the fingers and leave nothing but the husk and a thick pulp, without any fluid around its cdges.

It will be noticed that fully seven per cent.
is saved by cutting wheat exactly at the right

TRAINING TOMATOES .- A very cheap and good rack for training tomato vines upon, is to take a piece of wood three or four feet long, similar in size to a roofing lath, bore three holes through it, then take sticks two feet long and put them in the first mentioned piece, which, by sharponing one end, can be driven into the ground, three of those upright to each plant, forming a triangle, for the plant to grow in. After the plant has grown to a considerable size, and the first buds appear where the tomate will be, clip the branch off just above them, which retards the growth of the vine, and facilitates the growth of the young tomato. By having the vines thus trained, it prevents the tomato from rotting, and the chickens do not have as good a chance to destroy them. One dozen vines thus planted and trained will produce enough tomatoes for any ordinary family. I deem it the most economical way of training them.— In the fall these racks can be packed away in some old building, then they will always be ready for use.

BURN UP THE RUBBISH .- Fire is a great purifier. It is astonishing what a change for the better can be made in the garden and around the house by raking up and burning the rubbish. If any of it is valuable for manure, let it be wheeled to the compost heap, and then set fire to the remainder. Go where we may, rubbish of all kinds meets the eye. In the country, branches of trees are thrown into the fence corners and there allowed to lie and rot. Chips, old rails, stumps of trees and decayed wood, in a variety of forms, are found on almost every farm. They are unsightly objects, but this is by no means their worst feature. They are prolific source of fungus in all its multifarious forms. And fungus is becoming the greatest post in American horticulture. The cracking of the pear, rotting of the grape, and specks on apples, are all caused by lungus, while rust and mildew are only different names for different forms of fungus growth.

To PRESERVE CHERRIES AND STRAWBERRIES -Cherries. Add to the cherries an equal weight of nice loaf sugar. Melt the sugar with the fruit, taking care not to boil.— After the sugar is melted, let them stand in a hot place for three hours; then pour out in soup plates, cover them with a thin cloth, and set in the sun for several days. By preserving this way, the fruit retains its natural flavor and color, and will keep the year round.

Strawberries.—To one pound of strawberries, add one pound of sugar. Put them into a preserving kettle, and let them remain until warm, so that the sugar will dissolve.— Then seal them in a glass jar, and bary them in sand. By this method their flavor is en

Ambrotype Gallery.

We, the undersigned, respectfully inform our friends and the public generally, that we have New Sky-Light PICTURE GALLERY

In the new second story over the frame buildings located a few doors south of the Post Office, and nearly opposite A. W. Bentz's store, South Handver street. We have constructed this Gallery according to our taste, and flatter ourselves in saying we have far the best arranged light in town. To aged, infirm and delicatr persons, we will say this Gallery is much easier of access than any in this place, being located on the second story, and the story beneath being low, there is not such a tower of steps to ascend.

I having procured the assistance of an experienced operator, and purchased the best and latest improved apparatus, we are prepared to produce pictures equal to any other establishment, not excelled by New York or Philadelphia. Such as Extra Whole Size hotographs.

Extra Whole Size hotographs, Cartes De Visite, Ambrotgpes and Ferrotypes. PICTURES INSERTED IN LOCKETS, Rings, and Pins, and copied or enlarged from old Dagaerreotypes, Ambrothyses, &c., &c. Also, for sale a fine lot of Picture Frames and Albums.

We hope, by a strict attention to business and a desire to please, to receive our share of the public patronage. Do not forget the place, a few door south of the Post Office, South Hanover Street.
