Massachusetts there were forty-six and more than a quarter of colored people in prison—six times as many colored convicts in the penitentiary in Massachusetts in the penitentiary in Massachusetts in 1850 as there were in Maryland. In New York, where they have the property level of this white man's Constitution the property level of this country grow in strength. New York, where they have the property qualification, there were fifty-one blacks in prison to every ten thousand colored people; and in Pennsylvania there were nineteen blacks in the penitentary to every ten thousand colored.

Again, this proportion of colored convicts in the prisons, jails and alms-houses in the several cities given here, as compared to the convergence of the convergence in the several cities given here, as compared with the total population of those vities, is this: In Boston there is one to every sixteen of the colored population and one to every thirty-four of the white population. In Philadelphia there is one to every twenty-nine of the colored, and one to every seventy-eight of the white the Richmond there is one to every forty-days of the colored and one to every one ive of the colored and one to every one hundred and twelve of the white.

hundred and twelve of the white.

Now, let me show you from the pages of the Compendium of your recorded census of 1850-the last one I can get—what is the proportion of mulattoes, the men who have partially white paternity, in the different States of the Union. Let us appear the man of the subgroup rate. see where the men of the colored race, who have white blood in them, live, whether it is in the South or in the North. You cannot deny the evidence of your own census. I refer you to page eighty-hree of the tompendium, showing the dack and mulatto population of the United

In 1850, the proportion of mulattoes to the whole number of blacks in the State of South Carolina, was that of four and a half to one hundred. In Alabama, the proportion is seven and boat one-fourth mulattoes to every one

In Connecticut, the proportion is thirty and one-half mulattoes to every one hun-In Georgia, the p.o. portion is six and nearly three-quarters mulattoes to every one hundred blacks.

In Massachusetts, the propertion is thirty-four and a little more than three-quarters mulattoes to every one hundred

In Michigan, the proportion of mulattoes to the whole number of blacks is seventy-six and a little better than one-fourth to every one hundred blacks.

In Ohio, it is one hundred and twentynine mulattoes to every one hundred

The policy of my state upon this subject, sir, is my policy. In 1870 she emancipated the slaves that were here, and in 1838 she declared that the white race sss she declared that the white race should govern the State. I accord to these people all their natural rights—the right of life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness; but I deny to them political rights. His safety and the maintainance of our rights demand this. This is a government made by white men, and to be so perpetuated. The ballot is the emblem of the white man's sovereignty. These shall never be the badges of our These shall never be the badges of our weakness, the trophies of a weaker race. Sirs, the proud head, the honored neck of the white laborer—yes the white laborer, for "too this complexion doth it comes at last"—shall never, with my consent, be bowed to the level of the African slave or to an equality with the colored man. Sir, his blood shall be maintained in unsullied purity. Erect in his manhood, protected in his labor and in his power of sovereignty, the white laborer in the shop, the field, the highway, the sovereign of the Republic, he shall be in the future, as in the past, the sinew of the State, the vital element in the prosperity of the nation.

Mr. Speaker, if the resolutions intro-duced by the Senator from Bradford [Mr. LAND IN | meant no more than what appears upon their face. I would content myself by casting a silent vote against then. But they do mean more. The Senator who introduced them says they mean more. They mean an expression in favor of negro suffrage everywhere. If the negroes in the District of Columbia are competent to vote, certainly the negroes in every State in this Union are competent to vote. If the former should enjoy the right of suffrage, certainly the latter should have that right. I cannot gild refined gold or paint the lily as can the Senator from Bradford [Mr. Landon;] "I am no orator as Brutus is" [Mr. Loway | neither can I talk as facetiously as the Senator from Mr. Landon; D. D. D. D. the Senator from Allegheny [Mr B16-BAM.] Hence I claim the indulgence of the Senate for the weakness of my eloquence, for the sake of the cause for which

This contest was not courted by the triends of the white race. We prefered to leave the races where the God who made them placed them. But this conflict has been forced upon us; and we would be talse to ourselves, false to our race, false to the memory of the men who made this Republic-the finest fabric of human goverument that ever appeared anywhere along the past of ages--if we failed to meet the issue forced upon us; if we qualled before the skilled veterans of despotism, or if we basely surrendered with-out one engagement. As for me, so long as I have a voice to raise I will raise it in defence of the white man, and so long as I have a vote to east I will east it in his

Sir, this contest-this conflict for the equality of races—was not desired by Senators on this side of the chamber. It was forced upon us, but we are prepared to meet it. I presume these resolutions are ineant more as an expression of approbation for the course pursued by the Republican members of Congress than as instruction to our Senators. The two men whom you propose to instruct are men of the profoundest judgments, with firm, tubborn wills. The one, Mr. Cowan, deserved well of his countrymen. With the mad waves of fanticism seething and boiling around him, he has stood alone of all his party in the Senate during the dark cays of the Republic, bravely doing battle for right, for justice, for constitutional liberty. Sir, he needs no instructions from this Senate as to the manner of performing his duties. Mr. Speaker, I was taught in that school of politics which recognizes this government as one made by white men, for white men and their posterity. The government founded upon the articles of confederation which carried the colonies through the Revolution, and which was fashioned ufter the Batavian and Helyetic models. was found insufficient to secure the per-manency of the objects for which the Revolution was fought. Hence the people of the United States—in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, ensure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty or the state of the ordained and established the present Constitution. This, sir, was the work of white men. No black men helped to make the republic of the United States.—

No black States were parties to it.

The State of Pennsylvania—an empire in itself, so rich in all the resources of wealth, so grand in all the refinements of civilization, and so sublime in all the virtues of free institutions—was a commonwealth of whitemen. The commonwealths of New England, with all the associations that cluster around Bunker Hilland Lexington, were commonwealths of white men. The commonwealths of the South were alike commonwealths of white men. The thirteen colonies were all composed of men of that race who knew no superior; men of that race who se finger points to Heaven, and whose til-amphal marches were over superstition, ignorance and bigotry; men of that race who knew their rights, and knowing dar-ed maintain them. The Declaration of independence was a declaration of the lights of white men, and not of the rights of ble comen. The Revolution was fought, not to secure the rights of negroes in this country, but to secure the reedom and rights of white men. Fir, the negro had no place in the prologue to the Revolution, in the Revolution itself, or in its epilogue—the formation of a republican government.— The whole drama, in its three acts, and people of this country grew in strength, grandeur and power, until they became the foremost among the nations of the earth. Six years ago, when the North and South were united by the bonds of ove, no power on earth could have conquered the armies of the republic; six years ago all questions of national policy were tried in the crucible of the Constitution of the country of the Surgeon Country of tution: six years ago the Supreme Court of the United States was a pure tribunal, and the judicial ermine was not disgraced and sullied by peddling politicians; six years ago the married calm of States was unruffled by the storms of war; six years are the mad ways of sactionalism had ago the mad waves of sectionalism had not washed their dritt-wood around the pillars of our government. The negrois a peculiar being. He differs in race, passions, complexion and intellect from the white man. No matter whether he descended in a direct line from Hain, or whether he descended from any other parentage; he ever retains the same peculiarities of race and inferiority of intellect. No matter where he goes-no matter under what skies he lives -no matter what sceneries surround his path-way-no matter what influences of civilization are thrown around him, his nature remains unchanged. His mind may re-ceive some culture, but turn him loose, ceive some culture, but turn him 100se, remove him beyond the reach of civilization and throw him upon his own resources, and he will resume his original character. This may be exemplified by the history of Hayti. Enterprise is a true inflex to a nation's standing. In 1759, four years before the island was made free, the remove along of that island amounts the second standard content. four years before the island was made free, the exports alone of that island amount-ed to about forty-eight millions of dollars. In 1859, after seventy years of freedom, during which time the negroes had the privilege of doing all they could to ele-vate themselves, the exports only amount-ed to about nine millions of dollars, and the importantly six millions of dollars. and the importsonly six millions of dollars. During these seventy years of freedom, when the negroes on that island were left to themselves, uncontrolled by any foreign power, they fell back in the amount of their exports from forty-eight millions to nine millions of dollars.

Sir, the black Haytiens, masters of their own destiny, are rolling back on the waves of time, and if not stayed by the hand of God, will soon be far beyond the sight of the light houses of civilization. Mr. Speaker, I shall not detain the Senate any longer. I know that the Senate is already committed upon this question. I know that it is useless to say a word in favor of the white men there. I know it is useless to say a word in defence of the Government which we all used to love and which we all ought to lovestill. And I tell Senators that though they may carry the negro on their sholders int riumph out of this chamber to-day, there is a power above them, the people, that will reverse their action. The white men of America, in the majesty of their power, and with that pride of race which has all and with that pride of race which has all ways characterized the Anglo-Saxon, will say as for us we are superior to the ne groes, and we are unwilling to place then on an equality with us.

We will plant the white man's flag on every hill-top in the land; it shall welcome the morning sun as he walks across the Atlantic; it shall float in beauty of his light as he rolls across the contior ms ngmt as he rolls across the conti-nent, and it shall waft him adieu as he sinks to repose beneath the calm waters of the Pacific. And under this flag the white men of the nation will rally, and by the grace of God, their dignity, their honor and supremacy shall be main-tained.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, nd somewhat aromatic; their tastes bitterish, nd analogous to mint. MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.

Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs, producing diuresis, and like other similar medicines, exciting diaphoresis, when circumstances favor this mode of action.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinuance of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutanoous Affections, and Dropsy.

Chronic reneulmatism, Champous Americans, and Dropsy.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is used by person's from the ages of 13 to 25, and from 35 to 55 or in the decline or change of life; after confinement of Labor Pains; Bed-wetting in children.

Dr. Keyser is a Physician of over thirty years experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Me dical College and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia.

MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

Dear Nir.—In regard to the question asked me, as to my opinion about Bucha, I would say that's I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has accounted in my judgment is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used; as before stated, every accquired in my judgment is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used; as before stated, every form of Buchu-the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts,—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to Judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others. I do not value a thing according to its bulk, if I did other Buchus would out do yours, but I hold to the doctrine that bulk and quantity do not make up value—if they did a copper cent would be worth more than a gold dollar.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with my other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name.

Respectfully, yours &c.
