INSON COLLEGE.—The annual commencement exercises of Dickinson College began with the Baccalaureate Address, which was delivered in Emory Chapel, on Sunday evening last, by Prof. S. D. Hillman. His subject was "The war element in History," and with the exception of a few radical dogmas, such as characterize almost everything emanacision in Prof. Hillman's style of demonoriginality in his manner of thinking, there is a pleasing novelty and freshness which is highly entertaining. The weightier matter of the discourse was relieved by some sparkling gems of humor, which provoked a smile despite the place and the occasion. The Professor's concluding remarks to the class, in which he said he would not speak to them as having lived in seclusion, and being about to enter upon the realities of life; because the stirring events of the past four years had brought them all into actual contact with the world, contained a great deal of very good common sense.

The sample was the restriction of the control of th

THE JUNIOR CONTEST. The Junior contest was held in Rheem's Hall, on Monday evening. The Hall was crowded with a fashionable and intelligent audience; and eleven young gentlemen entered the lists for the gold and silver medals.

The first speaker was E. N. Kupp, of Douglassville, whose subject was "The Wrongs of Ireland." This was probably the youngest orator of the evening, and it was not to be expected that he would equal those of maturer years and greater experience. His speech was doubtless prepared before the recent Fenian Invasion of Canada, and should have been amended to suit circumstances. By speaking a little more slowly, enunciating a little more clearly and ceasing the nervous twitching of the hands, the young gentleman will become a very creditable orator.

W. H. Wahl, of Philadelphia, was the next orator. His subject was." Absolute Truth our Criterion." The subject was an old one upon which but little that was new could be said; nevertheless it was skillfully handled; while the easy and graceful manner of the orator upon the stage, as well as his distinct and deliberate enunciation was the subject of general remark.

Our young friend, Jas. H. Graham, jr., of Carlisle, next propounded to the audience "A Query," and that query was-'How am I to get married?" The speech was humorous and frequently " brought down the house." It had one rare merit among college orations, and that was its undoubted originality. It is not advisable for young men to indulge too extensively in humorous writing, yet "The Query" served an admirable purpose in relieving the monotony of the exercises.

B. I. Sterrett, of Carlisle, next spoke on on "The True Life of Man." His theory was that the spiritual was the only true life. What he intended to do with the intellectual man, whether intellectual life was included within the spiritual, or whether the term spiritual was used simply in a moral sense, we could not exactly understand. The young gentleman's style of speaking is too solemn and serious to please a popular audience. A little more life and spirit, even in treating a serious subject, will have a better effect. The next speaker was Otho Williams. of Washington City, whose subject was "Self Dependence Assures Success."-This was another trite theme, and yet the idea presented by the speaker that all men are self-made men is one which should be constantly inculcated in all our colleges. It is too generally believed that all that is necessary to make a man out of a ninny is to send him to college for a few years, and young men cannot too soon learn that self-dependence alone assures success. Mr. Williams has a voice of large compass and should use it to much greater purpose than he now does.

Herman S. Johnson, of Carlisle, pronounced an excellent oration on "Law and Freedom," This effort gave evidence of a mind of more than ordinary power in one so young in years. The whole universe above and around us was governed by law, and it was fair to presume that Freedom regulated by law was the highest type of human civilization.-This was one of the best addresses of the evening, barring a few tinger of Dickinson radicalism.

Thos. W. Ahl, of Carlisle, prenounced the next oration, on "The Tyranny of the Majority." It was a lucid exposition of the tendencies of unrestricted Democracies to tyranny on the part of the majority, and the corrupting and demoralizing influence of such tendencies upon the masses of the people. The young gentleman spoke too fast and scarcely distinct enough, but his political orthodoxy covered every defect.

J. M. Williamson, of Newmark, Delaware, then delivered an address on "A Property Qualification for Suffrage." He argued that a government should be managed after the manner of a joint stock Company, and that he who possesed the largestamount of property and has the greatest interest in the government, should have the largest number of votes. et how charming the spell in that The case wase a poor one, but was well

The best spech of the evening was that of C. W. McKeehan, of Shippensburg, on 'A Catholic Faith." The subject was a noble one-the advocacy of a common church and a common faith-and it was treated in a logical, perspicuous and conclusive manner. The logic was good, the rhetoric was chaste, the delivery was calm and deliberate, and there were passages of rare beauty and eloquence. There was one thing which detracted some what from Mr. McKeehan's effort; his voice is scarcely powerful enough for a large audience, but of course this is a matter beyond his control. The second place in popular approval was won by G. S. Broadbent, of Morgantown. His theme was "Christianity Essential to National Perpetuity." It was an old subject in a tolerably new dress. The orator has fine command of language, with a musical and pleasing voice. He spoke with the manner of one who understood his subject; and if there was any fault it was one in which some of the others most assuredly did not have, and that was a superabundance of jesticulation.

We cannot approve the position taken by Mr. E. O. Shakespeare, of Dover, Dela- June 23, 1863—21*

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF DICK- | ware: "Popery opposed to Progress."-For while it is true that Gallileo and others were persecuted by the Church of Rome on account of their scientific researches, it is nevertheless true that for ages that Church was the sole repository of light and knowledge, and that much that is good in the civilization of the present day came to us through the Church of Rome. The Catholic Church has had ting from Dickinson College, was an able | its evils, but it is not all evil. It was unand exhaustive discourse. Why complain of this "heated term" then you can keep cool by buying everything easonable-from WM. C. TIS EFFECT IS MIRACULOUS.

The old, the young, the middle aged unite to praise HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

It is an entirely new scientific discovery, combining many of the most powerful and restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. We have such confidence in its merits, and are so sure it will do all we claim for it, that we offer

$1,000 Reward If the Sicilian Hair Renewer does not give satisfaction in all cases when used in strict according ance with our instructions. HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has proved itself to be the most perfect preparation for the Hair ever offered to the public. It is a vegetable compound, and contains no injurious properties whatever. It is not a Dye, it strikes at the Roots and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. IT WILL RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO

ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It will keep the Hair from falling out. It cleanses the Scalp, and makes the Hair SOFT, LUSTROUS, AND SILKEN. IT IS A SPLENDID HAIR-DRESSING!

No person, old or young, should fail to use it. It is recommended and used by the FIRST MED-ICAL AUTHORITY. Ask for Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, and take no other. The Proprietors offer the SICILIAN HAIR RE-NEWER to the public, entirely confident that it will bring back the hair to its original color, promote its growth, and in nearly all cases where it has fallen off will restore it unless the person is very aged.
