THE YORK COUNTY MURDER.-A German named Charles Wilkins has been arrested for the murder of the family of Mr. Squibb of York county. The following is the account of the arrest of the parties in Lancaster, from the Intelligencer of the 22nd ult:

We this morning visited the parties we this morning visited the parties who were brought to the prison yesterday morning, and arrested on Wednesday afternoon at Manheim, for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Squibb and grand-daughter, which took place on Sunday night last. We first saw the man in his cell. He start that this name is Charles William. We first saw the man in his cell. He stated that his name is Charles Wilkins, is 28 years of age, and was born in the Kingdom of Hanover. He answers the description of the supposed murderer. He says he left the Carlisle poor house on Sunday, the 10th inst., in company with a woman named Martha Ann Pontel, help of the permetal.

a woman named Martha Ann Pontel, being the party who gave the information of the murder. They reached York on Wednesday, the 13 inst., stopping on their their way at Dalestown; they went from York to Columbia, which they reached on Friday, the 15th instant, and traveled onuntil having been arrested at Manheim; be desired the state of the sta heim; he denies ever having been in Ross-We next visited Martha Ann Pontel, who is a Pennsylvanian, being born in Franklin county, about four miles from Chambersburg; she says she is 51 years of age. She confirms Wilkins' statement of their meeting at the Carlisle poor house and leaving it together. She went on to say that they traveled until Saturday, the 16th inst., when they came to the residence of the murdered persons near Rosstown; that she went into the house and begged something to eat, when the old lady gave her some bread and meat, and also a new ten centscrip to buy match. and also a new ten centscrip to buy matches and tobaco with. She went out and shared the food with Wilkins, and they walked on together for about two miles, walked on together for about two miles, when they rested for the night in a barn. While there a man named John Baker came along and got into conversation with Wilkins; she urged Wilkins to travel further, but he refused, saying that Baker and he were going to have some fun together; Baker afterwards left and she did not see him again. On account of the rain on Sunday, they did not leave of the rain on Sunday, they did not leave their sheltering place until evening, when Wilkins insisted upon going back to Mr. Squibbs' residence, and upon her refusing to accompany him, as she said that all th to accompany him, as she said that all the family would be in bed, he abused her, struck her, and then dragged her along.

Upon reaching the house, about eight o'clock, P. M., Wilkins burst the door open and went in and lighted a candle that was on the table, when the woman ponted ran away, but stayed near to bear that was on the table, when the woman Pontel ran away, but stayed near to hear screams. Wilkins came to her at about two o'clock on Monday morning, when she asked him what he had been doing, but he refused to tell her, stating that it was none of her business, and struck her. They then traveled on until daylight, when she discovered that his hands, shirt and mantleons were bloody; he compelled and pantloons were bloody; he compelled her to wash his shirt and cut the bloody part out of his pantloons and patch them. For some time he persisted in not telling her how the blood came there, but uitimately said he had certainly killed the girl, and be thought the old man as well, but the old women would get over it. He had with him a knife which he said he used, and also a hatchet which he found in the house. Although he had no mon-ey before he committed the crime, yet the woman saw a five dollar greenback in his possession often his more to in his possession after his return to her. They went from their to Columbia, and from their to Manheim, which place they reached on Wednesday last. The woman went to a farm house a short distance from Manheim and begged some meat, he following her all the while and threatened to kill her if she divulged.

Upon her return to him, she found him Upon her return to him, she found him in company with some negroes, and to whom he gave his pantaloons; they told him about the murder which had lately been committed in York County, he turned quite pale while the story was being related; and the crop is an average In places the wheat has been in by the weevel, and again by rust mut, but not to any serious extent. radical cure of Spermatorhoea, or Seminal weakness, nervous debility and Impediments to Marriage generally. Nervousness, Consumption, Enlepsy and fits; Montal and Physical Incapacity resulting from Self Abuse, &c. By Robert J. Culverwell, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.
The world renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves, from his own experience, that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without Medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bongles, instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands, Sent under seal to any address, in
