THE CARLISLE COOK!

A MAN OF A THOUSAND-A Con-sumptive Curcd.-Dr. R. JAMES, a returned physician of great eminence, discovered, while in the East Indies, a certain cure for Consump-tion, Astama, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and Generai Deblity. The remedy was discovered by him when his only child, a daughter, was giv-en up to die. His child was cured, and is now nilve and well. Destrous of benefitting his fel-low mortals, he will send to those who wish it the recipe, containing full directions for making and successully using this remedy, free, on re-cipe of their names, with two stamps to pay ex-penses. There is not a single symptom of Con-sumption that it does not at once take hold of and dissipate. Night sweats, peevishness, irrita-tion of the nerves, failure of memory, difficult expectoration, sharp palns in the lungs, sore throat, chilly sensations, nasseau at the Stomach, inaction of the bowels, wasting away of the mus-cles. It combines every new and Valuable Improve-ment in Cooking Stoves. It is exceedingly hand-some in appearance—is a perfect Air-tight and Gas Consuming Stove, and may safely be pro-nounced the cheapest, best and most complete Cooking Stove in the country. We cust two sizes, adapted to the wants of both large and small fa-milies. Experienced Housekeepers will find upon examination that the NEW CARLISLE COOK combines every requisite for economy and effi-ciency in cooking. The public are specially re-quested to call and see it, as we are confident it will fully recommend itself. Namb 22 1868 - 19 F. ing from Gettysburg to New Orleans, you had fought in order to restore the in-tegrity of the nation, and you rested from your toils with the conviction that it on remained for statesmen to rivet the broken bands which you had laid together. You know that this task required wisdom and deliberation, but you had a right to expect that, like your own, it would be taken up promptly, and conducted with singleness of purpose. You had yourselves left party ties behind when you marched to the field, and henceforth knew only your country.— You had a right to demand that in the You had a right to demand that in the peaceful completion of your work they would follow your example. You expect-ed that those who had called upon you to suppress not only revolution, but the spirit of revolution, and to vindicate the violated law, would set a new example to the nation by a strictadherence to their constitutional power and a revival of the old spirit of sacred obedience to law. You expected, and after the performance of expected, and after the performance of such services, you had a peculiar right to demand that your successors in the work of restoration should not only devise measures which should be just, but should propose them at the season when they should be practicable; and that by means should be placticative, and that by methics of the North, the people of the South, subjected to all the penalties, should long since have been brought back to the perfor-mance of all its duties in this nation, and which the vindication of the law dewhich the vindication of the law ac manded to a real participation in its life. For more than a year you have looked on in silence, and the work for which you provided the opportunity has not been Ione. Your successors have acted neith er wisely nor in season. That which might have been well and wisely accomplished, if proposed at the proper time, has been made impracticable by delay, and a condition which it would have been of doubtful wisdom to impose at any time is at last imposed when it is too late. Af ter vou had been withdrawn from the because you had annihilated the power of your opponents to disobey their power of your opponents to inspect their government, an entire year was added to their already long estrangement from it before any conditions of return were of-fered to them; and when these conditions were at last announced they contained terms which proposed to make the es-trangement of a large portion of our pop-ulation perpetual. The youth of the South, who had never known when the schelling compared or what it was to rebellion commenced, or what it was to hare in the duties and business of na tional citizens, have grown to manhood and influence in its affairs and still are strange in their own land, and excluded from the instruction which might make them patriots. The union of these States, for which these partizans demand your lives not too great a price, is yet as in-complete as when you marched home, and by their measures its restoration is still indefinitely postponed. They say to you, if our terms are not accepted by the South we can wait It becomes, there fore, your peculiar duty, since you pre-pared the ground for this final work, to nquire how it has been done, and to con-sider whether it is wise and safe to wait. Meantime, while you determine to wait or move, it is indispensible first to entrench yourselves in a position of im-pregnable facts. The power of the na-tional government over the affairs of its insurgent citizens, except for purposes of insurgent citizens, except for purposes of judicial punishment, is purely of a bel-ligerent character, and its beligerent right concerning them is included in, while it is also limited by one of the grants of the Constitution. The government is authorized to suppress insurrection by military means, and these include all beligerent functions and capacities which may be necessary for that end. In the l ex priate legislation, to prevent its re-estab-lishment. They might have conceded still more; but month after month passed ted. We believe that the men who made still more; but month after month passed without action, and meantime they were subjected to military government. No system was ever better adapted than our national government to the performance of the duties for which it was designed no government could be less adapted to the regulation of affairs in a subjected neighboring territory. Mistakes, injus-tice, even fraud, inevitably mingled with and marred its operations through dis-tant agencies, and these have produced their natural effect. The prolonged exereise of such functions can only injure it, has already injured ourselves. We cannot afford to alter the spirit of our great na-tional system, and by centralizing render two governments of this Union hateful to the people of all the States. North and South alike; but the evils of our present mistakes committed in the duties of a function for which the government was never designed, do not wait the slow de-velopment of time. Their effect upon the subjected South is a daily disaster.— We are training future citizens by the worst possible instruction, and every month's persistence makes the evil plainer to us. It is manifest that under the experiences of this delay, and of unre-publican life under military constraint, the temper of the people has become much less commendable than it vas at the conclusion of active hostilities : . that the work of true reunion has grown more difficult; that perils of our condition only increase it. It is for you, therefore, to ask wheth-er the reasons for this delay are sufficient, and whether the new conditions imposed by Congress are likely to prove a final remedy. The manner in which these conditions, in the form of an amendment to the national Constitution, have been presented, not only to the people of the South, but to the nation, is without preedent. For the first time in the history contails government, propositions without connection have been united in one amendment, and the people have been denied the opportunity of free choice con-cerning each. The first section of this cerning each. The first section of this single article defines citizenship of the United States. The second lays down the basis of representation... The third is in the following words:

'No person shall be a Senator or repre sentative in Congress, or elector of Presi-dentand Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previous-ly taken an oath, as a member of Con-gress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an excutive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same. or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each house, remove such disability."

The effect of each of these utterly dis connected propositions is made to depend upon the acceptance or rejection of the whole. It seems incredible that those who insisted upon thus connecting them could have expected that they would be ratified. The Southern people, after fol-lowing their political leaders into the late struggle and sharing the risk of their fate

ted. We believe that the men who made those elections will keep them : especially as soldiers, who know the character of their late opponents, we believe that the soldiers of the South-men who have endured so bravely and so constantly the trials and privitations of four years of war-are, despite the error of their cause, war-arc, despite the error of their dause, men of personal honor and self-respect and that they will never permit the com-munities in which they dwell to violato promises given in the most solemn forms. We hold then that no reason has been given which can justify an adherence to the course which has been proposed by Congress, or for a further continuance of the present unhappy condition of the country. If the same class of men who have established this policy shall be re-turned to the next Congress, that condi-tion will grow worse for two years longer. Who con estimate the evils which will Who can estimate the evils which will meantime have fallen upon all races in those communities as well as ourselves? It is our duty to remember that the goy ernment is not the embodyment of perernment is not the embodyment of per-fect theories, but is a practical business, and deals with the wise and unwise, the well and ill-disposed, as a mingled mass of that civilization which is a growth, and not the result of force. We believe that nationality, with its distribution of pow-ers between the central and local govern-ments, is the chief instrumentality and is the best blessing of noticel and civil life the best blessing of political and civil life for all races and communities in the land, and that our first duty to all is to see that it is as promptly as possible re-established. By means of it we shall accomplish not only peace and safety, but justice to the nation and the freedmen. Upon all of these sacred rights we shall insist. As soldiers, we are still devoted to the same cause and the same principles for which we fought-the cause of Union. freedom, fustice, and law. We forego none of these in demanding Union now. We speak as soldiers because we believe that an appeal from ds to the brave men who met us in battle to unite with us in giving peace to our common country, in fulfilling pledges which have been made and guaranteeing to the freedmen the rights which honor and humanity enjoin, will not be made in vain. We shall ask and expect that they, like ourselves, will unite in maintaining the laws, preserv-ing the peace, vindicating goodwill and in upholding the honor and integrity of in upnoiding the honor and integrity of our common country. In answer to our appeal we believe that, notwithstand-ing all provocations and disappointment, they will be patient and orderly law abid-ing and law obeying citizens, re-electing and permitting differences of opinion by whomsoever entertained and by whomso-ever enunciated. We want a Union not werely in name but a Union in fact: not mercly in name, but a Union in fact; not a Union merely of geographical lines but a Union of hearts Such a Union we

a Union of hearts Such a Union we fought to maintuin, such a Union we wish to enjoy. By it alone can our nation ac-complish its true mission and fulfill its true destiny. So believing, we anxiously and earnestly appeal to you, our former comrades in arms, to assist in the great work of pacification. We appeal to you, not as Democrats, not as Republicans, but as patriots and national Union men. What was a there may say you know Power is no longer against you, but ranges itself upon yourside. Opportuni-ties for fraud do not exist. Aid comes to you from the ranks of the enemy. No Democrat who voted for M'Clelian votes against you now; your brethren are aroused from the Lakes to the Delaware. A change of five per cent. upon the vote of 1864 will sweep your opponents out of existence. You can count it in every election district in the Commonwealth;

The Views of a Veteran Soldier.

The following is an extract from a letter from a decided Republican of New York:

GARRISON'S, Putnam Co., N. Y.,

* * * I have belonged to the Republican party from its organization. I have always opposed the radical elements in its attempts to control it, or to make it other than 2 great national party, and I think there never was a more short-sighted policy of fanatical policy than was dis-played by Congress in attempting to place the party on the narrow, sectional, and unconstitutional basis now declared by them.

While I believe that treason is the greatest of political crimes, and that for the sake of the future of our country, it the sake of the future of our country, it should be punished as such; yet to hold millions of people responsible for the acts of a few unprincipled leaders, by whom they were either led or forced into rebel-lion, is too revolting to think of. I have stood side by side with you in some of the most brilliant scenes of the leto were and during my whole experi-late war, and during my whole experi-ence, from the beginning until I saw Lee surrender at Appomattox, I have never known a soldier who would ac-knowledge that he was fighting for any other purpose than to restore the Union. I did not know a class of persons who, under the plea of teaching the negro, were forever asking protection of the army while they speculated in tax sales and negro labor. These adventurers and speculators in philanthropy have gained great riches while shrinking from every manly duty during the great struggle.— Their only profit in the future is to keep the South disrupted and play upon the fears of the North, and they have no scruples as to the means to gain this end; but brave and honest men will not be governed by their fears, but will seek only to do right, and trust in God for the result. I am ever truly yours, JAMES F. HALL, Brevet Brigadier General United States Volunteers, late Colonel Frst New York Volunteer Engineers.

FACTS FOR FOREIGNERS .--- Who fought that gigantic conspiracy called the Know-Nothing movement? Andrew Johnson. Who made that eloquent speech, in defense of the Catholics, against Clingman ? Andrew Johnson.
