Clymer, Den 306,155 289,096 Geary's maj..... .17.159 CAN THE NORTH REPUDIATE HER OWN PLEDGES.—The people of the South were told, through ten thousand sources, from the commencement of the war to its close, tyrannical. As to their not living quietly that they had only to lay down their arms with Union men at the South, the charge They were told it by Congress, in resolu-tions unanimously passed in both Houses, by Abe Lincoln, in his celebrated ultimatum to his embassador, Horace Greely, at Niagara Falls and afterwards in his confab with the Southern Commissioners. They were told it by Grant and Sherman who guaranteed impunity against ever being molested by the Federal Government, even to those who had borne arm through the whole war. They were told it by President Johnson, in his action reestablishing the State Governments of the South, afterwards ratified by the Republican Convention of New York, as-sombled at Syracuse one year ago, when its members resolved that they "renewed to him in his administration those assur-ances of cordial and effectual support which were tendered by him-in his nom-ination and election. Now it is utterly impossible for the North to skulk out impossible for the North to skulk out of all those repeated pledges after their being met in good faith on the other side, everything done that was even suggested as preliminaries to their operation, with-out a breach of voluntary obligation which has no paralell since the days of Röme and Carthage, when "Punic, faith" became synonymous with partidy synonymous with perfidy. To secure peace and the exercise of the functions so necessary to office the ray ages and devastation of the war, even the unendment would perhaps be but if offered with one hand and a halter in the other, it needs no ghost from the grave to fortel its reception. -Ex der a debt which has been saddled upon them by a set of infernal villains whose proper place would be the penitentiary. You are "intelligent," are you? Who told you so? Really, few people can "see it." Most of your leaders are "life-long Democrats," and they constitute the brains of your party, if it has any brains. The only notoriously weak men that ever occupied the Presidential chair were elected by your party, viz-HARRISON, TAY-LOR and LINCOLN. Many of your partizans are "smart fellows," with a Yankee cuteness that enables them to make money without much labor, but this is not what most neople consider intelligence. One of your Pennsylvania members of Congress is now in jail for swindling, and before long he will be in the penitentiary, and if justice could be meeted out to them. two-thirds of your leaders would be in the same condition.

As to the "respectability" of your party, it is about on a par with its intelligence. In the cities, it is notorious that nearly every swell-head, gambler and rough are members of the Disunion party. It is their natural and congenial place of abode. They are the men who make up the Republican majorities in many of the large cites, and they feel " at home" in your party. Like hungry buzzards, they scent corruption afar off, and gloat over the foul repast propared for them by the big thieves of an abandoned party.

1037 The young gentleman who supplies the Herald establishment with its "intelligence and respectability" is con-

analy making astounding discoveries.— The seems to be surprised at his own astuteness, and cackles over each new discovery like a pullet over her first egg.-In last week's issue he attempts to prove to his own satisfaction that the VOLUN-TEER has been "stealing thunder" from the Journal of Commerce. If so, the theft was a most unconscious one, for we never get to see the Journal of Commerce. The clipping of a dozen or so of lines, to gives the slightest indications of posseswhich the Herald refers, was undoubtedly made from some paper, we know not which, and as it seemed to be an appropriate answer to the Herald's nonsense was prefaced with a few sentences and inserted as a reply. Of course the Herald never thinks of appropriating anything good it sees in the columns of its contemporaries, even to the extent of articles a column in length. Of course it is always scrupulously careful to give the proper credit. Of course it never steals local items, of course not. Of course it isn't | cute as a "war for the Union," has provconducted entirely on a capital of borrowed brains, certainly not. What a pret- | ted and carried it on, to have been what ty specimen you are, Mr. Herald, to read | many were imprisoned for saying it wasothers a lecture on the proprieties of the a war for disunion, negro freedom and trade. You had better take a few lessons in common decency and editorial honesty and courtesy yourself, before you set up as an instructor of others.

"The Republican party contains a very great prepondernice of the wealth, inteligence and re-speciality of the country."--Herald.

And as proof of the fact, they generally spell intelligence with one "l," after the | to law-law of their own making-and manner of the Herald. "Has the rebels | threaten an appeal to force, carless of the | sents the people of Massachusetts in Con-.wont 711 with Union men at the South, the charge to the contrary is in the main, and in all its length and breadth, a pure and simple falsehood, having no semblance of truth, and only originated in the foulest rascality and crime.

Butler Nominated for Congress

General Butler has been nominated for Congress by the Disunion party in the Fifth Congressional District, Massachusets. He received every vote in Convention but one. There is a large minority of the party opposed to him, and before the meeting of the convention they came out in a protest against his nomination. It was as had been predicted. He was made the candidate, notwithstanding he lives and has his home in another district. Dr. George B Loring, of Salem, made a speech at the convention, in which he said among other things, the following :

other things, the following: And now that the crisis has come, while the President of the United States declares that there is a body of men called Congress, "inarging upon the verge of the government," now that he is vir-tanly bent upon revolutionary business, I de-clare that the man you have put in momination here to-day is proceeding to impeach Andrew Johnson before the great people of the North and West. (Applause.) And I tell you, gentlemen, hat he will never leave that impeachment until Andrey Johnson is called upon to answer at the bar of the Angrigan people. You will understand what I have said," and I tell grout you to stand by your londer in the great or lists of this country to stand by him in the Ousiness which it almost seems, God has appointed for him to do. I tell you that the nomination of a represen-tative of Congress form this Firth District at this time is no boy's play, no holiday sport. I am sure the sentiments of this people are the doc-trings of the people of the North. Buttor wants to be the Robespierre of

Butler wants to be the Robespierre of the Radical revolution; this he may become, but he will be sure to meet his fate,

"Some inquisitive radicals are in doubt as to whether the Volunteer furnishes brains for the Journal of Commerce, or the Journal of Commerce for the Valunteer,"—Herald.

Not having seen a capy of the Journal of Commerce for five years we are unable to give our neighbor the desired information. Of one thing, however, we are cortain, there is not much likelihood of any one's being in doubt as to who furnishes the brains for the Herald, for it never sing any.

to The abolition papers a short time since attempted to make sport out of the fact that Democrats had armed themselves during the despotism of the LIN-COLN administration. If they attempt to impeach Jourson and get up another war thereby they may not see so much fun in Democrats being armed.

The war, that the people of the North spent billions of dollars to proseen, by the action of those who inauguraplunder. Will any abolitionists deny it?

or The Conservatives in Maryland appeal to the laws-the very laws framed by the Radicals to perpetuate their own minority power. The Radicals, the Blood-Tubs, the Plug-Uglies, scout the idea of an appeal horrors of civil war.

GEN. BUTLER.-The Oincinnati Commercial speaks of the great uncorked in the following style: In the Charleston Convention General In the Charleston Convention General Butler was remarkable as the man who nonetrated every part of the hall fifty-sev-en times with his shrill volce, drying,... "and Massachusatts gives one vote for Jefferson Davis, of Missisippi." Those who heard him at the conclusion of his Mozart Hall speech say, "If the Lord God be God, let us serve Him," can form an idea of the malicious. deflant outery with be God, let us serve Him," can form an idea of the malicious, defiant outery with which he voted for Jeffarson Davis at Charleston. Did he not know then that Jefferson Davis was the central figure of a Southern conspiracy, and was he not knowingly playing into the hands of that conspiracy? Ask any one of the dele-gates from the Northwest to the Charles-ton Convention, no matter what his polton Convention, no matter what his pol itical relations may be at this time. Any one who watched General Butler through the Cincinnati, Charleston and Baltimore Conventions, and was not convinced that he was wanting in integrity, must have an obstinate faith that a steady, rasping perversity, and brilliant impertinence, are the shining characteristics of an honest man.

Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, the other day addressed a meeting presided over by a man who called the President, a "drunken torwsers-maker." The Nashyille Union well remarks that this is Massachusetts shoddy turning up its nose at honest labor. The remark, too, must have pleased Wilson, who commenced his career as a cobbler, and who would no doubt, have been a very worthy member of society, if he had stuck to the last.

PREPARING.-We understand that the citizens of Washington are preparing a huge cave with immense locks and bolts in which to store their silver ware, jewelry and other valuables during the stay of
