

ENLARGEMENT OF THE VOLUNTEER.

On January 3d the VOLUNTEER will make its appearance in a new suit and greatly enlarged. It will contain thirty two columns, and will be larger than any paper published in Cumberland county.

THE ANTICS OF THE RUMPERS.

No man who has a particle of American pride can read the proceedings of the rump assembly called Congress, without a feeling of shame and mortification, coupled with intense indignation.

They have, on scores of occasions, violated the Constitution and their oaths, and the President would justify and the people would sustain him, in arresting every disunion member and closing the doors of the Capitol.

Too long have the people and the country submitted to the outrages of a set of bloated fanatics who happen to have seats in Congress. During the LYCOURG reign they frankly acknowledged that many of their acts were in violation of the Constitution.

By arresting the rump majority of the present illegal Congress, let him do it without hesitation. If "old Hickory" occupied the President's chair he would not tolerate the present rump an hour.

"GE-OUT!"—Old THAD, in one of his characteristic speeches a few days since, said that if the Southern people refused to put the halter of negro-suffrage around their necks, he would "let loose upon them the dogs of war and utterly destroy and annihilate them."

In the circuit Court at Alexandria it has been decided that property sold under the confiscation during the war cannot be retained by the purchaser longer than during the life of the party from whom it was taken.

The old wretch BREWSTER, Governor of Tennessee, is sick, and is represented "as much enfeebled."

Household says the love expressed by the Radical leaders for the "Father of his Country" is because he was a "Gig-employment man."

FOURNEY DECLINES!

The dead duck, finding that his Senatorial aspirations were not encouraged by the Radical disunionists whose cause he has espoused so valiantly, has published a letter in which he announces his withdrawal as a candidate for United States Senator.

There is a great deal of sound sense and solid truth in the following extract from a letter lately written by Hon. JAMES W. WALL, of New Jersey, to a committee of friends who invited him to attend a banquet during the LYCOURG reign of terror.

There permit me to say, in all frankness, that the Democratic cause in the State would not be benefited by my presence. I have seen of late a number of persons who were willing to hazard persecution, imprisonment, even death itself in defense of rights inalienable to them, yet who were not prepared to do so.

There permit me to say, in all frankness, that the Democratic cause in the State would not be benefited by my presence. I have seen of late a number of persons who were willing to hazard persecution, imprisonment, even death itself in defense of rights inalienable to them, yet who were not prepared to do so.

There permit me to say, in all frankness, that the Democratic cause in the State would not be benefited by my presence. I have seen of late a number of persons who were willing to hazard persecution, imprisonment, even death itself in defense of rights inalienable to them, yet who were not prepared to do so.

There permit me to say, in all frankness, that the Democratic cause in the State would not be benefited by my presence. I have seen of late a number of persons who were willing to hazard persecution, imprisonment, even death itself in defense of rights inalienable to them, yet who were not prepared to do so.

There permit me to say, in all frankness, that the Democratic cause in the State would not be benefited by my presence. I have seen of late a number of persons who were willing to hazard persecution, imprisonment, even death itself in defense of rights inalienable to them, yet who were not prepared to do so.

WEAK-KNEED DEMOCRATS WHEN DANGER THREATENS.

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

CONGRESS.

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

The proceedings of Congress, during the present week, are but a continuation of the radical programme previously marked out. What has been done, and what attempted, may be summed up in a few words:

LOCAL ITEMS.

No PAPER NEXT WEEK.—In accordance with a time-honored custom, no paper will be issued from this office next week. The boys of our office feel that they ought to have a few days' recreation, and we are inclined to grant their request for a week's holiday.

OUR CARRIER'S ADDRESS.—Our carrier, Master Alfred B. Conn, will call upon our patrons, on New Year's morning, with his "Annual Carrier's Address." We bespeak for him a generous response. He is a faithful, industrious and deserving boy.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.—WASHINGTON, December 17, 1866. Congress still perseveres in its work of annihilating the disunion of the States. A bill has been introduced into the House of Representatives, prohibiting the use of the name of Lincoln in any future Presidential election.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.—WASHINGTON, December 17, 1866. Congress still perseveres in its work of annihilating the disunion of the States. A bill has been introduced into the House of Representatives, prohibiting the use of the name of Lincoln in any future Presidential election.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.—WASHINGTON, December 17, 1866. Congress still perseveres in its work of annihilating the disunion of the States. A bill has been introduced into the House of Representatives, prohibiting the use of the name of Lincoln in any future Presidential election.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.—WASHINGTON, December 17, 1866. Congress still perseveres in its work of annihilating the disunion of the States. A bill has been introduced into the House of Representatives, prohibiting the use of the name of Lincoln in any future Presidential election.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.—WASHINGTON, December 17, 1866. Congress still perseveres in its work of annihilating the disunion of the States. A bill has been introduced into the House of Representatives, prohibiting the use of the name of Lincoln in any future Presidential election.

HAUNTS OF MISERY—TO COME WITH THEIR CUPS, AND EVEN FROM THE OVERFLOWINGS OF OURS TO EACH SOME FEW DROPS OF THE GLASS.

We cannot think of a more appropriate closing than the charming lines of Prof. Moore, which have become inseparably connected with Christmas times, and are read and admired by old and young—Here they are:

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLOAS.—'Twas the night before Christmas when all thro' the house, Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas would be there;

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLOAS.—'Twas the night before Christmas when all thro' the house, Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas would be there;

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLOAS.—'Twas the night before Christmas when all thro' the house, Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas would be there;

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLOAS.—'Twas the night before Christmas when all thro' the house, Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas would be there;

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLOAS.—'Twas the night before Christmas when all thro' the house, Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas would be there;

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLOAS.—'Twas the night before Christmas when all thro' the house, Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas would be there;

LIST OF JURORS FOR JANUARY TERM OF COURT, 1867.

Table listing names of jurors for the January term of court, 1867, including Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors.

Table listing names of jurors for the January term of court, 1867, including Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors.

Table listing names of jurors for the January term of court, 1867, including Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors.

Table listing names of jurors for the January term of court, 1867, including Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors.

Table listing names of jurors for the January term of court, 1867, including Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors.

Table listing names of jurors for the January term of court, 1867, including Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors.

Table listing names of jurors for the January term of court, 1867, including Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

HOW TO KEEP COMFORTABLE.—We desire to mention to our readers and the public in general, that if they wish to keep comfortable this winter they should get a good stove.

IMPORTANT TO FAMILIES.—We advise all desirous of obtaining a first class Sewing Machine to examine the Wheeler & Wilson.

CHINA AND QUEENSWARE, AND WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS.

The cheapest place in Carlisle for Fine French, Plain and Toy Candles, Nuts, Raisins, Currants, Citron, Mince Meat, &c., etc., fresh and nice, is at the Store of WM. BLAIR & SON.

The latest Christmas presents a kind of household article that will be found in every family.

SPECIAL CARD.—Having determined to sell on my immense stock of Winter Goods, I now offer to the public at greatly reduced prices, Piece Goods by the yard, Men's, Youth's and Boy's Ready Made Clothing. Call and examine for yourself, at the old stand.

LIVINGSTON. N. B.—We also offer for sale the celebrated Florence Reversible Foot Locks and Knives Sewing Machines.

THE HOLIDAYS ARE COMING.—W. C. SAWYER, has again just returned from New York with a great variety of Dress Goods, and Fancy Articles, Lace Goods, Gloves, &c., and for presents. All kinds of goods offered at reduced prices. W. C. SAWYER, 60, the cheap Store in town. Try them. East Main Street, Dec. 20, 1866.

SPECIAL NOTICES.—WONDERFUL, BUT TRUE!—MADAME REYNOLDS, the world-renowned Astrologist and Spiritualist, will in a clairvoyant manner, delineate the very features of any person you care to marry, or any of the most important points of your life, known as the Astrological picture, guaranteed to produce a perfect and true likeness of the future husband or wife of the applicant, with data of marriage, age at death, length of life, &c. This is no imposture, as testimonials without number can be seen by stating place of birth, age, disposition, color of eyes and hair, and including fifty cents and a recent photograph addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture by return mail, together with desired information.

Address in confidence, Madame Gertrude Reynolds, P. O. Box 287, West Troy, N. Y. Nov. 15, 1866.