ELECTION NIGHT.—Of all the nights in the year, there is probably none on which we Americans appear in a more ridiculous light than on election night. We seem to be about as nearly crazy as it is safe for sane people to be. The enthusiasm of the victors knows no bounds—the depression visible on the countenances of the defeated is mournful to behold. Everybody is as good humored as the circumstances will allow. The criminations and recriminations of a bitter political contest are for once laid aside, while all are waiting for the verdict." No sooner were the returns of the Bon ough announced, giving a Democratic gain of a hundred, than the Democratic headquarters in and around the Commissioners' office were filled with an enthusiastic crowd. Everybody wanted to talk at once. About a hundred gentlemen claimed to have converted from one to five Republicans each, but as the returns hardly justified such extensive claims some of them were of course disallowed. Then came North and South Middleton and Mechanicsburg and the Allens and Shippensburg with their Democratic gains, and Newville with her solid 291. The day was ours! victory! victory! victory!!! A smile of calm satisfaction covered the face of our friend Armstrong. He is big on figures and not so much on hurrah. Then came Philadelphia, Lancaster, Chester, Alleghenygreat Democratic gains everywhere !"-Fred. Cornman thought our majority would be about a million! M'Clellan thought we had better wait a littlethings sometimes took a turn. But eve rybody knew M'Clellan to be generally behind the Age. Bratton was noticed to blow his nose several times vigorously (this is put in without the knowledge of the senior,) while General Bowman's cane spun around: like a wagon wheel.-A committee was appointed to hold Col Penrose fast to the same spot for two minutes, but they reported their efforts unavailing. A sudden inspiration took ession of Shearer, and he pronounced a glowing eulogy on the history and principles of the Democratic party—the brindle dog also seemed to feel particularly good over the election. Maglaughlin was kept busy explaining what had be-come of all the Republicans in the West Ward. John Cornman thought it had been a long time since Democrats had been able to feel good so late on election night; and the junior of the VOLUNTEER was the opinion that the chairman of the Radical State Committee had been sent to the other side of Jordan."

Finding no grains of comfort in the county returns, our Radical friends adourned to the telegraph office and took it by storm. Cumberland was gone beyond redemption, but the State would be "all right." But, hark! here is the first click from Philadelphia—"First Ward diminution, and will be worn small so as Democratic gain"—" Second Ward Democratic gain,"-" Third Ward Democratic gain," and so on. Rheem, Jr. thought that bad news always came first for the Republicans. Then came "Thirteen Wards give Sharswood 2500." "General Todd, read it aloud." "No I won't," says Todd, "some copperhead gentleman had better announce that"—Herman, being one of the "Copperhead gentlemen" present, read the despatch, and seemed quite crest-failen that it was greeted with no cheers. The truth of thematter was the crowd was Republican, and, poor souls, they couldn't see anything to cheer for. It was not cheering news on their side of the house .--Then came about twenty-five despatches, every one ending with the expressive phrase " Democratic gain." About this time Todd was busily explaining to a rural friend that "Our heavy districts have not been heard from yet." We have not from the aforesaid "heavy districts," At length came a despatch: "The city of Harrisburg gives a Republican gain of one," and oh! how the drowning men did catch at this little straw. Dunbar seemed to be possessed with the idea that all that was necessary to "cow" the Democrats was to bet on Williams; and he didn't awake from the delusion, until he was relieved of all his surplus greenbacks. He has since concluded to quit politics and go into the corn-planting business. Rheem, Senior, was very anxious to hear news from the west; he was told there was some news from the West-ward; and Parker believed the despatches from Philadelphia were "copperhead lies."-He had just come from the city and knew all about it; Williams, would carry the city by ten thousand. After Allegheny came in, with its great Radical loss, Sharp's rheumatism got so bad he went home; and Gen. Biddle had great trouble keeping his whiskers in shape, and evidently seemed to feel as if each particular pair was standing on end like quills upon the fretful porcupine. We don't wonder he did. When Frank-lin was heard from, Weakley looked even more scared than usual, and Saddler showed unmistakable symptoms of heart disease. Lee affected to believe he would a word of it, as he is stil in town.-Committee, he retired to private life as soon as Carlisle district was heard from. At latest accounts Adair had figured out a majority for Williams of 211, with the two military companies at Fort Dejaware to hear from.

The sequel of the sketch will be given by the exultant Democracy on Thursday

FOR SALT RIVER.—There is an im Radical friends have been honored with these illustrated free passes to the head waters of the saline region. Some of them are very ingeniously gotten up and display good taste, while others are exceedingly vulgar, and calculated to offend rather than amuse the recipients.

Let the Democrats of Carlisle and vicinity turn out to a man, on Thursday evening, in honor of our glorious Democratic victories.

OUR JUBILEE. Pursuant to public announcement, the Democrats of Carlisle convened in the Court House on Monday evening to make arrangements for celebrating our recent Democratic victories. Ephraim Cornman, Esq., was called to the chair, and Wm. B. Butler, Esq., was chosen Secretary. On motion of Mr. Gillelen, Wm. Kennedy, Esq., made a few congratulatory remarks, and was followed by Henry Peffer, Esq.

It was resolved that Thursday evening the 17th inst., be fixed as the time for holding the celebration. The following Committees were then appointed:

Committee on Finance.—James Armstrong, J. Dorsheimer, Alex. Line, C. Fred Shrom, Peter Spahr.
Committee on Fireworks.—J. Wm. Ahl, Jos. Baitz, Alfred Bowman, Wm. Lytle, John Kramer.
Committee on Rail-road.—Jno. Campbell, Jno. Comman, Martin C. Herman.
Committee on Satutes.—Capt. W. E. Miller, H. L. Hecker, Capt. Martin Kuhn.

Committee on Address.—Gen. G. W. Bowman, L. T. Greenfield, Jno. Jacobs sq.

Committee on Decorations.—Wm. Kennedy, Henry Peffer, Chas. A. Smith, F. E. Beltzhoover, Jno. G. Heiser. Committee of Arrangements.—Jno. B. Bratton, Wm. A. Miles, Frank Gillelen.

Let us make the welkin ring, with heer on cheer, on Thursday evening.

THE FASHIONS.—The "opening" of fall ashlons is an event full of significance to the ladies, when Dame Fashion pronounces her edict and decides what shall be worn by the fair sex. It is an event, however, unusually anticipated with pleas ure; for the "feast of flowers and feathers," and the elaborate productions of the modistes, are very pleasing in feminine eyes. No especial opening day was designated this fall, each establishment claiming its own day on which to exhibit the new novelties. A visit to some of the elegant emporiums in this city, and a talk with the enterprising and fascinating managers, was the means of our gaining considerable information on "styles," and an inspection of the povelties of the season. Bonnets have not undergone any radical change. It was almost an impossibility to make them more diminutive, and now the natural consequence s that they are a trifle larger, and more like a bonnet than a headdress—which is not the case at present. The "diadem," s the only new shape that has been in introduced. The crown of this sits flat upon the top of the head. It has a double im which stands up erect from the fore head forming a diadem. They are becoming and deceptive, and look larger than they really are. Very many bon-nets are trimmed with Bismark-colored satin and velvet-a gold bronze colorwhich will be generally worn. Gold ornaments as trimmings, and gold dotted lace for strings, are much in vogue.

The new dresses for street wear are similar to the summer walking dress.— The short dresses have given general satisfaction, and if common sense prevails, these long trails which aided in sweeping the streets, and were the dread of male pedestrians, will never be seen on our romenades again. For indoors, visiting, reception, etc., noderate trails will be worn. Crinoline has undergone a still further to be scarcely perceptible. The present style of wearing the hair is likely to continue, excepting, perhaps, that the chignon will come down from its present elevated position. As now worn it spoils the shape of the head—makes the rim of the hat rest on a lady wearer's nose-hides her intellectual forehead, (if he has one and obliges her to peer fr om beneath in a very strange manner in ortain, about one mile from the village, was startled by the rattling of a monster snake, and seeing to his surprise, that he was surrounded by the poisonous reptiles, he commenced the massacre by shooting. He fired four times, which started them learned whether the General has yet heard toward their den; then seizing a stout endgel he finished the escaping snakes. Upon gathering together and counting them they amounted to fifty-two killed. He then left on his journey, and marked the spot to visit on his return, or at some future day. Two days afterwards he returned, accompanied by his brother and T. A. Boess. Arriving at the den they discovered a monster copperhead snake lying at his content over the entrance o the den killing him caused a huzzing noise among the rocks, and the party commenced removing the stone, finding and killing six more copperheads, eigh rattle, and three black snakes : killing in thereupon immediately left for home. - all sixty rattle, seven copper and three black snakes—sum total seventy snakes. - West Branch Bulletin.

BASE BALL IN THE FAMILY.—An exchange tells of a man who became so infatuated with the game of base ball that he insists on running the "home" machine on the base ball system: "His children, being quite numerous, are divided off into "nines." At the table they are assigned their respective positions and the servant ordered to take the "first base." His wife, whose word "none dare dispute," is styled the "Umpire," and himself the "batsman," his duty being to flog the children. When the youngest child ories he designates as soon see another rebel invasion as a this a "foul band," and orders the ser-Democratic victory, but we don't believe vant to stop it. DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.-The new imitation of ten dollar bills on the Third National Bank of Philadelphia is a very angerous affair. The execution of the engraving is good, and the general apearance of the note is likely to deceive. Keep a sharp look out for them. The counterfeiters are at work improving mense demand for salt river tickets at their spurious issues of National bank the present time. All our prominent notes. PATENT CORN PLANTER.—We understand that a company of gentlemen this town have purchased the right to manufacture, dispose of, and, use Mor-rison's Improved Corn Planter. The only wonder to us that some enterprising erson has not taken hold of this Patent long since. It has been used for severa years by nearly every farmer of any enterprise in this county, and elicits universal commendation. Indeed we never knew or heard of a Patent of any kind or description which has stood the test of a practical trial with such satisfactory results as has this Corn Planter. On all sides we hear farmers who have used it say that they would not be without it at any price.
