A FEW WORDS ON THE DIFFERENCE IN FARMING. what difference there is among farmers? One farmer takes all the pains he can—scraping together everything that will work into the compost heap, such as leaves, dirt from around the walls, muck, sand, seaweed &c., mix it all together and draw it out, and take pains to spread it all over the field, being sure to commence early and take pains to spread it all over the field, being sure to commence early and take plow and plow the land well, turning plow and plow the land well, turning it completely ever, even if he don't get over quite so karpe a piece in a day so it completely over, even if he don't get over quite so large a piece in a day as some others. For he knows that tand well plowded is half head. Next he will provertee it well them mask out and plant. As some as the grants or up so he can see for most be grants or up so he can see for most be a sold be hose and an avenue, but keeps the or grant until the plants got to large. Indeed, as then as he can be considered in the construction as the construction of the sold in the plants.

It was very weedy, and was not hoed the last time of hoeing, for he didn't hoe corn but twice. The weeds were up as high as the corn after it was If any one should go past his otato field when he was digging po tat es, they would see the weed high up as his waist, and he has to quite a large patch to get a bushel of marketable potatoes. Probably there are others who have noticed the difference, and will speak about it. I don't think that farmers generally work their land enough.

April is a busy month—the season of sowing and planting the hardier seeds and vegetables in the Middle States; and also in the New England States; on naturally dry or thoroughly drained soils. Of course, we expect some rough, windy weather and cool nights, with perhaps an occasional slight frost. But the seepon is now advanced sufficiently. he season is now advanced sufficiently for garden and farm wo.k; and we would impress on our friends the importance of early sowing and planting FUNERAL GOODS. -providing the season is unusually backward, or the and too wet. Sowing oats, Spring wheat and other seeds, should be attended to at one; then the work in the garden, nursery and orchard will follow. The farmer and gardner should keep in mind the first principles of cultivation—a thoroughing dated soit; periest pulverization in plowing and harrowing; an equal interinixture of manures or fertilizers with the surface soil. These are essential to success. All soils, intended for field or garden crops, should be ploughed twice (the last time cross-wise), and then harrowed. This will put land in a good condition. Next manure liberally; don't be miserly with your land, or it will retaltate in short crops. Land in fine tirth, and generally manured, cannot fail to return remunerative crops, provided the after culture is thorough. provided the after culture is thorough and correct.

Attend to the garden. People generally, and farmers especially, neglect their esculent garden; but it is of great value to a family, and is half of their support at certain seasons of the year. Asparagus beds require early care; manure should be dug or forked in, and all the derayed veretuins maked off. A shoredecayed vegetation taked off. A show- Our Notion Department decayed vegetation taked off. A shower of old brine or salt water, will help it, for it is a species of marine plant, and likes an ocean like stimulant. Rhubarb beds, also want attention; such as spading up the earth and raking off rubbish. Put out onion sets immediately, also sow seed. They will stand cool weather, and if the soil is dry, the earlier set out the better. Lettuce may be transplanted from the hot-bed, to open garden at one. It will grow, even if the season is backward; and a dish of lettuce relishes well, hesides be. dish of lettuce relishes well, besides being conducive to health.

Not much progress can be made in ornamental gardening this early; although ornamental trees may be trimmed, shrubbery cropped, and walks and borders repaired. Flower beds can be prepared, ready for warmer days.

Of fields crops, not much can be advised before the middle or last of the month. It is impossible to tell when is the proper time to a day or week to the proper time, to a day or week, to plant field crops. Latitude does not always settle this matter; yet there is a difference of two or three weeks, in vegeta i.m. between the New England and the Middle States. However, sow your seeds and plant your seeds and plant your fields as early at the season and soil will admit. After an experience of five-and-twenty years, we pronounce in favor of early planting.

Liberality in providing utensils is the saving both of time and labor. The more perfect his instruments, the more profitable are they.

So also is it with his working cattle and his stock. The most perfect of their kinds are ever the most profitable.

In Cultivating the earth, the condition of man's success is his industry upon it.—Hon. Josiah Quincy.

CURING HENS OF SETTING.—A writer in the New England Farmer says that he cured his hens of sitting by shutting them in a tub having an inch or two of water on the bottom. He keeps them during the day and putthem on the root at night. If not cured the first day, he treats them to the "water cure" another day, when they will be glad to stand on their feet.

How to Protect Fruit Trees.—A correspondent of the Country Gentleman says that red cedar twigs bound around fruit trees will effectually prevent the attack of insects.

Has stood the test of seven years before the public; and no preparation for the hair has yet been discovered that will produce the same beneficial results. It is an entirely new scientific discovery, combining many of the most powerful and restorative agents in the VECETABLE KINCDOM. It restores GREY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTH-FUL COLOR. It makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors, and falling out of the hair; and will make it grow upon bald heads, except in very aged persons, as it furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft, and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSINGS. It is the glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSING. It is the glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSING. It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one bottle will accomplish more and last longer than three bottles of any other preparation.

It is recommended and used by the First Medical Authority.

The Wonderful results produced by our Sicilian Hair Revewer have induced many to manufacture preparations for the Hair, under various names; and, in order to induce the trade and the public to purchase their compounds, they have resorted to falsehood, by claiming they were former partners, or had some connection with our Mr. Hall, and their preparation was similar to ours. Do not be deceived by them. Purchase the original: it has never yet been equalled. Our Treatise on the Hair, with certificates, sent free by mail. See that each bottle has our private Revenue Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.
