Although scrupulous cleanliness is absolutely essential in everything that pertains to the dairy, as well as a perfectly pure atmosphere in and around its precincts, for the production of good butter, there are other matters connected with successful dairy farming that ted with successful dairy farming that are equally essential, and where not at-tended to, serve to cast blame on those in actual contact with the dairy, while in actual contact with the dairy, while the real culprit is never thought of. The matters in and about the dairy be ever so well ordered and conducted, if the cows have not good, sound, sweet feedings, it is perfectly impossible to produce good butter. Milk is one of the most delicate productions the farmer has to deal with. Herbage or food of any evert that contracts the slightest mer has to deal with. Herbage or food of any sort that contracts the slightest flavor or impurity, communicates it instantly to the milk, as it is secreted.—It he summer and autumn months the partire should be as carefully-weeded of noxious, bitter, or ill-tasted plants and procedures it the negative them. and weeds as is the neatest kept flower

It is a well known fact that turnips of any sort communicate an unpalatable flavor to milk and butter; and although many nostrums have been suggested to rectify or remove that taint after the rectify or remove that that after the milk comes to the dairy, perfect success to that end has never been attained, though in some degree mitigated. "Prevention is better than cure," is an old adage, and as applicable in this case as it any other. The taint has been communicated in the first instance, and then we seek for some nostrum or remody to poutrailize it while we formed. edy to neutralize it, while we forget that the true way would be not to permit the communication of the taint.

As it is in the winter and spring feeding of mileh cows with turnips, so it is in the summer feeding of dairy stock in the pastures, where are many herbs to be found that though not deleterious, but, on the contrary, their natural in-• finet leads them to browse upon as con ducive to health, at the same time doing so injures the flavor of the milk and butter. Though there are many plants that the natural instinct of cows will teach them to avoid, there are others found more or less abundantly in pastures that it leads them to eat, which though conducive to their health, taints the milk most abominably. Poor, in-nutritive pastures, covered with delete-rious weeds, cannot produce good, sound milk and butter, so it is also in the winter, the cows should have good, sweet food given them at regular intervals, so as not to allow them to get uncasy and fidgetty; the hay should be made of grass that has not gone out of made of grass that has not gone out of hower before it is cut. Dusty, musty, course food cooked up so as to make it palatable, should be avoided. The yield or quality of butter cannot be good on such food, though the dairy itself be conducted in the very best manner; and, besides all this unsound, unwhel-some food, has a deleterious effect on the health of the cows, which town daithe health of the cows, which town da rymen feel to their cost.

Impurity in feeding either in summer or winter is unquestionably the cause of the great complaints we receive from time to time of the length of time in takes to churn, and the difficulty experienced in gathering the butter; in some cases of its not coming at all, and the paleness of its color. If altention the paleness of its color. If attention is paid to their feeding; that they get nothing but what is sound and good; that they get pure water; that the dairy is kept thoroughly sweet and clean; that the air is pure, with no foul sewers or dung heaps new it and that strong men are put to churn instead of weak women or cits and no stonnage is alwomen or girls, and no stoppage is al lowed in the operation, even for a min-ute, till the butter ts come, there will be almost a certainty that the churning will not exceed half an hour, and that at quality will be everything that is desired; but if bad grass, mixed with deterious weeds (masty or half rotten meal or hay, be given, "no dairy maid, anweyer clever she may be can make good butter; but if mee, green, sweet asy, those kinds of roots that impart no unpleasant taste, and fresh, luccious meal be given, it must be a dirty, lazy, or foolish woman, that can make intefor butter."

Other points to be attended to are, regularity as to the time of milking; if the proper time be passed, the cow gets uneasy and feverish, to the injury of the quality of the milk. The same person should milk the same cow; changing the milker frets the animal, and she gives her milk reluctantly. It the pasture is near the cowhouse, the rows should be quietly and gently driven to it; but no overdriving, striking with sticks, or worrying with dogs allowed; and if the house is too far away, the cows should be milke tin the field, and the milk carried home.

from malarious, marsh, or masmato poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fall. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zine, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstanta cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either resident un, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be proceeded by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilmor Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly respectively to the cures, where other medicines had failed. Penared by Dr. J. C. AVER & Co., Practical Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and solid reconditions with world.

Hair Vigor, for restoring Gray Hair to with the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thick. ened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sedi-ment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. s occasional use will prevent the hair om turning gray or falling off, and sequently prevent baldness.
