about $10,000,000, and as Gen. Simon P. Kase well remarks, in a report on the subject, from which we make the follow-Ing extract. "While Congress is approprinted money for inferior improvements, and gives money and lands on such a large scale for the various rail-road lines to the pacific, it is not unreasonable for Pennsylvania to ask for this comparatively small amount so manifestly necessary, not only for the prosperity and development of this part of the State, but of the State generally." This is a question in which the lower end of our county is considerably interested. Mr. Kase uses the following arguments in favor of the

"Since the late war, the prejudice against national appropriations for purposes of internal improvement has chiefly disappeared from Congress, which body has recently made many appropriations for the improvement of river navigation, harbors, etc., and, encouraged by this action, many of our leading citizens in the interior of the State contemplate the opening of the Susquehanna river for steamboat navigation to Sunbury. While other States are receiving liberal appropriations for improving the navigation priations for improving the navigation of their rivers, in cases where far fewer citizens are benefitted, and far less wealt developed than there would be by opening the Susquehanna, it is but proper that Pennsylvania should ask and receive the appropriation necessary to this great work.

"A water outlet is greatly needed for the vast amount of superior coal imbedded in the region of Sunbury within a radius of forty miles from that place, and for the bituminous and tas works coals for the bituminous and tas works coals westward, lying within a radius of, say eighty miles of Sunbury.

"The Schuylkill coal fields, lying south of the Broad Mountain range, are fast becoming exhausted. It costs from $1 to $1.25 more per ton to mine coal in this region than upon the northern side. region than upon the northern side of this range, where the coal lies above water level. The anthracite coal lying north of the Broad Mountain range, and the hituminous coal of the work the hituminous coal of the work the best of the work of the best of the best of the work of the work of the best of the work of the the bituminous coal of the west (the lat-ter by a down grade), would seek Sunbu-ry as a point of transhipment by water if the Susquehanna was opened for naviga-tion up to that point; and the same may be said of the iron ores of the central and western part of the Siate.

western part of the State. "The estimated cost of opening the river is $10,000,000; and while Congress is appropriating money liberally for inferior improvements, and gives money and lands on such a large scale for the various railroad lines to the Pacific, it is not unreasonable for Pennsylvahia to ask for this comparatively small amount to age this comparatively small amount to accompliance of the State, but of the State generally, and to the convenience and advantage of every part of the country where coal and iron are not produced. "That this appropriation for this purpose will soon be asked for, may be regarded as certain, and that it will be promptly granted by Congress, there ought to be no doubt; for the fact that our national debt is large is an argument.

our national debt is large is an argument in favor of, rather than against, approprinting funds to an improvement so well calculated as this to contribute untold millions to the general wealth of the State and nation. Something is due to Pennsylvania in this matter of internal uprovement through Federal aid, and she has asked nothing in the past that can weaken her strong claims on Con-gress in the future. The feasibility of this proposed improvement is undoubt-ed."

Mr.---, Mr.—,

Dear Sir: I seat myself down to the task of writing you a few lines. I am very much troubled and grieviously tormented to the bottom of my heart, for the crime I have committed is a fearfully great one. I am very much afraid that the great and good God is augry with me, and never will forgive me this great sin. I can find no rest by day or night, for my dead friend is ever before my eyes with the bleod gushing from the wounds I cut in his dear body. Oh! how bad I feel—I fear my life will be too short to prepare to meet my great off-inded God. prepare to meet my great off-inded God, who redeemed us all with his precious

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF NTERNAL REVENUE .- In this importint report, it will be seen that in the fisant report, it will be seen that in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, the sum of one hundred and ninety-one million dollars was collected from internal revenue, the expenses for collecting which was five per cent. The heavy items in this account are the taxes paid on the indulgence of popular appetite. The amount received, for instance, from the tax on chewing and smoking tobacco was, in round numbers, fifteen million dollars.—Add to this the cost of production and dealers' profits, which is estimated to be five times more than the revenue tax, amounting to seventy-five million dollars.—All the railroads paid together less than seven millions, the insurance companies less than two millions, the insurance companies less than two millions, the fine railroad the companies of the kind of building required, applying the single part of the spirit of this act, the Directors of the Poor spared no pains to secure such a building as would fully answer the human end proposed. They say in nine out of ten houses that they enter nine out of ten houses that they enter conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every they notice coal gas in the air they sufferer will try his remedy, as will cost him breathe. Many times they find the damper in the stove pipe closed to save coal, and the result is a room full of gas, not 165 South Second St., Williamsburg, Kings Co noticed by the inmates, perhaps, but by New York. those who come in from the fresh air.-These are important suggestions, too little heeded. The injurious atmosphere from this cause, at first greatly offensive, becomes accommodated to the sense after victims acts perniciously upon the vital organs. Too much importance cannot be attached to the presence of a pure atmosphere, and the cold months, imposing house confinement more strictly, is the season when it should be especially guarded against.

Entrors Volunter:—Under the caption "County Poor House," in your issue of the 17th ult., you intimate the Commissioners of the county are making the addition referred to in your notice. This is a mistake. With its crection the Commissioners have nothing to do further than providing, by direction of an act of Assembly, the necessary funds for the purpose. The credit, it any, belongs chiefly to the Directors of the Poor.

As there seems to be some misunderstanding on this subject, and as at one time there were symptoms of dissatisfaction on the part of a few citizens, I will add what may set this matter in its proper light. may set this matter in its proper light.

The want of suitable accommodation for those unfortunate classes of our fellow-beings, the blind and insane poor of our county, had been long felt by our best citizens. Wanting these, we were obliged to maintain at an expense to the county much greater than the cost of maintaining here, those designated as the "recently" insane, of whose recovery by proper treatment there was a probability; white the "hopelessly" insane were confined in cells or dungeons at which the civilization and humanity of the age revolted. The blind were little better provided for. This state of things had continued for a long time, and might have continued much longer, had not the burning of the stone hovel, with its insane and helpless inmates, in 1867, awakened a wifor those unfortunate classes of our fel-helpless inmates, in 1867, awakened a wider and more earnest desire to respond to great crime I have committed, although I might deceive them. I know I never can deceive Almighty God, for he did see me and knows of all I did. No sooner had I committed the crime than I heard the voice of God asking me—"Adam Titus, what hast thou done and where is thy friend?"

My conscience tells me, even more than I can bear, and if I only was prepared to meet my God, my death would be a welcome refuge.

What brought me to commit this great crime, was nobody else than the devil, for my friend and I had never quarreled befor.

All I can now do is prepare to meet an angry and offended God, and bid a wick-off accordance of the content of the same and the content of the demands of humanity and a christian distribution for the comfortable accommodation for these helpless people. This dediction of these helpless people. This desired found expression in the "Report of the Poor House Visitors, appointed by the Court of 1867. "We close this brief report with except the Poor House Visitors, appointed by the Poor House Visitors, appointed by the Poor House Visitors, appointed by the Poor House Vis the demands of humanity and a christian this building, thus heated and properly ventilated, be set apart for the insanc and blind of our county. All of which is re-spectfully submitted." WILSON FLEMING, EPHRAIM SHELLY, A. Bosler.

Heartily concurring in the views expressed in this recommendation, and acting on its suggestions, the Directors of the Poor petitioned the Legislature for the proper authority to build, laying before them this report, marked with the approval of the Court. It was accordingly enacted that:

> WALKER & CLAUDY, NO. 18 WEST MAIN STREET, CARLISLE, PA.

ECONOMA IS MEYEAR James McGonigal, at No. 83 South Hanover St. Cartisle, would call the attention of his friends and the public generally to his large stock of STOVES, TIN, AND SHEET-IRON WARE, which he feels assured will give satisfaction in both quality and price. In the stove line he would call especial atten-tion to the "EMPIRE" Gas burner and parlor fleater.

It is a Perpetual Base Burning Stove. The curnace will heat an upper and lower room perfectly, and is guaranteed to be perfectly free from exposion of gas. It has no brick to be replaced every year. It is so constructed that its rays of heat are deflected to the floor, warming the feet instead of the face. It is a gas consumer, and is perfectly clear from dust. Its ventilation is complete, and the burning gas and lighted coals shine out through the Mica Windows, giving the brightness and cheer of an open fire. Call and see it. ce it. He also offers all the latest and most improv atterns of PARLOR STOVES, and a large stock of Cook Stoves, consisting of the Nimrod, a, Ironsides, Quaker City, Farmer and a variety of others, all of which are war-ranged to be best class. Stoves and to give entire and a variety of others, all of which are war-ranted to be best class Stoves and to give entire satisfaction.

Thi and Sheet-Iron ware, made of the very best material, and all other things becressary for houseleopers in his line of business kept con-stantly on hand.

His expenses are trilling, compared with oth-ers, as hede-free competition, and would ask those desiring anything in his line of business, to as-certain prices eisewhere, and then give bina a call and satisfy themselves that he can sell bet-ter articles for less money than any other estab-lishment in the county.
