STRANGLES OR QUINSY,—These diseases are of very frequent occurence, and as they are rapid in their progress, generally exceedingly fatal. They chiefly attack fattening hogs.

The glands under the throat begin to swell, and thus affect not only the respiratory organs but the soil of swellowing, impeded respiration, has reeness, and detaility them sometones the pulse becomes quick and imagnal, the best to a certain extent pulsed, the needs swells immedies, and impedit the needs swells immedies, and impedit per on to gaugether; the tongue hangs from the mouth that is nevered with saver, and the stimulation of the disease very simple mannerment of the disease very simple mannerment at the disease very simple mannerment is otherwised in but when the swelling impedes respiration, and ifficulty of swallowing has dome on recourse mass to had to more energedic treatment. Bleeding and pargatives are first indicated; sectors and pargatives the first indicated; sectors and procure of the swelching plants have also been recommended, and in entireme dases there is no reason why we should not have recourse to thister and external stimulants as counter-irritants.

lants as counter-irritants. PROTEUSION OF THE RECTUM.-This is an evil of not unfrequent occurrence in swine, arising chiefly from obstruc-tion of the intestines. Where the cause is simply obstruction, an operation will remedy it; but as the obstruction is too frequently attended with rupture of some of the intestines, it will perhaps be as well to have the animal shughtered at once, especially if it is in toler aly good condition.

LICE.—The first step to be taken to-wards effecting a cure is thoroughly to cleanse the skin of every particle of dirt, and to clean out and whitewash the styes, and put in fresh dry litter. Mer-curial olitment, turpentine, or tobacco water, are the most efficient avents in water, are the most efficient agents in the destruction of the lice. A little sul phur, or bay salt may be given inter-

Bally.
EPILEPSY OR FITS.—The prognostics EPILERSY OR FITS.—FIRE prognostice of the disease are constant grunting, restlessness, acceleration of the breath-ing, pallor of the skin and a staggering gait. Then the animal suddenly falls of strong businessing and is notiongait. Then the animal suddenly falls as if struck by lightning and is motion-less, after which convutsions come on, gradually increasing in intensity, the legs are alternately drawn up to the body and extended rapidly; the eyes protrude, the pupils are distended, and the balls roll about; the tongue is provinded and fixed between the clenched jaws; the teeth grind together; foam and saliva flow from the mouth; the pulse is small at first, then hard and bounding, and with the intensity of the fit increases, continuing irregular and internaliteat while the fit lasts, the animal is unconscious, and as he recovers mal is unconscious, and as he recover-gets up and tries to hide himself in the latter and looks terrified and wild.— Medical treatment can only be resorted to in the intervals of the fits. It cosists of cold applications to the head, sleeding, and energetic purgatives, followed up by low diet perfect quiet, and cooling medicines; salts and calomel may be given as purgatives. VETANUS OR LOCK-JAW.-The symtoms of this disease are at first spasmodic mo-tion of the head, grinding of the teeth and rigidity of the jaws. This is soon followed by stiffness of the neck and greater part of the frame, and an unnatural upraised position of the head.—Bleeding, warm lotions, and rubbing with stimulating oils, purgatives, itthey can be got in the mouth, are the most efficient remedies.

NASAL CATARRII.—This disease, which strongly resembles glanders and distemper, is like them hereditary, and may be communicated from either male or lemale parent. It also results from exposure to cold. Emeties and tonics are the best means of combatting it. A solution of sulplate of copper in doses of from three to five grains morning and night will sometimes affect a cure, as sisted by strict attention to diet and regimen.

INFLAMATION OF THE BRAIN is induced by overheating, exciting, or indi-gestible food, as an over feed of new corn, &c. The precursory symptoms are dullness, redness of the eyes, the animal seems blind and unconscious were he is going, runs against every thing, the purse is small and rapid, and breathing slightly accelerated. The first thing to be done is to breed from the patate, it possible; caster oil and jarap should be kiven as purgatives, and the system stimulated by the application of a blis-ter to the throat and, then the animal should have reported cooling doses of INFLAMATION OF THE LUNGS .- Thi disease is perhaps more generally known under the term of rising of the the maadies that infest the sty. The prominent indications of the disease are loss of appetite, incessant and discussing cough, and heaving at the flanks. Assomas the first symptoms are perceived, he animal should be bled; the palate at the best place; purgatives now the s the best place; rurgatives n ust then be given, but cautiously. spsom salts and sulphur will the best, administered and sulphur with the best, administered in a dose of from two two noir drahms each, according to the size of the animal; afterwards give a schaffive, composed or digitalis two grains, puly, antimonialism grains, nithe half drachm. Creanly and what was each with the control of ness, warnth and wholesome, cooling, nutritious food, are likewise valuable aids in combating this disease.

AGRICULTURAL FACTS.—In estimating hay by measurement, allow 450 eubic feet for a ton in the upper half of the mow, and 400 feet in the lower half. In the pastoral regions of the Rocky Mountains butter is now made, which is superior to any made elsewhere in our country.

As a rule, the English farm horse has better todging and takes fewer steps in getting to his work than the English farm laborer; horse comfort is more studied than human comfort.

The farmer- near the sea-shore is daine have learned that fish make a good feed as hay, and that one fish makes a full meal for a sheep.

He is a good farmer who makes good compost heaps; he is a better who manages to have the manure applied as fast

The good time coming will begin when the horse power in farm work eats coal instead of corn and when the scum of cities enriches the earth instead of pol-luting air and defiling water.

When a ton of wheat is marketed, it leaves nothing behind but $5 worth of straw. When a ton of meat is sold, it has left behind it nine-tenths of the nural value of the food consumed in

The highest order of charity is that which provides employment for the wil-ling laborer, and leaves uncompromised his self-dependence; work without wages makes slaves; wages without work

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.—Cough.—Syrup of poppiesi oxyme, of squills simple oxymel, of each two ounces. A teaspoonful when the cough is trouble-

CHAPPED HANDS.—Wash the hands with oatmeal instead of soap, and after each washing, take a little dry oatmeal and rub over them, so as to absorb any richture.

Nos. 57 Milk, 78 & 54 Devonshire Sts. March 11, 1869—4t Boston, Mass,

I want to rouse each sleepy head, Who stand upon the brink, Where yawning gulf-disclose the dead, Who might, but did not, think.

I went to warn the living ones Who blindly grope along, Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons What perils round you throng!

Look out my reader, are you free. Or do you wear the mark? Most all are blind and cannot see, Yea, groping in the dark.

Consumption is its son; Kills hosts, yea, countless millions, dead, Perhaps you may be one.

That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows. Catarth affects your head Matter and Slime in throat or nose, Runs Jown your throat instead.

Your lungs and liver soon will show, Consumption has its birth; Catarrh, its sire, will feed it too, "Till you return to earth.

It colds affects your head or throat, ANNIHILATOR buy; Now don't lorget what I have wrote, Or think this subject dry.

I want to gratify my friends, Who wish to understand About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends, And why its great demand.

I want to show you, plain as day, Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain. That you may never have to say "I'll not try paint again."

PAIN PAINT will cool but never stain;

Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.

Evaporation cools the place
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes Paint in vapor rise,

Romoves the very cause By pumping inflammation out; On this we rest our cause.

When inflammation leaves the frame, All pain will cense at once; Remove the cause, 'tis all the same; None doubts unless a dunce.

The pores will open and drink PAIN PAINT; Absorbents fill with ease; Restories the weak, the sick, the faint, The greatest sceptic please.

Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,

Wolcott's Pain Paint is sold at all Drug Stores also, Walcott's Annihilator, for the cure of Catarrh an' colds in the head, Nent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. H. L. Wolcott, Proprietor, March II, 1889-41

Abraham Marquart, Esq., how shown me the every for which his I hument is composed, from my knowledge of the ungredients. I do not esplate in extilicing that it, will be beneficial there an external application of the kind is addicated.

Skippensburg Sept. 15, 188.

Fully conversant with the chemical components and medical effects of A. Marquart's Liniment, I cheerfully recommend it to those who may need it.

Mr. A. Marquart:—Dear Sir. I take pleasure it, saving that I have used your Liniment for chapped hands, and it cured them and made them feet soft. I think it the best I have ever used, and would cheerfully recommend it to the general public.

Newton township, Pa., Nov. 24, 1898. I hereby certify that I have used A. Marquart's iniment for Scratches and Spavin on two of the horses with the greatest success, and would commed it to all who are in need of anything the kind.

C. MELLINGER, county Treas'r, Stoughstown, Nov. 18, 1888. Mr. A. Marquart.—Dear Sir; I have used about half a bottle of your Lindment on my horse for a bad toliar Gall, which was the most obstinate sore of the kind I ever saw; also on my arm for Rheumatism, and it has given entire satisfaction in both cases. I would not do without it for ten times its cost, and cheerfully recommend it to the public.
