George Bergner has been confirmed as Postmaster of Harrisburg .-Gen. Knipe, one of the heroes of the war, and who was wounded three times -a poor man, excellent officer, and popular with the citizens-is removed, and Bergner, the rich stay-at-home contractor, takes his place. This is a heartless and villainous act, and stamps Grant and his pie-bald party as dissemillers and falsifiers. "Those who fought for the Union must be cared for," was a favorite expression with Radical liars last fall when men were appealed to in behalfof the wooden man, Grant. Now, however, the very fellows who bellowed so lustily for the "heroes of the war," turn these heroes out of office to make place for ex-contractors and professiona politicians. To Mr. Bergner personally we have no objection ; he is, we believe an upright citizen, and will make a good officer; but to turn Gen. Knipe out of the Post office is an outrage upor patriotism and decency.
