Some time ago I saw in the German-town Tetegraph the following para-graph:—"I only put on 40 to 50 bushels of unslacked lime to the acre in my early liming. Lately I have put on as much as 80 to 100 bushels, and I believe that pays. Lime on such soil as mine will improve the crops for 15 to 20 years if the land is not cropped with grain con-tinually."

tinually."

Does it pay best. Everywhere only 50 bushels are applied. I do not think this plan pays best. English farmers parsue a very different course in applying lime, and their perseverance in the same course proves it to be correct. They apply smaller quantities at shorter intervals. Their argument is something after this man ier. : Suppose we take two separato pieces each containing an acre, out of the same field, and give them both 100 bushels of lime to the acre. Now suppose, as above, the lime runs out and require renewing in 20 years. The five bushels are chausted in one year or 10 in two. Suppose the ground will give 30 bushols of wheat (or is equivalent in corn, oats or grass), per acre the first year. At the end of 20 years it is fair to suppose that would bring but 20. Thus 25 bushels will be the average crop for 20 years or 500 in all.

Now instead of not liming the other ocre let 10 bushels of lime be applied very second year. This would keep or 600 in 20 years.

This is, 100 bushels in favor of the latter, which, at $125 per bushels make $125. Deducting $15 for the lime, (at 15c, per bushel;) leave, $110 for trouble.

for applying same to land.

Some would say it will be almost impossible to spread 100 bushels evenly over an acre of land.

If you think so (which I don't), then mix it with sand for clayey land or clay road, dirt from the wood pile or woods. The benefit accruing from the application of the sand clay or dirt, will amply repay you for the trouble of mixing, which should be done well.—

A SPLENDID BARN.—A correspondent of the Lancaster Examiner states that Mr. Abraham Kendig has erected a barn during the present season, or his farm, in the northwestern part o Conestoga township, Lancaster county, and its completeness and convenience, as well as its fine appearance, is excelled by none. It is 104 feet long, 60 feet wide, and twenty feet high from the floor to square, and has a horse-power building 20 by 30 feet attached, the lower part of which is occupied by a lorse-power and the unper part is fill. horse-power, and the upper part is filled with hay. It is so arranged that, by morely shifting the belt, which connects the thrasher with the horse-power, from one side to the other, the thrasher be set on either of the thrashing fl and thus the contents of the whole barr thrashed without moving the horse thrished without moving the horsepower. Everything about the entire barn is finished in the most complete manner, all the boards are planed, the walls on the inside plastered, the floors of the stable macadamized, and the whole outside has received two new coats of paint, and is to receive a third, which will finish the building. It contains all the conveniences found in a first class barn. Its cost was between first class barn. Its cost was between $7,000 and $8000.

Animals.—Cows at pasture must not tack pure and fresh water—stagnant pools are a poor source of supply. No stock ought to be forced to drink from them, and, least of all, milch cows-Calves are better pastured by them selves than with other stock. Young horses often get the bad habits of running after, and-striking them, if they feed together. An old horse will take care of himself among cows, but colts, of one or two years old, are heedless, and, if pastured with cattle, may be hurt by their horns, without any real malice on the part of the cows: Worging stock should not lie over night in pasture. It is very well for them to have a few hours, in which to gaze, have a few hours, in which to gaze, during some part of the day, but both cattle and horses werk better on good here. But some proposed acres were better on good here. hay, and some provender, corn and oats, iye-shorts and the like. The amount of feed may be graduated in accordance with the average amount of work required, but it should be uniform. All animals, not at pasture, should have some green feed—perhaps on third of all they cat. This should be cut, wilted, and brought to the yard or stables for them, and be ready when the day's work is done.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES OF CELERY. atenical Properties of Cellery,

-1 have known many men, and women too, who from various causes have become so much affected with nervousargs that when they stretched out their hands they shook like as en-leaves on winday days—yet, by a daily moderate use of the blanched footstatks of celery leaves as a salad they become a strong and steady in their limbs as other peoand steady in their limbs as other peopie. I have known others so very nervous that the least annoyance put them in a state of agitation, and they fear, who were effectually cured by a 'daily, moderate use of the blanched celecy us a salad at meal times. I have known others cured by using celery for the palpitation of the heart. Everybody, engaged in labor weakening to be prevengaged in labor weakening to the nerves, should use celery daily in season and onions in stead when not in season.

PATENT BROOMS.—Broom corn brush turnishes an admirable material for house brooms. The hair brooms of Europe disappear before them, or are retained only for special uses. The desirableness of some contrivance which shall do away with the necessity of transporting and marketing the long transporting and marketing the long handle is obvious, as also of one which shall enable any person, who can raise or obtain the brush, to fill his own brooms as they wear out, with fresh brushes. That groos impositions have been practised in vending patent brooms and 'rights," we doubt not, and have been the more cautious and thorough in investigating the merits of a new and. Silver's Patient Drough of the is the best brought into the market.

Young Grape Vines.—The great trouble with inexperienced cultivators, is, that they will allow a young vine to have its own way. It is the inexorable law, that a vine cannot yield both fruit and wood. If the vine is grown for present satisfaction only, then let it ruit if it will, but if future crops are regarded, then remove all the fruit that sets the first year after planting, and pinch the laterals to get a wood growth

CABBAGE JELLY .- Boil cabbage in usual way, and squeeze it in a colender till perfectly dry; then chop it small; add a little butter, pepper and salt; press the whole very closely into an earthern mould and bake one hour, either in a side oven or in front of the fire. When done turn it out.

Harness and Yoke Gulls.—Wash with castile soap and cold water, and, if possible, bind on a piece of sacking, wet with water, to remain over night: Reheve pressure upon the sore spots by shifting the harness, or by padding, and protect from flies with grease and pine far mixed, during the day.

HALF a dozen of eggs, beat up with two ounces of salt, is recommended as a sure relief of cattle checked with a potato or an apple, by a correspondent of the Country Gentlemen.

A VERY full stomach in a horse always crowds his lungs so that he cannot go fast or work hard, without danger. Let this be kept in mind.

No fly will light on a window which has been washed with water in whicha little garlic has been boiled.

MARQUART'S CELEBRATED LINIMENT FOR MAN OR BEAST.
Admirably adapted to the Cure of all Diseases which a Counier-Irritant or External Remeyls required.
Diploma awarded by the Cumberland County Ag-hura Society, 1868. REFERENCES: Abraham Marquart, Esq., has shown me the receipt of which his Liniment is composed.—From my knowledge of the ingredients, I do not nesitate in certifying that it will be beandical where an external application of the kind is A. STEWART, M. D. Skippensburg, Sept. 15, 1868.

Fully conversant with the chemical compo-cate and medical effects of A. Marquert's Lini-tent, I cheerfully, recommend it to those who any need it. B. N. ECKER, M. D. may need it.

Mr. A. Marquart:—Dear Sir-I take pleasure in saying that I have used your Liniment for chapped hands, and it cured them and made them feel soft. I think it the best I have ever used, and would cheerfully recommend it to the general public.

Newton township, Pa., Nov. 24, 1888.

I hereby certify that I have used A. Marquart's iniment for Scratches and Spavin on two of ay horses with the greatest success, and would ecommed it to all who are in need of anything t the kind. C MELLINGER, courty Treas'r. Stoughstown, Nov. 18, 1868. Mr. A. Marquart:—Dear Sir: I have used about half a bottle of your Liniment on my horse for a bad Collar Gall, which was the rost obstinate sore of the kind I ever saw; also en my arm for Rheumatism, and it has given entire satisfaction in both cases. I would not do without it for ten times its cost, and cheerfully recommend it to the public.

MICHAEL IATSHAW.

ened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can mly benefit but not harm it. If wanted
