THE END OF THE HORSE.

When the horse falls, he is bleed, and his blood is preserved for the use of the dyer. The mane and tail are next cut off for the manufacture of sieves, hair cloths, and bow strings for the violin; the shoes are shined for the hoofs, and the hoofs are cut off for combs and various other kinds of horn-work, and a portion of the best goat's to the glue-maker; the skin is stripped off for the tanner, who converts it into excellent leather for boots, harness, etc., and the collar-maker finds a good use for the hair which is left over for horse-dresses, though without knowing that they are hippobogal, (a club of horse-enters, who regularly advertise their club days,) some of the lower features are regaled in the cheap eating-houses of great cities with delicate bits of carcasses in the form of cold, pickled beef-steaks or soup. When the flesh and fat have been removed, the stomach and intestines are laid aside for machine straps and stings for muslin trousers, and are often sold, for the last purpose, as the best naps cords; the ribs are turned into buttons and children's toys; the large round bones serve for tweezers, whistles, ferules, knife-handles, cups, balls, dominos, etc.; the large, flat bones, such as the scapulae and ribs, are used for many purposes, such as for the handle of a broom, a head or either consumed in heating furnaces or crushed for manure. The remainder of the carcass is buried, and some of the best bones are used for flint, scapulae, and valuable manure. And from the fat is extracted a coarse oil which is used by mechanics.

WASHING MADE EASY.—The following receipt is given by a house-keeper, who has tried it a number of times, and says it is the best of the clothes: "Five pounds of salt soda, one pound of borax, one pound of washing soda, one pound of soap, and one gallon of boiling water; mix the soda and borax in one gallon of cold water; stir a few times and let it stand until morning, when the clear fluid should be poured off into a tin can, ready for use. For white goods, use half a pint of the cold water. Slop your clothes over night, putting soap on the soiled portions. In the morning, wring them out and put them on to boil, first putting some of the fluid and soap into the boiler. After boiling ten or twelve minutes, remove them into your machine or tub and the dirt will rub right off; then rinse well in two waters. Some will say, 'Use tris' and your clothes will look nicely, and you will not be near so tired."

HOW TO GET SHIRT BOSOMS.—We have often heard ladies expressing a desire to know by what process a fine gloss observable in the best shirt bosoms, etc., is produced, and in order to gratify them, we submit the following recipe for making gum arabic starch: "Take two ounces of the white gum arabic powder—put it into a pitcher, and pour on it a pint of boiling water, (according to the degree of strength you desire,) and then, having covered it, let it set all night. In the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle, cork it, and keep for use. A tablespoonful of gum water, stirred into a pint of starch that has been made in the usual manner, will give to bosoms (either white or printed) a look of newness when nothing else can restore them after washing. It is also good (if mixed with a little thin white muslin and boiled.)"

HOW TO WASH SHEEPSKIN MATS.—The first thing to be remembered is that it must not be washed in hot water, as that would spoil the colour of the wool and make it quite yellow. Boiled soap must be used in sufficient quantity to clean the skin well, after which it must be thoroughly rinsed in cold water until the whole of the soap is removed. It should not be washed with soda, as its alkali will destroy the wool, and its weight, which is sufficient to break it up, should be used to make it clear white. The mat may be taken out in the sun to dry, but care must be taken not to leave it too long, or to put the skin uppermost, but always the fleecy part; or, if you wish it to be stiff and will crack. To prevent all chance of this, it is better to wash it by shaking well during the last rinsing. If the mat be a colored one, some ox-gall should be mixed with the boiled soap to prevent the dye.
