

Agricultural.
ALMOST INCREDIBLE—We are informed that about the middle of August last a hog belonging to M. Henry Kudo, residing in Heidelberg township, about 11 miles from this place, was missing from the premises, and although search was made nothing of its whereabouts could be ascertained, and the animal was given up as stolen or strayed beyond recovery. A few days before Christmas, however, as some of the farm hands were engaged removing a stack of wheat straw, situated near the barn, which had been blown down by a wind storm about the time hog was missing, when to their astonishment the missing hog was discovered and, angrily enounced beneath the straw, the animal, which weighed about 150 pounds at the time of its estray, was fearfully emaciated, being reduced to a mere skeleton and lived but 24 hours after its removal from its living tomb. It had been lying under the straw, as nearly as can be ascertained, thirteen weeks and three days, which time it was without food or water. This story, although it seems almost incredible, can be vouched for by numerous persons of the highest respectability.—Hanover Spectator.

NEGRO RULE IN WASHINGTON.
Washington City, Feb. 20.—The negroes in the interests of the colored. The Common Council there insists that negroes shall be entertained at all the hotels and restaurants here as whites are. The proprietors will not receive them as guests, and the question will be taken to the courts for determination. The argument of the hotel keepers is that their business is a private character, and that they have the right to refuse to do business with whom they please, black or white. The common law as to the hotel is that the proprietor is bound to receive all persons resorting to his house as travellers. Whether they can be sustained in this view, which negroes as proper persons, is to be determined in the courts. If the negroes were not entertained at the hotels, they would be forced to seek a lodging upon the streets; but, hounded by white scavengers and partisans, they first make war on mixed schools, and now for mixed bed and board, as well as mixed liquors, in the restaurants. There is something too much of the negro in all this.—Intelligencer.

LAZY FARMERS.—Laziness prevents a man from getting off his horse to put up the first rail that goes knocking out the fence, and he has the right to a whole field of corn is seriously damaged. Laziness keeps a man from driving one nail when one would do, and finally costs a carpenter a bill for expensive repairs. Laziness allows a gate to get off the hinges and lie in the mud, or stand propped by rails—or a stub or barn to wreck and damage hundreds of dollars worth of provender. Laziness, in short, is the right and proper name of nine-tenths of the excuses given for bad farming. It is the most prolific of the many wastes that are due to laziness is the waste of ignorance. But this is not in itself so great, and in many ramifications, that we shall have to defer discussion for another time.—Dial (Tem.) Farmer.

THE last dog story is told by a California correspondent. "At the beach I saw one of the characters of the locality—Kona, an immense Newfoundland dog, that day a little girl who was playing pebbles was caught by a huge roller from the Pacific and carried out into the roaring surf. The dog, who was caught by the hair, and after a short struggle, brought her ashore alive. Of course Kona became a hero at once, and was duly honored and spoiled. He enjoyed his dignity for some time, but, eventually, finding himself neglected, he determined, by his own efforts, to regain his popularity. Starting off for the beach, he saw a lady out swimming. He at once rushed in, seized her by the hair, and in spite of her resistance, landed her on the beach. He now insists on rescuing every man, woman and child whom he catches in swimming."

HEN GUANO.—During the fall and winter, every few days, a few shovelfuls of dry truck were spread over the droppings beneath the roosts, which were made with floors for the purpose. It had the effect of keeping the houses sweet and odorless. In the Spring, I had a good pile of home made guano. By shovelling it over several times it was finely pulverized, and it was very pleasant to handle than dry earth. I used it upon a late piece of corn, dropping a handful in a hill. It soon came up, and worked it twice after sowing, then ripened off as early, and yielded better. It seems to grow so fast that the culture can be made to an impression upon it.—Cor. of American Agriculturalist.

THE plan of a central kitchen is to be tried in Brooklyn. Professor Blot has established one in Hamilton street, from which, in a few days, he can supply ready cooked meals to a family residing within a radius of three miles. It will be distributed in close cans, similar in plan to the well known Norwegian kitchen. The plan is to surround the failure of this enterprise appears to be in the fact that it will take some time to familiarize the public with the idea, and show them how much comfort and convenience there is in it.

BUTTER MAKING.—I noticed an enquiry in your journal recently, whether butter should be washed or not. "Farmer's Wife" says, keep water out of it. I say wash butter for me. I have not as much cream as you, but I use butter, but I am not afraid to have my butter tested by the side of any body else's. I always wash my butter through, and work it twice after salting, then pack in stone jars, air tight, and it will keep any length of time as sweet as when first made.—Cor. of Western Rural.
