Those ten roots, it is true will be more advantageous in sustaining the life of a tree, for two or three years, long enough for sellers to get trees off their hands, and get their money for them, even by warranting every tree to live one year. Most men think if they, can make a tree live one year, the difficulty is all over: they may now count on a satisfactory growth. But there never was a principle more erroncous. Every tree needs the advantage of a long taproot, to go down deep into the dry earth, and bring up moisture in dry weather when the surface roots can not furnish one drop of water to the growing plant. Therefore, when a tree or bush, or vine is transplanted, make a deep and large hole with a long crowbar, four feet deep, put the taproot into it, and fill the vacancy with sand. If there is no taproot, bend drown a total root into the hole, and PARLOR STOVE AND HEATER March 31, 1870-3t and, falling hair checked, and bald-THE CELEBRATED REGULATOR TARY
