The head master at this school,* 'for many years, was one Jonah Thompson, a tail, portly man, with a decided military air, in spite of his drab coat and breeches, and broad-brimmed hat. He used to march his boys to week day meeting in a long line of two-by-two. In their play-hours, these perverse lads managed to manufacture a complete set of wooden guns, and to furnish themselves with several small flags. These they secreted in a closet in the academy hall, and took them up as they passed out on the first meeting day. Their grave master stalked before them, as was his custom, never looking back, so was quite unconscious of the warlike parade made by his school, and of both the laughter and horror it created. Then they went to bed, and laughed themselves to sleep. The astonishment and perplex-ity of the poor countryman, when he found that his wagon had " gone up," gave these wicked boys immense delight. In the street, many a laughing face was turned toward that queer sight, that odd, clumsy, old market wagon, wheels on, and swinging in its place, apparently only waiting for horses and a driver to start on an air line for Bucks county. There were in this academy four de-partments, each with its master, under whom were other teachers, called, as in English schools, ushers. Even I envious men were unable to withhold their tribute of praise. 'Chevers, my boy,' observed Rivers, who has spent his own fortune, and is looking out for a wife's, 'my figure is twenty thousand; but, by gad, if I had your face-hair, I'd make it forty !' Yon may judge of my feelings, then, when it was seriously proposed that I should shave. I repudiated the notion with a shuddering carnestness which seemed to amuse some of the company, and they all set to work to argue me out of my objection to the sacrifice. 'Tey will grow again,' said one Miss Winton. 'I am sure Cheevers' face would look better without them,' added the other. 'Yes; there is particularly a fine contour, which is completely hidden at present,' said O'Brian. 'How do you know that, Paddy?' 'Contour or act,' said I firmly, 'if you cannot put up with a whiskered Fortescue, some one else must take the part.' And to that resolution I stuck in spite of flattery, persuasion and satire, for three days. And I got it hot; too, at times. First one and then another male visiter was tried in my part, and found wanting. On the fourth morning, after breakfast, Ada 'Dart expressed a wish to leam how to play at billiards. March 17, 1870---6m* * One of these masters, named John Todd, was a man never forgotten by his pupils. He was a Quaker of the strictest sort, but by no means a man of peace, in his school. He thought that the princi-ples of George Fox and William Penn might do for governing mcn, even In-dians, but not boys. A sterner system was required for them. 'Moral suasion' didn't sult their case. He was awfully severe. For slight offenses he would content himself with a ringing box on the ear, or a rap over the knuckles, but for idleness, disrespect, or insubordina-tion, he always resorted to the strap. The centre of the school room was his flogging ground. The boldest foy, when DWARD SHILLING, M. D. coming. Now, it is a singular fact, that however well off a man may be, a guinea always has an attraction for him; and Sir Thomas Winton, when in town, was very regular in his attendance at the Board. The charms of general conversation are not unknown at these social business gatherings, and Sir Thomas and I often discuss our favorite topics. He is a sporting character; my hobby is the drama. Thou shalt not want a warming pan to night, I'll warrant thee. Nothing in nature will prevail upon thee, but my strap.'
There was however, in that school one boy who, for a time, set the terrible John Todd and his ugly instrument of discipline at defance. He was naturally tough and hardy, perhaps, and he was, moreover, especially protected by a stout pair of leather breeches. Him the master strapped a number of times, laying out all his strength, and getting absolutely purple in the face with the exertion. But the boy took it all ln hardened silence. He would not wince, he would not 'sing out.'
One day, after quite exhausting himself a bis agreeable duty, the master paused in angry astonishment, and asked, 'Does it not hurt thee, at all ? thou young reprobate !' 'No,' shouted the incorrigible young rebel. 'Cut away.-Hurrah for leather breeches!''
The next moment he was thrown sprawling upon the floor by his indignant master, who exclained, still in that terrible, pompous way of his, 'Intolerable being !get out of my school ! Nothing in nature is able to preval! upon the floor by his indignant moster.'
Thus Tommy Fitch was expelled from the famous Friends' School. If he had been allowed to remain there, after that triumph over the master, every boy in the academy would have beset his parents for leather breeches ; the strap would have beset his parents for leather breeches is the strap would have been upset forever. WHY is an ugly girl like a black-smith's apron ? Because she keeps off the sparks ?

I AM going to draw this beau into a knot, as the lady said at the hymenial altar.

'Boy, what is your name?' 'Robert, Sir.' 'Yes, but I mean your other name.' 'Bob, Sir.'

WHY is a solar colipse like a woman whipping her boy? Because it's hiding of the sun.

A PERSON who had been listening to a very dull address, remarked that every thing went off well—especially the audincel

MANY a man when he came to paying he bill, found his wife dearer than his veetheart.

WHY would Samson have made an excellent actor? Because he could so easily bring down the house.

ONE of the commonest proofs we have that man, is made of clay, is the brick so often found in his hat!

'AUTUMN,' says a wag, 'is the time to read big books, because that season turns the leaves.'

'WE are ashamed at the sight of a mon-key,' says Charles Lamb, 'some how—as we are shy of poor relations.'

LOVERS resemble armies in some re-spects. They get along very well until they are engaged.

WHAT is the difference between a far-mer and a bottle of whisky? One hus-bauds the corn and the other corns the usband.

THAT is a very fine watch,' said one negro to another; 'how much did they oharge for it?' 'Dunno,' was the answer. 'De man wasn't in de store when I bought it.'

WE near a great deal more of persons' dead in love with each other, 'than we do of their living in love with each oth-

'WHAT is the chief end of man?' askd a Sunday-school teacher. 'The end what's got the head on,' replied a young

'Is that clock right, over there?' ask-ed a visitor, the other day. 'Right over there,' said the boy: 'tain't nowhere else!

WHEN Haddock's wife kicked him out of bed he said: 'Look here, now, if you do that again it will be likely to cause a coldness in this family.'

SUMNER is about to introduce a bill in the Senate to strike the word white from the name of the Executive Mansion.

At a recent meeting of a London ves-try a member proposed that no vehicle or any other animal should be allowed to remain or stand upon any part of the commons.'

A GENTLEMAN, in lecturing for the Blind Asylum the other evening, began by gravely remarking : "If all the world were blind, what a melancholy sight it would be."

'SAID an ambitious youth one day to a young lady, 'Dou't you think I had better dye my mustache?' caressing the infant prodigy. 'I think if you will let it alone it will die itself,' snid the lady.

A GOOD old quaker lady, after listening to the extravagant yaro of a shopkeeper as long as her patience would allow, said to him: 'Friend, what a pity it is a sin to lie, it seems so necessary to thy busi-ness.' Solon, the great law giver of his time, directed that no tomb should have an arched roof, or more work upon it than could be performed by ten men in three days. As a lawyer and a doctor were walking arm in arm a wag said to a friend, "These two are just equal to one highwayman." 'Why?' was the response. 'Because it is a lawyer and a doctor—your money or your life.' WHAT brought you to prison, my col-Y HAT blought you to prison, my con-ored friend ! "Two constables, sah.' Yes; but I mean had intemperance any thing to do with it? 'Yes; sah; dey wuz bofe uv 'em drunk.'

EDITORS do not always think of their smart things on the spur of the moment: but one of them down in New England rot in a good repartee the other day.— Daniel Pratt, a great bore, came with his customary introduction: I am the Great American Traveler! 'Well, travel!' was oll the reply he got. all the reply he got.

'You never saw such a happy lot of people as we had here yesterday,' said a landlady in Indiana to a newly-arrived guest; 'there were thirteen couples of 'em.' 'What, thirteen couples just mar-ried?' 'Oh no, Sir, thirteen couples just divorced !'

WHAT is a strait?' The class looked blan, except one small boy, who said he could tell. The schoolmarm hopeful-ly told him to proceed. 'It beats two pairs.'

WILTE P _____, a little five-year-old, was playing with a honey-bee, when the angry bee stung him. Oh? grandma,' cried Wille, 'I didn't know bees had splinters in their feet !'

IN Chicago husbands are said to be so fearful of curtain lectures that they add to their announcement of future move-ments the letters 'W. P.,' which mean 'wife permitting.'

John RANDOLPH once on a race course was solicited to bet by a stranger who said : 'Smith here will hold the stakes.' 'Just so,' replied the descendant of Pon-čahontas ; 'but who'll hold Smith?'

Fun represents a six year old, in Knickerbockers, seated in a barber's chair, and to him the hair-dresser says: 'Well, my little gentleman, and how would you like your hair cut?' 'Oh, like papa's, please-with a little round hole at the top.'

A GENTLEMAN was chiding his son for staying out late at night, and said: 'w hy, when I was your age, my father would not allow me to go out of the bouse after dark.' 'Then you had a deuce of a fath-er,' you had, sneered the young profil-gate. The father vociferated, 'I had a confounded sight better one than you, you young rascal.

'Do you mean to challenge the jury ?' whispered a lawyer to his Irish client.... 'Yis,' be jabers,' was the answer, 'if they don't acquit me. I mean to challenge every spaipeen of 'em: I want ye to give 'em all a bint of it, too.'
