Mr. Sargent. They only go where the railroads have gone before them.
Mr. Holman proceeded with his argu-ment, and had read by the Clerk a letter from Amos Sanford, President of the State Labor Union of Knosses, thanking him for his action in behalf of settlers, and a joint resolution of the Ohio Legis-ture instructing its Senators and Repreture instructing its Senators and Repre-

ture instructing its Senators and Repre-sentatives to vole against further grants of land to railroad corporations. Mr. Roots remarked that that was the Legislature which had rejected the fif-teenth amendment. Mr. Holman retorted that the gentle-man from Arkansas was interested in the bill and wanted everything free, ex-cept the lands and the people of the United States. Mr. Wood corroborated the statement.

WASHINGTON, MAY 7, 1870. It is about time that some steps were taken by the people to compel Senators and Members of Congress, to attend the sessions of their re-spective bodies. At a recent meeting of the Senato but fire members were present out of 72 all told. The same state of affairs prevails in the Marker Theorem theorem the the House. The other day searcely more than one third of the members were present, and the seargeant at arms was sent out to bring in the seargeant at arms was sent out to bring in the absentees. Now, it may be annualing for the gal-lery loungers to sit and listen to the rigiculous excuses offered by the Honorable gentlemen, but it is rather expensive entertainment. The salaries paid by their constituents are supposed to be in lieu of services, rendered the Subposed to be in lieu of services, rendered the State and country, and are altogether too high for buf-foonery and neglect of duty. It is sheer robbe-ry'and pothing else. It is said that there are certain members of the House drawing salary, who have scarcely been in Washington this seasion. It is trusthet years often the country session. It is true that very often the country would be better off if these law-makers did not get, together at all, but it is hardly a valid-exget. together at all, but it is hardly a valid ex-cuse nor one they would be apt to offer. By all means let Congressmen and Senators show some regard for the interests of those who send them to Washington, and present the appear-ance, at least, of doing something to earn their money. If those now here will not attend to their duties, let others be elected who will.

Speaking of absentees, John Morrissey made his appearance, the other day, for the second or third time during the session. It is said that he intends to resign his seat. John says he has been in some protty rough crowds in his time, but he never has been in a place where he felt exactly so unconfortable as he does in the House of Representatives, and maintains that his district is a paradise compared with Wash-
