GETTYSBURG ITEMS.

WE clip the following items from the Bettysburg Compiler of Friday lust: LEG BROKEN.-A young man named Scott, of Carroll county, Md., had a leg broken by the caving of a bank on the Littlestown section of the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railread, on the 28th ult.

SNAKES .- Mr. Uriah Hildebrand, while cradling oats, on Friday week. in York township, York county, killed a snake which measured three feet and four inches in length, and ten inches in thickness. After he had despatched the monster, it burst open, and sixtyeven young ones crawled out of it They measured five and a half inches in length, and were all of one size.

STRUCK BY LIGHTOING .- On Wednesday, the 20th ult., a new stable belonging to Mr. Issue Sheely, in White Hall, Mountpleasant townihip, was struck by lightning, and entirely consumed, with a carriage, sleigh, hav. &c. The loss was quite heavy, and not insured, as we learn.

About the same time the house occupied by Mr. James Welsh, near White Hall, was also struck by lightning. The electric current; assed down the chimney, and Mrs. Welsh, sitting near it, was so severely shocked as to be for a time unconscious. She is slow ly recovering.

BALLOON ASCENSION AT YORK .- On Saturday last, Mr. James A. Dale, of the drug firm of Dale & Hart, made a balloon ascension from Centre Square in York. The balloon used belongs to Mr. John Wise, of Lancaster, and the veteran eronaut was present to superintend the inflation and ascension. At twenty minutes before two o'clock, Mr. Dale, accompanied by Mr. Gates Weis er Jr., ascended, the ballon taking s southeast direction. After several minutes, a live cat, attached to a parachute six feet in diameter, was dropped from the basket, and alighted in safety about a mile and a half from town. At twenty minutes past two the balloon was seen to decend, and it reached the ground in Hopewell township, fourteen niles south of York. There Mr. Weiser stepped again upon terra firma, and after taking in stones for ballast. Mr. Dale proceeded on his journey. At ten minutes past four he made a successful descent about ten miles from Belair.
