Shordy before 12 o'clock, on Tues day night, flames were discovered issuing from the stable attached to the Cumberland Valley Hotel, corner of Main and Bedford streets. The slarm was given. but as everybody was in his or her first sleep, it was with the greatest difficulty the citizens could be aroused. A conside erable time elapsed before any of the enwines reached the scene of the confluctaion, and there was more than the usual delay in getting water on the fire. In fact the building was almost entirely burned own before the engines were put in ope ration. All the horses and the flarnes were removed from the stable, and the vehicles from the adjoining shed, and oothing was destroyed beyond some hay, corn and onts. The hotel is the property of George Garber, and is at present kept by Lewis Faber. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, as the flames were first discovered issuing from the end adjoining the alley, and some persons were seen prowling in that vicility a short time previous.

FIREMAN'S FAIR.-The Cumberland Fire Company intend holding a grand fireman's fair, in Rheem's Hall, during the holidays. From the spirit and en thusiasm with which the boys undertake their labor of love, and from the interest which the ladies manifest in the move ment, the fair promises to be the most successful held in this place for years. > ATTEMPT AT MURDER-A Negro in Neuville Shoots his Wife twice-Jealousy the Cause .- The usually quiet locality of Newtown, adjoining Newville, was the scene of a serious domestic tragedy, on Monday morning. It seems that Samuel Stanton, a negro, and his wife had been living together very unhapply for some time. Stanton became jealous of the attention his wife was receiving from another darkey, and they separated Rev eral months since. On Monday morning Stanton saw his wife in company with this man, and arming himself with a pistol, afterwards n.et his wife at an adoining house, when a scuffle ensued:-He struck his wife and knocked her down, and afterwards fired at her and struck her in the arm. He then rode off, and returned, and met his wife on the road, when he fired at her again, wounding her in the neck. He then rode off some distance into the country; and leaving the horse, started on foot over the fields. Presently he came back mounted his horse and returned to Newville where he gave himself up to the offleers of the law, and was brought to prison at Carlisle on Tursday.

COUNTRY IMPROVEMENTS .- It is gratifying to note the improvements in the style of the dwelling houses that our friends in the country erect when their worn out residences need replacing. The fact is the country is keeping pace in this respect with our towns, which indicates thrift and temporal prosperity upon the on. He was again secured and part of our agricultural friends. More than this, the style manifested in their new improvements denotes that a taste for the ornamental and the beautiful has been cultivated. This, to our mind, is an index to a higher order of life, and clearly manifests that the educational facilities for so long a time confined to towns and cities, have, under the foster ing influence of our common school system, reached the country, producing their legitimate fruits. We are pleased with these marks of improvement, and hope the work may continue to grow until our county shall be dotted all over with new. heautiful and substantial buildings, suited in every respect for a farmer's home. and fully up to the progressive age in which we live.

seems to be some plausibility, at least, in the opinion. We cannot deny the doctrine of planetury influence, and there is no doubt but the special rule of the great orb of day had much to do with the intense heat of the past summer. On the first of January the moon will take the place of the san, as the raling planet, and the former is known to be as cold and lifeless as the latter is hot and scorching. A cold winter, after the first of anuary, a mild and pleasant spring and summer, with abundance of snow and rain, and a plentiful yield of the fruits of the earth, may therefore be among the looked-for CARLISLE, Pa., Décember 2, 1870.

A Family Supposed to be Murdered and then Burned ! Correspondence of the Volunteer.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Perry Co., Pa., Dec. 5, 1870. Our citizens were startled on Saturday morning last, by hearing that within seven miles of the town a father and mother with their two children had been burned to death. On that morning about 2 o'c'ock, the house of ohn P. Boyer took fire, and, as already stated, he and 4.773 look fire, and, as already stated, he and his wife and two children perished. Their remans were taken from the ashes, shape-less hulks without heads, arms or legs. They had retired to their beds on Friday night little thicking that they were to 4,498 wake up in eternity. How sad, and how dreadful the thought that murder has done this work. Here are the circumstances so far as I have been able to ascertain them. The house was on the Markle ville road, and north west of this place, was built of logs and weatherboarded, and had in it down states two gooms and a kitchen, and in the room farthest from the Firehen, on the ground floor, the parents and two children slept.

A married son who resides in the town was that night home with his parents and slept up stairs. This married son says that he was waked by a moan and on waking found all parts of the room lighted up from the fire that was consuming the house. He immediately jumped out of a wholow and in failing full with his head against a stump which fell with his head against a stump which rendered bim insensible for some time, and as soon as he was able to get on his feet he ran to, a window which opened into the room in which his parents slept and with a rail knocked it in, but the moke came out in such volume that he smoke came out in auch volume that ne could not enter; he then ran to the house of his prother-in law, only about one hundred yards distant, and roused hin, that the two then returned to the house and knocked in another windew, but because of the smoke and flames they could not enter. They heard no sound of human voice whatever from the room. of human voice whatever from the fram, and supposed that alread, the occupints of the room were dead. As I have it, up to that time the flames had not to any great extent reached the room, but in a short time when the flames reached the ned on which the father and mother bed on which the father and mother-were steeping they could see them lying as if they never had, waked out of sleep, and thus were their remains found side by side and so also the children, just where the holds stood. The window of the room was only about three feet from the ground and had no soutters. Why was there no evidence of a struggle, and why the remains found just in the positions in which they felt to sleep? This will explair to the Wednesday before the fire, Dr. And, of this place, had stolen out of his effice a full half pound of chloraform. This chloroform was no of chlogolorus. This chlorolorus was no doubt used in their destruction, the house then fixed in the room adjoining; and in the room adjoining because the murderer was attaid to enter the room it which the delorotorm was doing its work!

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for January, 1871, is already received. It is a magnificent number. Either of the steel engrav ings, "Gracie's Pet," or "Coasting," are worth the price of the number. In this number, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens begins a copy-right novelet, "The Reigning Belle" the opening chapter of which will draw tears from every eye. The other contributors are Mrs. R. (Adjoining Blair & Sons' Grocery Store.) CARLISLE, PA. After an experience of over thirty years in the fove and Thware business, in Carlisie, the unersigned feels confident that his recommenda on of Stoves has some weight with the community. He now offers the celebrated EMPIR E GAS BURNER which he feels satisfied is the best Base Burner in the market. It is handsome, throwing a cheerful light around the room; there are no clinkers ever with the worst coal; the heat is reflected to the floor and strikes the feel instead or the face; the gas is entirely consumed; all dust is carried off by a back pip; it has a ventilating dampor by which room, may be kept thoroughly ventilated; and it produces as great heat from as small a quantity of coal as any slove over off-red to the public.

"BEACON LIGHT," both flase furners, highly recommended by all who have used lifem. All these Base Burners are insured for three years, and if they do not works satisfactorily may be returned. Also the following well known.
