"BIGHTS OF COLORED PROPLE," Summer and his Radical colleagues in the Senate find it difficult to force obedience to their demands for negro equality. A few days since the socalled "Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana," a thick-lipped, strong scented negro, in his trip from New Orleans to Washington, imagined that sufficient attention had not been paid to him by the rail-road employees on the route. Being a "Lieutenant Governor," he expected and demanded particular attention from the white conductors and ticket agents; more than this, he supposed that a free ride would be tendered him. In these expectations he was disappointed-he was required to pay for his ticket, and was treated just | arrival at the Capital he stopped at the ' Metropolitan" hotel, but when he was about to make his mark on the regis for, (the Lieutenant Governor cannot write,) he was informed by the clerk that there were quite a number of pubtic houses in the city where colored men could find accommodations, but that mad up-he felt his wool standing on end-and forthwith he proceeded to Mr. Summer's residence, to make his grievances known to the Massachusetts Senator. The "Lieutenant Governor" was provided with quarters in the Senator's mansion, and on the same evening the Labor Union Convention, (colored,) then in session at Washington, adopted resolutions expressing sympathy for the "Governor," and demanding "additional rights for colored people." The resolutions were promptly sent to Sumner, who as promptly presented them to the Senate. From the official proceedings of that body, (Jan. 20,) we copy as follows:

Mr. Summer presented a communica-tion and resolutions from the National Labor Union Convention (colored,) in session in Washington, for the passage of what is known as Senator Sumper's bill. what is known as senator sumpers bill, supplementary to the civil rights act, now pending before the Judiciary Committee, the object of which is to apply a remedy for alleged indignities and proscription to which colored people are subjected to in whitend are cailroad cars.

Mr. Summer, expressing his hearty sympathy with the prayer of the petitioners, said the indignities complained of were terrible outroges, for which Conwere terrible outrages, for which Congress was bound to apply a remedy before adjourning. Referring to a description by the Lieutemant Governor of Louisiana, (colored) of annoyances to which he was exposed in traveling from New Orleans to Washington, he asserted that there must be equal rights everywhere—equal, rights in railroad cars, hotels, schools, churches, theatres, and in every institution, which had the sanction of existing law, and appealed to Mr. Trumbull, as chairman of the Judiciary committee, not longer to delay remedial legislation.

An explanation by Mr. Trumbull developed that the bill referred to by Mr. Summer had been reported from the Judiciary committee on July 7, of last year, and then intelligible programmed. and then indefinitely postponed.

Mr Sumner asked leave to enter a motion to reconsider the postponement, but Mr. Hamilton, of Maryland, objected, Mr Sumner subsequently introduced a till supplementary to the civil rights act, substantially similar to his bill of last postpone. Postgrad to the contribute and session. Refetred to the committee the Judiciary. So It seems we are to have a "suppleequal rights everywhere," he is to be heavily fined and also imprisoned .-White men may laugh at this monstrous and most infamous proposition, but we tell them that if these Radicals are to be continued in power, Sumner's most ultra notions will be put into force. The only hope the Radicals have of retaining their political ascendency, is by granting to the negroes their every demand. Take the negroes from the Radicals, and their party, is gone in every State in the Union except some three or four fanatical New England States. Make up your minds then, white men of America, that negro--quality-" equal rights everywhere"is to be enforced by pains and penalties. You may demur, and even do a little swearing, but the thumb-screw will be applied to you by a Radical official, if you dare refuse to recognise the negro as your equal. This is what we are coming to findeed, in the South, they have come to it already. White men! up and at the miscreents who are thus attempting to degrade you and your children. You can if you will, give this infamous, (otten, corrupt, fanatical Radical party or faction a blow that will send it howling back to Massachusetts. the "tate of its birth. " Down with the black and tan party," should be the motto of every one who has the blood of the white man coursing in his veins.

THE negroes of Ohio, at their late State convention, adopted a resolution demanding of their white Republican brethren, that all the schools of the State should at once . e' thrown open and made equally free to black and white children. On with the dance !

GEN. FRANK P. BLAIR.

The election of this gentleman to the enate from Missouri, is a bitter pill to the smoker at the White House, and to Radicals generally. Gen. Blair is a oold, talented man-just such a man as the Democrats stand in need of in the Senate. He will, if we are not mistaken in the man, prove a thorn in the sides of such pigmies as Wilson, Chandler and others of similar calibre, whose mpudence has so long been tolerated in that once dignified body. When occasion offers, Gen. Blair will take the starch out of the collars of New England Yankee Senators, and their aiders and abettors in villalny, the carpetbaggers, who draw $5,000 a year to misrepresent and malign the people of the Southern States. He will!

It is fortunate, then-fortunate for the cople and the country-that the seat of the condemned Drake (quack!) is hereafter to be occupied by Gen. Blair. When he, in the summer of 1868, predicted, in a speech, that Grant would attempt as the other passengers were. On his to usurp power, and would call to his aid the reglur army, his prediction was sneered at by Radicals, and doubted by many well-meaning I mocrats, It will be remembered that we published that speech, and at the same time asked our readers to keep in mind the prediction t contained. We felt sure then-judging from the rapid strides the Radicals the "Metropolitan" was not one of were making towards despotism-that, them. Of course Mr. nigger got his sooner or later, Gen. Blair's words would come true. They have been more than verified. Not only has Grant sent his troops into the Southern States, to browbeat white freemen and force them from the polls, but he has invaded Pennsylvania and New York with armed marines, and stationed them in close proximity to the polls in the large cities of Philadelphia and New York. In the latter State these marines were prudent enough not to obey the commands of Grant, and they remained in their quarters. Gov. Hollman's military would have made mince-meat of them had they appeared near the polls. But in the voting places, hoping by their presence, to strike terror to the opponents of the administration. Gov. Geary, to his honor be it said, has entered his solemn protest (in his annual message,) against this infamous outrage; but had he resisted it when it occurred, his action would have been still more commendable. But, we thank him for his manly protest. It will, we doubt not, serve to prevent a like occurrence.

How prophetic then were the words of Gen. Blair, in his speech in 1868.-Queen Victoria, with all her power, would not dare to use her regular army to intimidate her people, and by this means carry elections. No, her head would be in jeopardy the very hour she attempted such a tyrannical experiment. But Grant, the petty little tyrant-the poor nincompoop, who is handled by the very worst men our country contains—has been guilty of this crime against the people. Now that Gen. Blair is in a position to expose and hold up to view and the execration of the people the doings of this to see him perform his duty fearlessly and a gentleman of worth. and without mineing words. He is a man from whom the people expect much; let him not disappoint them. THE potorious Roderic R. Butler, a Radical Congressman from Tennessee, mentary ill to the civil rights act," has been indicted before the Grand and, according to the provisions of this Jury of toe Discrict of Columbia, for bill, if any white man dares to snub a defrauding a widow of her pension, by nigger, or refuse to break bread with forging the necessary papers to effect him at the same table, or to deny him his purpose. One night last week this James A. Weston, of Manchester, for for the purpose of deciding what action they would take on the question of general amnesty, and expressed himself as follows: "Mr. Butler, of Tennessee, declared the feeling and spirit of the South did not justify a general amnesty; that the mild treatment by the Republican party of rebela was a mistake, and in the end would prove a failure. The Republicans would regret it, Pandering to the rebel sentiment had been a blunder."

This is quite modest, coming from a an who, after the outbreak of the rebellion, was himself a member of the rebel Legislature of Tenuesce. But Butler is now an intensely loval man, and a scoundrel, as he is admitted to be, occupies a seat in Congress and has a voice in making laws for the people. Although Butler is now opposed to granting pardon to his once rebel brethren, the time will soon come, if he court that tries him metes out to iim full and evenhanded justice, when he will deem it prudent as well as neessary to invoke Grant's amnesty power to release him from his cell in a

THE House bill for the admission of Utah, contains a provision, that after the admission of the State, all persons shall forever be prohibited from contracting any bigamous, polygamus or plural marriages, or relations of concubinage, and also prohibits the marking of any ballots, whereby the same may be identified.

THE mammoth nine million railroad bill, vetoed by Gov. Geary last winter, s undergoing some immaterial alterations, and will again be introduced House providing for the admission of into the Legislature before the close Washington territory as a State in the of the session. Its passage is pretty well assured, and the question is, will is 5.000, and the total population 30,000. I the Governor give it another blow of the veto?

THOSE whom the Radicals call 'Unionists" at the south are the negroes, the scallawags and carpet-baggers. They regard every Democrat as a disunionist, and this is to be their batspecial commission to count the fish trickery is not played out, God help the ommon sense of the people.

Democratic Opposition to the San Do-mingo Job.

The Democratic members of Congress have determined to oppose Grant's San Domingo Job at every-stage, and by all means in their power. For so doing they are twitted by som - Radical newspapers upon a securing abandment of their ancient doctrine of marifest destiny, which has been falsely nterpreted to mean a readiness to aborb all the territory on this continent. The Democratic party has made most valuable acquisitions in the past. Under its rule the vast region embraced inder the title of Louisiana was purchased from France for the insignificant sum of fifteen millions of dollars. The Louisiana territory embraced not only the State of that name, but all French territory lying west of, the Mississippi. The Democratic party annexed Texas and acquired at a comparatively småll expenditure a vast and valuable territory at the end of the Mexican war embracing the great deposits of gold and silver in California and the adjacent regions. The Democratic party has always made good bargains for the people when it went into the real esstate business. Alaska with its icebergs and its few frost-bitten savages Is all the Radicals have acquired, and no one doubts that there was a huge job in that transaction. Grant is bent upon the acquisition of San Domingo, with its deadly crimate and its sparse nonulation of lazy negroes, because he and his ero des expect to make an immense sum of money out of the transaction. It is a pity the Democrats are not strong enough in the present Congress to kill off the swindle at once.-The best they can do is to fillibuster against it with the hope of delaying a decisi a until after the end of the present session. If that can be accomplish ed, there will be an end of the dirty job .- Lancuster, Intelligencer CANDIDATES for Governor are our
