He was a man of scholarly at tainments and indomitable energy. In 1802 he was arraigned before the presbytery, and suspended on the charge of intemperance, and in 1804 he was deposed from the ministry This was indeed a disestrons ending to a life that accomplished so much good and promised so fair-but it should be borne in mind that the social custom of the times justified the moderate use of liquor, which was kept in every house, and one easily susceptible to its influence might fall, where several of his fingers mashed. others could walk with safety. Mr. Lang was succeeded at Falling Spring by Rev. Wm. Speer, in 1794; Rev. David Denny, in 1800, who continued to labor there until 1838-since which time the pulpit has been filied by Rev. Daniel McKinley for nine years, Rev. Joseph

Clarle, Rev. L. S. Fine, Rev. S. J. Niccolls, Rev. ____ and Rev. J. Ague w Crawford, the present pastor. In 1738, the Presbyterians living in the vicinity of Middle Spring-so called no doubt from the fact that it was equidisble style tant from Big Spring on the one hand and Rocky Spring on the other-met to devise a plan for building a church ; and the result of that consultation was the erection of a log building, about thirtyfive pet square, near the gate of the old was done to the building. grave-yard, on the bank of the stream. Subsequently, a more commodious building was crected on the same spot; and in a few years this house was enlarged by an addition at the side, and by a gallery which was reached by two flights of steps on the outside of the building, which gave the structure rather a peculiar oppearance. In the year 1781, a stone church was crected on the hill, near the site of the present brick church, and a new grave-yard was established in the rear of it.
