weekst MARY INSTITUTE. -The annual musical soirce of the Mary Institute, of which Mrs. Dunbar is instructress, was given in the Good Will Hall, on Monday evening last, in the presence of a brilliant and fashionable audience. As usual the music selected for the occasion was of a high order and was skillfully executed. The crowning of the May Queen was pecu-Harly beautiful and appropriate, and was much admired. The only drawback to the entertainment was the excessive heat.

FOURTH OF JULY .- Tuesday next will be our national holiday, but we believe no general celebration of THE DAY Will take place in Carlisle. There will be no doubt a total suspension of labor; the stores, banks, public offices, &c., will be glosed, and the streets will wear a Sabbath stillness. Our citizens, who design enjoying themselves, will select some cool and refreshing spot, on the banks of the creek, whereat to pass the day, or wend their way to one of the neighboring watering places, while others will visit the surrounding towns in quest of pleasure, novelty or relaxation.

The farmers are now in the midst o the wheat harvest, and the weather has been most favorable. It is said that the vield will be large and of an excellent quality. The late genial rains have had aniendid effect upon the corn crop, and It is coming forward with remarkable progress., It has seldom looked better at this season of the year. Oats, also, look well and promise an abundant vield.

In Connecticut "corner loafing," with the use of abusive, indecent, or insulting language, whether addressed to any person passing upon any highway, to any other person, or to no person in particular, has been made a statutory offence punishable by a fine not exceeding $7.— If such a law could be passed and enforced for the borough of Carlisle, a fund night soon be provided for the comple tion of the Soldiers' Monument.

Our Congressman, R. J. PARTRIDGES .- We are glad to learn that partridges can once more be seen in in all sections of our county. They are not plenty, of course, but if the State law is strictly observed, we may hope to see them abundant in the course of a couple of years. Let the law, then, be strictly enforced against all who make war on Bob White, and let gunners and trappers make it a point to destroy all the foxes minks, opossums, weasels and hawks

BURGLARIOUS ATTEMPT .- On Tuesday norning of last week, shortly before lay-light, some party entered the dwelling of Mrs. Catharine Martin, on North Street, by opening one of the dining-room windows. The door that leads from the dining-room to the hall being locked on the outside, prevented his further entrance. This burglar was evidently after money, as there were in the kitchen, to which he had access, a can of lard, a ham, flour, bread and other articles which he could have carried off very easily; but nothing was taken that could

At, or about the same time, the dwelling of Wm. Hastings, a few doors east of the above, on the same street, was entered n the same manner. The villain, after having ransacked the lower part of the house, proceeded up stairs to the room where Mrs. Hastings was sleeping, went to her bed and felt under the pillows, supposing, we presume, that she had money there. Failing in this he next struck a match, and proceeded to open the bureau drawers but by this time Mrs. H. had awakened, and seeing the man at the bureau, gave a scream which brought to her assistance Mr. Jas. Waggoner, who lives in the house adjoinng, when the burglar fled, without carrving off any booty.

The house of James Kerr, on North Hanover Street, was also entered on the same morning. Whether anything was taken therefrom we have not learned.

Friday morning last Mrs. Rose Hummel, wife of D. D. Mumma, of Harrisburg, who was spending some weeks at the house of Dr. Kauffman, near Brown's Mill in this county, came to her death in the following heartrending manner: On the morning named, the Doctor had a call to make near the saw mill about two miles from Brown's Mill. Mrs. M. accompanied him in a buggy. When they arrived at the house of the patient the Doctor got out of the buggy and hitched the horse with one of the lines. He insisted upon her going up to the house with him, but she declined, saying that she would remain in the buggy. He then asked her to alight and take a seat on a log, in the shade near by, but she declined this also, saying that she would be more comfortable in the buggy. He had ot more than entered the house when be heard a scream, and going to the door he saw the horse loose from the post, and starting away in a walk. He ran to her assistance and called three times to her to jump out of the buggy, but she still emained in it. The doctor had two ences to cross, and before he could get to the horse—now starting on a trot—he again called to her to jump out. The auimal now broke into a fearful rate. The Doctor fellowed after as fast as he could. About a quarter of a mile from the starting the lady was thrown from the buggy, and when the Doctor came up she was almost lifeless, and in the agonies of leath, the blood running from her nose and mouth. There was a deep cut in the back of the head, and also a severe bruise on the cheek. Everything that was possible was done to restore the lady to consci ousness, but she died in twenty minites afterwards. The cut in the back of the head is supposed to have been caused by the tire of one of the wheels, which was found to be broken. As may be naturally supposed, the doctor is in great. distress. A dispatch was sent to her husband and friends at Harrisburg immediately, the former arriving from that place in the evening. Her remains were taken to her home in the morning train on Saturday. We understand her husband is assistant State Librarian, and that they had only been married two years. Theaccident is one of the saddest that has ever happened in this county, and our whole community sympathize with the husband and friends in their sad bereave-

meht. The Harrisburg daily Patriot, of Sat day, says: 'The sudden announcement of Mrs. Mum ma's sudden and terrible death has shrouded her extended circle of friends in gloom, as it has sunk her percaved family into the depths of anguish, Snatched as it were from this earth in the spring time of life, when the horizon of the future was tinged with the roseate views of happiness and joy, reflecting back the good works with charm ing effect and influencing the immediate pircle by the acts of a Christian life, her sudden departure from this temporal sphere is accompanied by all the bitteress and sting of mortal anguish, but the nemory of her life lives as a monument,

James expired about three o'clock on the afteroon of the Tuesday following the catasronhe, and was the first added to the list of those upon whom the death angel laid his hand in that awful havoc. He was Welshman, and had been in this country about seven months. On the morning of the dreadful day in question, he had taken his breakfast and his wife had made ready his dinner and set the pail beside him.-For some time he sat wrapped in thought, his arms folded, his eyes fixed vacantly upon the stove, and a deep melancholy apparently brooding over him. He was aroused from his reverie by his wife telling him that his dinner was ready, and that he would be too late as the bell had rung. He started to his feet, and gazing upon her for a moment with a look of enderness and significance, said to her: "If I should not come back alive would you be in such a hurry getting me out?" wifeanswered, "No," but remarked "that

He had left his home thirteen years before and came back to see his parents, of whom he had heard nothing for many years, and was startled to hear that they were no more. After stopping in Harrisburg he started for Texas, and now the intelligence comes that he too is dead.

FEARFUL AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—On | Prof. Hickcock's new and complete An alvais of the Holy Bible, Pub lished by A. J. Johnson, New York.

> After a careful examination of this vork, we think it the most wonderful volume that has ever been brought within our notice, and satisfied that it ought to be in every pastor's library, accessible to very Suuday-school teacher and scholar and indeed in every family in the land. With its assistance the study of Scripure becomes easy and satisfying; the work being so arranged and classified that even a child can ponder its pages with profit and pleasure. As an index to vhatéver teachings the Bible contains on any subject, it is invaluable; and as expanding one's own estimate of the hoarded and varied wisdom of the sacred work as a whole, its merits will be apparent on even a brief examination. To the minister it will often throw more light upon his chosen topic than a whole day of wisdom researches could secure; while to the teacher, whose time fo study is limited, and who yet must ac quire a comprehensive knowledge of his esson, it would seem to be peculiarly adapted. Indeed, it is a question whether the topical method of Biblical study would not be vastly more advantageous to the family and also to the private reader than the old plan of reading through in course. Let him who has read the Bible through each year as though it were a work, taking so many chapters each day, now try Prof. Hitchcock's analytical method, and see if he has not profited by the change. The work abounds n valuable indexes, and being supported by Crudens' concordance, has pronounc. ng and interpreting dictionaries; a condensed distionary of all the various religous denominations; a concise history o the books of the Bible; tables of Scripture weights and measures, together with very fine maps such às Mr. Johnson has the name of putting before the public. The work is well printed and substanially bound in morocco and cloth, and is penutified by some excellent steel engravings by the well-known American artists, Thomas Nast and F. B. Carpenter. The following testimonials from clergymen and other eminent men can-fore the public. "I agree with Rev. H. E. Niles, of York, in saying that Hichcock's analysis of the Holy Bible, by Dr. Hichcock, has been thoroughly examined and tested by some of the best theologians and Biblical scholars of the land, and I believe is the best book of the kind accessible to the American public." Its admirable arrangement, rich, varled and appropriate contents, render it an invaluable help to the study and better understanding of the Sacred Scriptures. Hence I most cheerfully recommend it and wish it a wide spread circulation.

J. A. MURRAY, D. D. Pastor Presbyterian Church; Carlisle.

We sometimes sing,

"God is his own interpreter, And he will make it clear," And he will make it clear,"

In Dr. Hitchcock's Analysis of the Holy, Bible, this truth is fully verified. I have long had Dr. West's Analysis of the Bible in my library and have found it of no little value in the study of the Holy Scriptures. But I am free to say that this new analysis contains a number of decided improvements on anything of the kind yet offered to the public. I only wish every Sabbath School in our country could be the possessor of this valuable volume. It would be of great assistance in the preparation of S. J. Essons'

S, lessons It is highly recommended by many of the ripest Biblical scholars of our land denominations. It contains not only a very carefully prepared analysis of the Bible but the whole of Cruden's very superior concordance, which alone is worth to the earnest Bible student as much as the price of the entire volume, A careful examination of its pronouncing dictionary of Scripture names would save many who are often called upon to read the Scriptures in public, from mortifying

J. D. BROWN, Pastor First M. E. Church, Carlisle, Pa.

I deem it almost superfluous to add I deem it almost superfluous to add any word of mine to the many recomendations of "Hitchcock's" new and complete analysis of the Holy Bible, by many of the most learned and noted Divines and Biblical scholars who have se highly and favorably commended it to the confidence of students of the Scriptures. I will only add I believe it the best thing of the kind thus offered to the public. I feel sure it will prove itself satisfactory to all who desire a thorough and systemetic analysis of the Bible. and systemetic analysis of the Bible.

Pastor Luth. Church, Carlisle.

"The more I examine Dr. Hichcock's analysis of the Bible the better am I pleased with it. During the last ten years I have by its use become greatly attached to the analysis of Dr. West. An examination of Dr. Hichcock's, liowever, examination of Dr. Hiencock's, nowever, shows at once the superiority in arrangement and method, while the addition of Cruden's Concordence revised by Mr. Eddie gives to the work both efficiency and completeness to every student of the Bible it is invaluable.

D. EBERLEY, A. M.,
President Cottage Hill College, York,
Pa., formerly of Cumberland Co.

It is without the least hesitation or restriction of opinion that I commend Hichcock's analysis of the Bible not only to the critical, but to the general Bible student. It really must be regarded as one of the wonders of the literary, age to condense an entire library of religious literature within 1,200 pages; yet such has been done so logically in this work that a way faring man, though a fool, need not err therein. I repeat, I have no hesitation whatever in pronouncing it the most valuable aid that can be put into the hands of both of the clergy and laity. There is not a single subject that the analytical mind of the has not arreased. the analytical mind of the has not arranged.

TROUT LAW.-We have recently had several inquiries in regard to the law in relation to the catching of trout. For the information of all interested, we publish the following extract from a law passed by the State Legislature at its session of

SEC. 6. No person shall at any time, with intent so to do, catch any speckled brook trout, with any device save only a hook and line, and no person shall catch any trout, or have in his or her possession, save only in the months of April, May, June and July, under a penalty of five dollars for each trout so caught or had in nossession."

FRUIT TREES, &c.-Messrs, M. B. & J. H. Dusinberre, of the celebrated Rochestea (N. Y.) Nurseries, are still in town taking orders for fruit and ornamental trees, vines, flowers, and, in fact, shrubbery of every kind to be obtained at firstclass aurseries, such as these popular and well-known gentlemen represent .-Their facilities for filling orders are vastly superior to those of the last season.-Orders taken now will be filled in the Fall. To those of our citizens who have not yet given them an order, we would say, pay them a call at Noaker's Hotel. on the corner of Bedford and East Main streets. A WHOLESOME FIELD DRINK .- The excessive use of cold water during the sweltering heat of summer often results n serious and alarming illness. It is, therefore, advisable that some beverage should be substituted for it, of which those oppressed can partake with safety. For this purpose we are aware of no better or more refreshing drink than the follow ing: Take of the best white Jamaica gin ger root, carefully bruised, two ounces cream of tartar, one ounce: water, six quarts, to be boiled for about five minutes then strained; to the strained liquor add one pound of sugar, and again place it over the fire; keep it well stirred until the sugar is perfectly dissolved, and then pour it into an earthen vessel, into which you have previously put of tartaric acid two drachms, and the rind of one lemon, and let it remain till the heat is reduced to a lukewarm temperature; then add a tablespoonful of yeast, stirring them well together, and bottle for use. The corks must be well secured.-The drink will be in high perfection in four or five days. This is a very refreshing as well as wholesame beverage, and one which may be partaken of without any unpleasant results even in the hottest weather. ANOTHER PEST.—We have been told by an experienced farmer, that a new pest in the shape of a worm about an inch in length, has made its appearance in some of our wheat fields. The process by which it is generated and operates is said to be this: The egg is deposited in the green root, of the grain, where it hatches and comes to maturity, in the shape of a worm, which when developed eats its way upwards in the centre of the stalk, to the head. The stalk dies and turns white and eventually withers away. Any farmer may discover the presence of this new and destructive insect by a simple examination of his wheat fields. If he finds any of the stocks turning white, let him take his penknife and slit them open ANOTHER PEST.-We have been told him take his penknife and slit them open and he will be likely to discover the worm operating in the centre. They are said to be quite destructive at places.— Way, My Desponse. York True Democrat.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.—On last Saturday evening a difficulty occurred in a lager beer saloon, in Columbia, between a young man of this place, named John Wolf, and Philip Lehr, of York, employed as brakemen on the railroad between this place and York, which resulted in the shooting of Lehr. The ball entered on the left side, passing between the ribs, inflicting a painful wound.—Lehr was taken to Black's Hotel, where the wound was probed, but the ball was not found, and has not been we believe, up to the hour of our going to press. The up to the hour of our going to press. The wounded man, we are glad to learn, is doing as well as can be expected, with strong hopes of his recovery. He was taken to his home in York on Monday morning. There are many reports as to the cause of the affray, but we refrain from giving any of them, preferring to await a legal investigation. Wolf was arrested in this place and taken to Lan-caster jail to await trial.—Wrightsville

WE call the attention of our readers to the following owing remarkable cure of Mr. C W. Ahl of Carisle, Pa., by the use of HOOFLAND'S GERMAN MEDICINES. His certificate is vouched for by the Editors of the Carlisle Volunteer, one of the nost influential newspapers in the State.

DR. C. M. EVANS.

Dear Sir: In the year 1867 I was attacked with Dyspepsia. From that time until the year 1861 I continued growing worse, and was reduced from a damed growing worse, and was reduced from a damed and healthy man to a mere living skee years I had the attention of the most colouted physicians in New York, Philadelphe and Baltimore. I also visited the watering places, and tried every remedy I could hear properly the cure of Dyspepsia, without expected payers and tried every remedy I could hear pay the cure of Dyspepsia, without expected payers with the feeling that death alone extend a payer of the cure of Dyspepsia, without expected payer with the feeling tinat death alone with the feeling tinat death alone and alleviate my sufferings. In this extremity, at the urgent solicitation of my wife, I began the use of "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS," although with no more faith in its efficacy that. I had in preparations previously tried.

After using four bottles of the Bitters, to my surprise I felt I was improving. My food tasted well, and there was a very marked change for the better. I continued the use of the Bitters until I had taken sixteen bottles, and then, to my inexpressible gratification I found myself, perfectly cured.

Since that happy termination of my affliction I have not bough: fifty cents worth of medicine and two pounds.

of any kina and and two pounds.

I make this statement voluntarily, and hundreds of the residents of the Cumberland Valley who knew my condition will vouch for it. I am satteffed I was thoroughly and permanently cured by the use of HOOFLANDS GERMAN BITTERS, and I take especial pleasure in recommending it to all who may be suffering from Desagosia. yspepsia.
My positien pecuniarily is so well known tizens in Carlisle, and to numerous persons of the barrand with the barran olizens in Carisle, and to numerous parsons out of the borough, that I cannot be charged with making this statement for pay. My only mo-live is to inform all who may be suffering as I did of the wonderful cure performed in my case, I honestly believe; had if not been for HOOF-LAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, I would have

AND'S GERMAN BILLEAU, gone to my grave long ago.

With the hope that I may be the means of bringing those-sitters to the notice of all who may be suffering as I did, I give this certificate Gratefully, Yours,
