every good cause, must suffer from Radical efforts to recognize negro equality. This negro equality experiment is not only a cause of constant irritation, but it is expensive. The negro cadet at West Point has cost the government more than his black neck is worth, and notwithstanding the efforts of the administration to gloss over and excuse his bad conduct, he persists in his habits, and a military court is called every few months to investigate his deviltries. Of course the Academy itself suffers. Recause of the presence of this negro eadet, insubordination and bad feeling in authority insist upon forcing their theory of "equality of races." Indeed,

West Point Academy altogether. Another expensive affair on account of a negro, happened a few weeks since. A young "Fifteenth Amendment" had been appointed a mail agent on a railroad in Tennessee. A Union soldier, who had been an applicant for the same situation, felt a desire to give the negro mail agent a "licking," and he carried out his desire to the full satisfaction of himself, and to the dissatisfaction of the black mail agent. The affair was telegraphed to the Postmaster General, and he, in violation of law, actually ordered the mails to be discontinued on that road, thus inflicting an outrage upon thousands of people who for three weeks were denied male facilities, merely because a negro had had a difficulty with a white man. Finally, a regiment of soldiers was sent to Tennessee to protect the colored mail agent, and this regiment was on duty for several weeks, and until the negro was removed on account of his utter want of qualifications for the position. This negro! difficulty, then, with the white soldier cost the government many thousands of dollars. Will not the people set these things right by repudiating the fanatical asses engaged in them?. They will.

THE Radical party in Utah isin pretty much the same fix that it is in the State of New York. The two factions are making war upon each other, and although they have not exactly carried the war into Africa, they have done the next thing to it-they have carried it to Long Branch. THE apathy which just now pervades the Radical ranks is caused in a great measure by the disgust of the rank and file at the duplicity and treachery of the leaders, as well as by the corruption and peculation of thousands of Radicals who hold subordingte positions. It is their intention this fall to let the election go by default; then to weed the party of the foul excrescences which now hang around its neck like a millstone; to reform abuses, and in 1872 to fight the battle with new men and upon a new platform. Grant's administration came into powin appeal to the public against protecive tariffs. They show that on articles in their line the government collects a revenue of $8,500,000, and imposes a ow much stock President Grant owns tax of $18,000,000 upon the people who wear their productions-all for the sake of protection. We are glad to see light breaking in upon Yankee land, they having long taxed the nation most enormously by means of protective tariffs, to the almost exclusive benefit of themselves. If the selfish New Engand nest can once be broken up ther will be hope for the better people.

McCARTNEY, Disbursing Officer in the Post Office Department, at the city of Washington, during a fit of insanity took between $30,000 and $40,000 of the public funds to speculate on his own private account. That kind of insanity as become an epidemic ever since the Radicals have been in power.

A number of Republican Conventions, we notice, passed resolutions opposing land grants to railroads. Now why do they not act the part of mer and denounce Grant and the Radical Congress for having favored land grants to railroads? This would be the course of honest men? THE Williamsport Standard says that the Democracy of Lycoming county will receive into its ranks this fall scores of good Republicans who are disgusted | endorsed Grant and his jobberies. The tees and buffoons, PENNSYLVANIA.—All accounts agree that the prospect of a great Democratic victory in this State next fall, is not only highly encouraging, but assured by a considerable majority. The Radical factions have tried in vain to reconcile their feuds, and every effort made to bring together the rival roses, has re-sulted only in confirming the existing hostility. The opposition to Mr. Cam-eron is more intense than ever before, since he has assumed to be the exclusive dispenser of power and patronage. The andorsement of General Grant at. the Radical Convention, was obtained by a stroke of management only, and -A four ounce dog was sold in Boston the other day for $250. by a stroke of management only, and was not a fair expression of the body. THE Democracy, having disposed of The committee on resolutions decided by a vote of two to one, not to report a word in favor of the President, and, in fact, the platform was introduced with-out any mention of his name. After it had been adopted and when the con My Dear Sir-I wrote to you the last thing from New York, but do not know whather you received it or not, as I sent it by the pilot. Hope you got it. a regular old Southwester, and you may bet we got it. I remember I had hardly finished writing those words when "All hands reef topsalls" was called. Of course we scampered on deck, and then what a time we had. The wind had come up suddenly and was blowing a gale, keeping the sails tulls ot that it was almost impossible to brace the yards in to reef sails. While reefing, the foretop-sail was carried away, and in hauling down the jib the downhaul parted and we had to holst it again and before we could rig another line the sail blew to pieces. The sea began to pile up and we were lying nearly in the the trough of the sea, and Oh Lord, how we did roll.-We found we could not carry topsails, so we furled them and the oresail. IT is really amusing to read the ef-fusive tariff disquisitions of Pennsylva-nia Radical editors, and compare them with the free trade arguments of such prominent members of their party as William Cullen Bryant, editor of the New York Evening Post. The truth of the matter is that the prominent free trade advocates stand high in the Rad-ical party. It was these men that car-ried, by more than two-thirds majority, the bill repealing the daty on coal and salt, passed by the lower House of Con-gress last winter. Judge Peters, a Maine Radical, was the author and champion of this great free trade movement. So far our Radical contemporaries have taken exceeding good care to say noth-ing shot the original the state. -The matches between the leading base ball clubs are now almost entirely controlled by sporting men, and large amounts are lost and won whenever. -The occurrence of the recent earth-quake on Staten Island is explaind by local meteorologists on the theory that as fever-and-ague season commenced this year all the people bappened to have their chill at the same time. aken exceeding good care to say nothing about the singular manner in which their political associates have manifest-ed their devotion to high tariff principles. Seriously, so long as Radicals say one thing and do another, voters will feel indisposed to trust them.—Belle-fonte Watchman. U. S. S. GUERRIERRE, Lisbon, January 6th, 1871.
