SOUTH MOUNTAIN RAILROAD .- We informed that persons are frequently sled by the time-table of the South ountain railroad published in the Voleer. The fact is the time-table at sent in this paper was inserted by the perintendent nearly a year ago, and change has been made in it since .would cheerfully have made the ange, on our own responsibility, but e have not, for the past six months, en anything like a time table; and if officers of the road do not take enough terest in the business they are employed oversee, to keep the public informed to the running of their trains, it can rcely be expected that outsiders will to that trouble. We believe there are we trains a day to Pine Grove, one leavhg the Junction shortly after eight in he morning; and the other at three in from all quarters we hear that crowds our country friends are coming to wn, and from present indications the will be one long to be remembered.

THE COUNTY FAIR.—The time is apaching for the farmers, stock raisers and mechanics to commence thinking of arrangements for the coming County Fair. The officers and managers are making every preparation to provide means for ample accommodation to visitors and nibitors. In view of the fine crops ith which Cumberland county has been essed in view of the improved live ock in the county, and the interest of ock raisers, and in view of the enterrise of our go-ahead farmers and menanics, it would seem that sufficient inrest should be manifested to make the gair equal to any Conty Fair in the State. Exhibitors have everything to stimulate em to attend the ensuing Fair. Now the time to prepare your samples, and bringing them out you will let the epple know what has been done for the efit of an honored and honest calling.

IMPROVED BUILDINGS.—A gratifying idence of improved taste among our tizens is witnessed in the character of buildings erected this season in vaattractive and objectionable boxes of rmer years, we see now going up the ost tasteful buildings, which combine beautiful with the comfortable, and genuine ornaments of the borough. proof of this fact, we point with pride the new buildings of F. C. Kramer, on Centre Square ; to Col. Paxton's, on llege street; and to that of F. Gardner Co., corner of East High and Bedford reets. The two brick dwelling houses rected by David Sipe on North Bedford street, and one by Wm. Crall, on South street, are also handsome and convenient buildings. On the corner of South and litt streets, a new brick building bas just en commenced by J. L. Meloy, which, en completed, will add much to the earance of that part of the town.

The Second Presbyterian church edie, on the south-east corner of Hanover nd Pomfret streets, is rapidly approachor completion, and is already "the obilders, and other competent judges ho have viewed it, are unanimous in onouncing it a beautiful temple, the chitectural design being chaste and apopriate, and the execution of the worknship highly creditable. It is beeved by many that this building will the ornament of the borough, and its astruction certainly reflects credit on he architect and contractor, as well as members of the congregation.

THE CHOLERA .- The cholers is makhg rapid strides from the East toward West, but it is by no means certain bat it will visit us this year, or even the ext. It has been there for O years, and during the last year over thousand persons have died of it in Petersburg alone. But there are rea-^{ns} wby it may linger in Russia a long ne without crossing the frontier. But e necessity of preparing for its approach by no means lessened. The pestilence lay be with us at any time. Let us have ean streets, yards, cellars and houses, hether it of mes or not; and if it does me, we shall see it robbed of more than

The talent composing the corps, we understand, is equal to any in the county, and with a little patience and practice on their part, will he able to cheer up the neighborhood considerably, and under the leadership of Mr. May, who was a member of the Shiremanstown Band, they will have the advantage of acquiring a knowledge of music seldom equalled. He is at present in Philadelphia purchasing the instrunents.

RUNA WAY HORSE.-On Friday evening last, a horse, belonging to John Ringwalt, attached to a trotting buggy, ran off from the vicinity of the Market House, and, by the furious manner in which he dashed down South Hanover street, created the greatest consternation, for it was at i ust that hour in the evening when the streets are lined with pedes ous parts of the borough. Fortunately no one was injured. ACCIDENT.—On Friday last, as several of the hod-carriers at the Second Presbyterian church, were passing along the scaffold leading to one of the towers, the timbers gave way, and three or four of them were precipitated to the joists of the floor beneath, and one of them, a colored man named Smith, was quite severely injured. > in the world. SUMMER.-The Summer months are now passing by almost imperceptibly, and with all their vernal glory will soon be gone forever. The lovely dress of green over the landscape will be changed, and all the beauty which we often look forward to with so much longing in | 8 the cold bleak winter, will have faded and gone. The thick foliage of the trees will soon scatter and leave the branches bare and desolate with their skeleto branches stretching forth towards winter sky. But while we are yet surrounded by this cheering dress of nature rounded by this cheering dress of nature how little do we admire it and revel in its beauty. It is the fashion with some to enjoy the summer months by traveling, in search of pleasure among the resorts of fashion and wealth while they are passing by the richness and splendor of smiling nature at their very doors. We are really enjoying the summer season when we drink in the loyeliness of the landscape with its fields of living green, and running streams. These enjoyments are within the reach of all. Indeed, wherever a spot of grass or shrubbery, or green tree with its thick dress of leayes, greets our sight, we may gaze in wonder and joy, and partake of its freshness and galety. So that when summer with all its sights, and sounds is past and gone we may enter upon the new and less attractive scenes with the inward satisfaction that summer did not hasten by without imparting to us some of its pleasures and joys.—York True Democrat.

> Shade Trees.—The subject of shade trees for the road side, and the improvement of the appearance of farm houses and buildings, is of late years exciting much attention among farmers. Yet the desire for the decoration of their homes is nothing like as general as it should be. Farmers, as a class, are apt to fall into a dull, monotonous and plodding life. Like other men, they want variety in their business, which would have a tendency to make life pleasant and home happy. One of the best antidotes to the cares and trials of life, is to turn, the mind to home larged the first successfully.

and rural embellishments. One of the first steps in improvements is the planting of shade trees by the road for several days, but it is now vastly imside and around our houses. If every farmer and landholder could be induced to plant trees along the borders of their lands, the entire highway would soon become a delightful avenue. And how grateful would th labe to the travelerwhat an addition to his comfort!

Ho For The Crows I—The New York
State Circus has gained an enviable notoriety in New York City. During the summer seasons it makes brief excursions into the rural districts. A portion of the season it has been traveling in Pennsylvania. It will exhibit in Carlisle, on Friday, the 18th of August giving two performances—one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. This company makes no gaudy tinsel street show, but they point to their exhibitions everywhere to prove that the performances will be all that is represented in the bills and advertisements. For the purpose of giving the public an opportunity of seeing the collection of horses together, they will parade the principal streets on the morning of the day of the exhibition; headed by a gorgeous dragon charlot, costing $8,000, followed by the equestrian artistes, mounted on gaily caparisoned steeds, the riders dressed in oriental costumes of exceeding richness and beauty, after which will come the magnificent wagons and vauss. The same attention to the requirements of refinement and good tasts which has characterized the entertainments of this trough ehrefore, and resulted in placing the New York State Circus among the most fashionable of popular resorts, will be fully maintained. Within and without the pavillion everything will be conducted with a strict regard to the rules of decorum and propriety. In short the proprietors claim that all that careful management, lavish and expenditure and untiring exertion can accomplish, will be done to maintain the reputation which the New York State Circus has fairly won—that of being the best circus in the world.
