Grants exceeds anything of the kind ever known in history. Not content with placing all his own and his wife's relatives in office, the President is now using government vessels and government money to give his hopeful son an airing in Europe. This trip of prince Frederick, son of Ulysees I. will cost, it is estimated, some $50,000 or $75,000. So we go.

Grant is the first President of the United States who has made it a point to quarter his family upon the treasury: He has sixty-eight relatives in office at present, all of them on fat salaries. His own relatives now draw from the and otherwise furthering his interests treasury in the shape of salaries three as a candidate. The following particuhundred and thirty one thousand dollars lors are given: a year, and now we have in addition the travelling expenses of Lieut. Grant to meet-some $75,000 more. What a God-send was it to Grant that he, the poor incompetent, was elected President. From a pauper he became a millionaire in a few months, and his relatives-all of whom were poorshore the same good fortune. Millions of better men than ever Grant was have to labor for their daily bread.

GRANT seems determined to give to satisfactory to some of the aldermen, every State a Republican form of Gov- and they refused to obey the order of ernment, according to his interpretation of the Constitution. Some States apparently strive to defeat these good intentions; for some of them will, despite all his exertions to the contrary, go Democratic, and the more he wins to give up to the proper authoities. It them back the more stiff necked they is now alleged that this money is being used by Holden to secure his election become. But shoddy-and-shellac patriots may sweetly sleep, assured that as Mayor, and very damaging evidence nothing in the power of the Federal government will be left undone by him to isure his re-election.
