The removal of the powder magazine in Philadelphia from its present location is a subject demanding prompt attention. It is nearly contiguous to the city gas works, coal oil refineries, the new League Island navy yard, many manufacturing establishments and dwelling houses; and consequently an explosion of the powder in the magazine might result in great loss of life and destruction of property. The magazine | the term of sentence." should be in some more isolated district.

PUBLIC CHARITIES. You will, in dne time, receive a full report of the transactions of the Board of Public Charities during the past year. The usefulness of the board will be shown by the facts to be presented .-Several suggestions as to the improve ment of its organization and management will be made in the report, to which your attention is invited. Its importance to the cause of humanity and the interests of the Commonwealth' is generally acknowledged.

IN MEMORIAM, During the last few years it has been my melancholy duty to chronicle the death of a number of eminent citizens, who had either heretofore been, or were at the time connected officially, with the Commonwealth, and at the present time I would do injustice to my own feelings, were I to omit to notice the fact, that three noble and patriotic sons of Pennsylvania, whom its people had lately honored with their confidence, have terminated their earthly career within a brief period.

Hon. George Connell, member of the State Senate from the fourth Senatorial district, died in Philadelphia on the 26th of last October, aged fifty six years. A brief tribute to his many virtues and excellencies is due to him as a faithful public servant. During the early part of his life he was engaged in merchandising, afterwards in real estate and law business, and subsequently, from 1859, a period of twelve years, was a member of the State Senate, during several years of which time he was chairman of the Committee on Finance. He was thoroughly conversant with the financial affairs of the State, an eloquent and courteous debater, a wise counselor, and an able parliamentarian. He was elected by a majority of over seven thousand votes in October last to his fifth term. His death leaves a vacancy in the Senate, and will cause a void in the political and social circles of the State that will not easily be filled. His faithful and valuable services will long

Hon. David Stanton, Auditor General elect, departed this life under distressing circumstances, at New Brighton, Beaver county, on the fifth of November last, aged forty two years.-He was a physician, having graduated at the Cleveland Medical College, and at the University of Pennsylvania .-During the late war he was professionally engaged in several branches of the army, viz: Surgeon of the First Pennsylvania Cavalry, Surgeon of United States Volunteers, Superintendent of Hospitals, Medical Director of the Northern department, and at the close of the war was brevetted Lieutenant Col. and Colonel. He continued actively engaged in his profession until the time of his death. He was a scholarly, refined and thorough gentleman; kind in his deportment and eminently skilled in his profession. His departure is the more deeply lamented, as he had just of such a bureau would be insignificant The system works well—shuts up shop become the peoples' choice for another and more extended field of honor and usefulness.

J. W. Dickerson, Esq., of Bedford, departed this life on the 26th December last. He had distinguished himself as a successful teacher of our common schools, and as County Superintendent. Within the past few years he studied law, and was admitted to the bar. He promise of future usefulness, and was elected, last October, a member of the House of Representatives from the district composed of the counties of Bedford and Fulton.

PARDONS. Among the most embarrassing and responsible duties required of the Executive is the exercise of the pardoning power. There is scarcely a petition for pardon made, upon which strong conflicting interests and opinions are not brought to bear all of which must receive close and unprejudiced scrutiny in order that mercy and justice may alike be satisfied. This demands much time and no small amount of patience. The pleadings of relatives, friends and humanitarians must be heard and duly considered on the one hand, and on the other the action and decision of the courts, and in many cases the earnest protests of either sincere or malicious prosecutors. And after his decision is fairly given in favor of an unfortunate convict, the Executive must, in almost every case, be prepared to encounter acrimonious criticism from parties who have never given the subject one moment's consideration.

During the past year the applications for pardons numbered one thousand aud twenty three. Of these, sixty were granted, less than six per cent. of the entire number, being about one to every sixty thousand inhabitants of the State, and far below the average in any State, in proportion to the population, industry. in which committees are appointed to exercise this power. Accompanying this message will be found a pardon report in conformity with a plan adopted the first year of my administration. These reports are made for the purpose o showing that no secrecy adheres to the exercise of the prerogative in question and to inform the Legislature and the people, every one of whom has an interest in the subject, what reasons have been adduced for the liberation of persons convicted of crime, and what personal influences have been employed for the accomplishment of that object.

COMMUTATIONS OF IMPRISONMENT. The act approved May 21, 1869, authorizing commutations upon the terms of prisoners convicted of crime, has produced a decidedly salutary effect. The discipline of the prisons is reported as being greatly improved by the voluntary good conduct of all desirous of avail ing themselves of the merciful provisions of the law!; and reformatory influences have been manifest in many cases by the good behavior of those who have been the fortunate recipients of its bene- of the subjects then discussed, and fits. The improved habits of prisoners others that have since been brought during their confinement have gone prominently before the public, I deem with them into private life, and the wis. it unnecessary to occupy your time dom of the Legislature in passing the law has thus been signally confirmed. In accordance with the act referred to, commendable conduct on the part of a risoner, such as will merit and receive a favorable certificate from the warden of a prison, with the approval of its oard of inspectors, secures the following deductions from the terms of sentence, viz: 300(3)

"One month on each of the first two years : two months on each succeeding year to the fifth year; three months on each following year to the tenth; and four months on each remaining year: of

The number of convicts directed to be discharged, under this act, before their terms of sentence had expired, from the State penitentiaries and county prisons. during the past year, amounts to five hundred and fifty-three, and it is a gratifying fact that thus far I have not heard of any one of them returning to habits of

GENERAL REMARKS. Herewith is submitted a communicaion from the President of the United States, in regard to the twenty-seventh article of the treaty concluded in Washington on the eight day of May last, between the United States and Great Britain. A re-survey of all the geological and mineralogical resources of the State has on several former occasions been recommended. The subject is again commended to your consideration. The report of Col. James Worrell, Fish Commissioner, will be laid before you; from which it will be seen that although the work assigned him is progressing slowly, it is surely accomplishing the desired results.

In previous messages legislative attention has been called to sundry subjects upon which no action has been taken. Among the most important of these are the creation of an insurance department, the protection and multiplication of our fisheries, and the establishment of a bureau of statistics. With regard to the latter, it is important that the for fun. Children are born in the boats, resources of the State should be more thoroughly ascertained and understood than they are at present. The extent and value of our oil, salt, coal and iron fields are unknown, and there is no reliable information to be obtained from any one source concerning the amount of these great staples, and the value of their annual production. The same may be said of all our productions, whether they result from mining, manufactures, agricultures or commerce. There should also be recorded in this proposed bureau all such facts and statistics as are accessible, concerning the condition, wages and treatment of all classes of our working people.-Facts on all these and other subjects relative to the business and productions of the State should be collected and properly recorded by an officer appointed for that purpose, and who would not only keep them easily accessible to all persons desirous of using them, but publish them annually for when compared with the advantages to be derived therefrom. The obnoxious doctrine of free-trade is again raising its hydra-head with a view to destroy, as far as possible, some of the most important interests of the State and nation; but it is hoped and expected that our Senators and Representatives in Congress will interpose in solid phalanx between its advocates was a young man of ability and much and the accomplishment of their de-

> My opinions, heretofore so fully and freely expressed in relation to a tariff protective of our products and manufactures, and especially upon salt, coal, iron and steel, remain not only unchanged, but are greatly strengthed by reflection and observation. Any attempt to reduce the protection now afforded cannot but be regarded as an effort to benefit foreign interests at the expense of our Home Industries, and to place our toilers on a par with the Ill-paid labor of foreign countries, which must eventuate in the destruction of the very influences which have, since the war, made us so prosperous a people, and laid the foundation of such great individual and national wealth. The available teachings of experience on this important subject should not be unheeded, and legislation on it should be for the welfare of the people and the nation. It should unhesitatingly protect American labor, maintain its compensation, hold out inducements to capitalists for investment, give the producer a home market, and afford the amplest opportunity for the development of the unbounded resources of the country, and not for the benefit of those who are industriously endeavoring to lure our capitalists to financial ruin, and bring about the impoverishment of our mechanics and citizens who are now prosperously engaged in all branches of trade and

> An "International Congress on the Prevention and Repression of Crime, including Penal and Reformatory Treatment," has been appointed to be held in London, on the 3rd of July, 1872. By resolution of Congress, E. C. Wines, LL. D., has peen chosen Commissioner of the United States. The philanthropic objects and beneficial results contemplated are too numerous to be here set forth. The accompany-ing documents will furnish all necessary information. Commissioners from nearly every civilized nation are expected to be present and a number of our own States will, doubtless, be represented. It is suggested, very properly, that the Legislature of Pennsylvania authorize the appointment of one or more commissioners to represent the State in this important Congress. Upon all national questions the views then entertained and advanced in my last annual message remain unchanged.

with any especial remarks on the affairs of the nation.

I conclude with a sincere and earnest desire that your session may be characterized by universal kindess and gene-rosity, while on my part I will be leased to give a cordial concurrence in every measure calculated to advance the interests of our common constituents and the general prosperity of the

JNO. W. GEARY.
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER:
Harrisourg January 3, 1872.

A FEW days ago Mr. Bergh visited Barnums show, now exhibiting on Third avenue, and requested that a hyena, well known by all Mr. Barnum's employes to be the most feroclous animal in the menagerie, whose violousness, he was told was beyond a doubt, should be unchained and allowed to roam its den. The agent reluctantly ordered this demand to be reludantly ordered this demand to be carried out, although in his own mind he felt confident that the bars of the cage would not keep the "death prowler". a prisoner. A few evenlage since his doubts were verified, for the hyona, by some means escaped from his den and immediately, commenced to attack and devour everything that came in its way. A leopard was in the adjoining cage, and with one desperate effort, the hyena tore down the partition and soon engaged in a terrible and deadly conflict with the queen of the felines. After Incerating and cowing the poor animal, he next attacked an elephant, who proved a rather tough customer for the savage beast, who the banks in the Commonwealth are was beaten off without doing any serious harm. Nothing daunted, it next attacked an inoffensive camel, which animal it left in such a deplorable condition that it has since had to be killed. After a desperate and determined resistance the beast was captured with a lasso by a Digger Indian, and is now chained down in his den. The lacerated leopard alluded to is valued at $6,000. The hyena is sixty-five years old, was captured in Senegambia, Africa, and was exhibited in Europe for twenty years. It belonged to the London Zoological Gardens for ten years, and has been exhibited in this ountry in a traveling menagerie for thirty-five years, during which time it has destroyed more than two dozen massive iron den, and killed twenty valuable nimals. Except the brute be tethered, nothing less than a solld iron cage can hold him, as he has the largest and most powerful jaws of the canine species.

Hon. James Brooks writes to the New York Express, that—Canton is the happlest looking city I have seen in China, and everywhere the people seem ready and live all their lives in the boats, and the mother of them often rows or sculs with a child strapped on her back. Upon some of these children are tled bamboo floats, so that if the darling tumbles overboard it is easily fished up again .-Then there are grand boat restaurants where parties go as to Delmonico's feasts; free from the dead air of the narrow streets, and enjoying the free air of the river. At night the river is gayer than the city, for the gates of the city-gates by the scores within the great wall gates of the city-obstruct all night locomotion, while the river is open and free. I loved to revel in a house-boat at night. breathe the good air, hear the squeaking guitar or barp of the Chinaman, see his fire-crackers, peep into his restaurants, hear the babies squall and mothers and fathers snore. Canton city is divided by ts streets into hundreds of compartments at night, and lu or over each compartment is a gate, closed at night. For order and peace every little community within these gates is responsible to the at dark, sends people to bed early, thus prepares them to rise early, stops all night gadding, all theatre going, all solees and evening parties, all courting and billing and cooling, brings home husband early and keeps him from straying at night. There is a river police, which ruises about the river at night and bangs.
