FIRE .- A fire broke out in the village of New Cumberland, on the night of the 21st inst., by which the large coach facory of Theodore Willett, together with several spring wagons, carriages, lumber and tools were en tirely consumed. One f two causes for the conflagration is assigned, either that it originated from a stove or fallure to carefully extinguish the lights. The hands left the factory at late hour the previous evening.

THE CROPS -Quite a diversity of opinon appears to prevail in relation to the prospects of the growing wheat and rye throughout the country. Some agriculturists say that the crops this winter, thus far, have sustained considerable lamage. The cold weather, in the abence of snow, in addition to pleasant unshine causing the frozen ground to thaw in day-time, has frozen out much of the forthcoming crop, while others contend that the grain is not materially injured. It is probably too early in the season to form a correct opinion as to the prospects of the crops, but we hope with fair weather and timely rains to have an abundant yield of both wheat and rye

DEATH OF MRS. ASTOR .- Mrs. Margaret R. Astor, wife of Wm. B. Astor, Esq., of New York, died recently, at the age of seventy-three years. It may not be uninteresting to our readers to know that Mrs. Astor was closely allied to one of the oldest families of Carlisle. Her grand-father, Gen. John Armstrong, settled here at a very early period, and being a surveyor, assisted in laying out the town in 1751, Cumberland county, at that time, was the outpost of civilization, west and north, and a constant warfare was kept up between the settlers and roving bands of hostile Indians. In protecting the inhabitants from these savage incursions, Gen. Armstrong bore a prominent part; he became a Mejor General during the revolutionary war, and died here at the close of the last century. The oldest son of the General was phere surcharged with malaria. Delay Dr. James Armstrong, for many years one of Carlisle's most eminent physicians; the second sou, Major John Armstrong, the father of Mrs. Astor, was also an officer of the revolution, and Secretary of War during Madison's administration. Mrs. Astor enjoyed the reputation of being the wife of the wealthlest rean in the country. Whether her charities were commensurate with her ample means, we are unable to eay, but it is to be hoped,

LICENSES.-George C. Shaeffer, Esq. Clerk of the Court of Quarter Session, is at present busily engaged in preparing netitions for those of our citizens in town and country who intend making application at the April court for tavern and restaurant licenses. All applications should be made by the 7th proximo, as the list will be published on the 14th of March. The following are the principal requirements of the general license law of the State, the publication of which may be of use to persons engaged in the hotel or restaurant business: Every person applying for liscense t keep a hotel, inn or tavern, or eating house, shall file a petition with a certificate signed by at least twelve reputable of the ward, borough or township in which such tavern is proposed to be kept, setting forth that the same is nec-essary to accommodate the public and enteriain strangers or travelers, and that such person is of good repute for honesty and temperance, and is well provided with house room and conveniences for the accommodation of strangers and travelers.

No person shall be licensed to keep a hotel or tavern in any city or country town which shall not have for the exclusive use of travelers, at least four bed rooms and eight beds, nor in any other travelers. part of the country, without at least two Persons before receiving license shall give bonds conditioned for the faithful observance of all the laws relating to the business of the obligor and a warrant of attorney to confess judgment—the dis-trict attorney to enter judgment and in-stitute suit thereon whenever the obligor violates his bond.

No court shall license any inn or tav-ern which shall not be necessary to accommodate the public and entertain strangers and travelers.

House Hunting,-This is the seaso of house hunting, and persons who are desirous of changing their location are now busily engaged in that interesting pursuit. It is evident that there are more houses in the market here than required by tenants, as " to-lets" are very numerous throughout the borough. During the past summer quite a number of small tenant houses were put up in different parts of the borough, particularly in the suburbs, and of course this will lessen the demand for houses and should have the effect of reducing the rates of rent. At no time in the history of the borough has there been a more general desire and endeavor on the part of the mechanic and laboring man, to occupy each his own home. In other towns Building and Loan Associations have done and are doing much to aid the endeavors of their citizens in obtaining homes of their own, thus encourageing home industry and enterprise. Carlisle, has also a loan association, but as we hear nothing of its operations, we cannot speak knowingly s to its usefulness as a local institution

THE SICKNESS AT HARRISBURG - W. learn that a report has been prepared. showing the cause of the extended sickness at Harrisburg. It has been ascer tained that the drinking water to supply the people, instead of being drawn from a pipe designed for the purpose, which projects about two hundred feet into the river, has been taken from the shallow edge of the stream, just below a point where three sewers empty into it. For a long time prior to the 10th inst., therefore, the people were furnished with sewer water for drinking purposes. This has now been remedied, and since the water consumed by the city has been drawn exclusively through the pipe extending into the river sickness has been on a gratifying decline, especially diarrho. The physicians do not hesitate to say, that if the evil had occurred during the summer months, Harrisburg would swine before and after they drop, their STANDS ON LEASES -As the time for the renewal of leases, and of the execution of new agreements between landlords and tenants is near at hand, the decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, as to whether the provision of law imposing a stamp duty on leases should be enforced in regard to stamping dublicate copies, usually furnished the lessee, is not only interesting but important to all. He decides that when an instrument is executed and in duplicate, triplicate, etc., as in the case of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original. When parties mark executed duplicates or counterparts "copies," it does not make them mere copies, or relieve them from duty as originals.

LECTURE. To Oregon and Back Again."-Our readers will be glad to learn that Rev. G. F. Stelling, pastor of the First English Lutheran church of Harrisburg, is to deliver his able and interesting lecture on the above subject, in Rneem's Hall, this (Thursday) evening, for the benefit of the Carlisle Brass Band. A few weeks ago Mr. S. delivered this ecture at Harrisburg, and so well were the people pleased with it, that hundreds of the most prominent men of the town joined in a request for him to repeat it. His second sudience was even larger than his first; indeed the house was crowded. We hope, then, to see a large and appreciative audience this evening, for we doubt not this lecture will afford a rich intellectual treat to all who hear it. Tickets can be had of any ember of the band.

The Magazines.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.—The March numbes of this sterling old monthly is at hand, and is embellished with an excellent portrait, on steel, of Herbert Spencer. the celebrated English philosopher. In this number is begun "The Strange Adventures of a Phaeton," which will run through the year, and which promises to be one of the most brilliant and powerfu stories recently published. It is by William Black, whose previous novels have arned for him an enviable reputation in America as well as England. There s a singular fascination about these opening chapters which is not usually found at the portals of a story. The leading article of the number is fine essay on "Mahomet," giving the results of the latest researches into his history, and written in a more popular and intelligible style than has usually been employed on this theme: next comes "The Lorly Life of Charles Dickens;" For Cabbage, Turnips, Potatoes, Beets, Pickles and among the other articles are Strange News about the Solar Prominences: "Na tional Debts and National Prosperity;" "The Taiking Animal," a very curious essay; "Quaint Customs in Kwei-Chow; George MacDonald; Spain: Her Manuer. and amusements: The Haunted Enghen io; and Matrimonial Curlosities." The departments of Literary Notices, Science. Art, and Varieties, are very full and interesting; and there is a fine poem by

Dante Gabriel Rosetti.

THE LADY'S FRIEND FOR MARCH. The Steel Plate in this number is charming-a bright, sweet face, "The Tambourine Girl." There is a handsome Color ed Fashioned Plate, and a pleasunt family group singing "The Evening Hymu." Music-We'd Better Bide a Wee." The Illustrations of fashions look stylish, and there are patterns of fancy work in variety. The literary matter keeps up the high reputation of this magazine. There is a very good story by Mary L. Bolles Branch (August Bell,) and one by Miss F. Hodgson, quietly told, but of remarkable merit; Mrs. Hosmer's "Mission Work" is satisfactorily concluded. 'Queen Coquetta' continues to be a fascinating serial, and Mrs. Wood's nove grows exceedingly interesting. Price $2,00 a year. Four copies, $6. Eight copies (and one gratis), $12. "The Lady's Friend" and "Saturday Evening Post," $4. Published by Deacon & Pe terson, Philadelphia. Single copies for sale by all News Dealers, and by the Publishers, price 20 cents. OLD predjudices are dying out. New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids weakened by disease can be relleved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of Dr. Walker's Vinegar BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties re all sufficient for the cure of chronic are all sufficient of the date of children in digestion, rheumatism, constitution, diarrhoea, nervous affections, and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union.
