thistle, field garlic, &c. Notwithstanding the fact that Americans are proverbial for their readiness to reciprocate favors, it is show that we have not made a very large return for the hosts of noxious insects and weeds with which we have been so abundant ly favored by our transatlantic brethren. Very few American insects have become naturalized in Europe. The American pea bug is found in some parts of France and England, but not to an injurious extent. The only two American weeds that have become so firmly established in Europe as to be a positive nuisance, is a common aquatic plant (Anarcharis canadensis), which has so multiplied its growth there as to completely choke up many of the English canals, and the Americau horse weed, or mare's tail, which has spread nearly over the entire world.

These facts would seem to demonstrate conclusively that American plants and insects do not become naturalized as readily in the Old World as the insects and plants of the Old World do with us. So far as noxious insects and weeds are concerned, this is nothing to boast of to be sure, but that does not remove the fact. Perhaps, if the subject were more closely investigated, the results would show that the great increase and spread of these animal and vegetable pests in America is due mainly to the fact that our farmers and fruit growers have not been as careful to eradicate them as those of Europe.

Partridges Insectiverous.

There was a meeting of horticulturists held some time since in Illinois, at which the question of preserving partridges upon our farms and in our gardens to destroy insects and vermin generally was presented and facts given to show that they are very destructive during the growing seasons of the enemies of our plants, flowers, fruit and grain. One speaker said that in view of these services the partridge ought to be protected against the hunter, the farmer and his boys-that no bird is more harmless and none more useful. and to shoot or trap it for stewing, broiling or making pot-pies, was very much to be deplored and should be prevented if possible-and that it was only bird that remained with u through the winter, after being deserted by all others. But this is easier said than done. Human nature, we are a little apprehensive, will need a trifle | Stoves and Tinware of change before this partridge millenium will arrive.

To show, however, how useful this beautiful and harmless domestic bird is, it was at the same time stated that a flock of partridges was seen running along the rows of corn just sprouting, and seeing them engaged at something which was believed to be pulling up the young plants, one of them was killed and its "crop" examined, which was found to contain one cutworm, 21 striped bugs, and over 100 chinch-bugs. ed bugs, and over 100 chinch-bugs.

Another related that he had adopted measures to protect the bird, and that they had become so numerous and so tame that hundreds of them, after snowfalls, could be seen in his barnyard with the fowls where they were fed .--As a result of their presence upon his premises, his wheat crops were unusually abundant, while in many other places not far off, the chinch-bug and other insects had destroyed half the

This suggestion is worthy the consideration of farmers, and if practicable it ought to be adopted.

THE London Lancet, which is author ity on such subject, gives the following unique cure for hone felons: As soon as the disease is felt, put directly over the spot a fly blister about the size of your thumb nail, and let it remain for six hours, at the expiration of which time. directly under the surface of the blister, can be seen the cone or nucleus of the felon which can be instantly taken out with the point of a needle or a lan-

It is not generally known that the knowledge which learned men possess in regard to the surface of the moon-its mountains, valleys, plains, lava-seas, and the distances from point to point -is probably more accurate than the knowledge of the best geographers as to the physical features of the earth on which we live.

We offer to Farmers for the coming sesson he following well-known and popular Farming mplements, along with other articles needed wall farmers:

THE SPRAGUE MOWER, which is now generally admitted to be the implest, most complete and efficient single Mowing Machine in the country. We sold several of these Mowers last season and they save perfect satisfaction. Price, $100. THE NOVELTY HAY RAKE, worked either by hand or on the self-acting principle. The reputation of this Rake is well stablished. Every farmer who is not aiready supplied, should buy a Noveity Hay Rake. THE ORIGINAL AND IMPROVED

HARPOON HAY FORK, with improved Grappie, Pulley, &c. This flat Fork, in connection with the grappie and ley, is undoubtedly one of the most complete machines in the market for handling hay.

THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY THRESHER AND SEPARATOR. THRESHER AND SEPARATOR.
The improvements we have made in the construction of this Thresher since last season; warrant us in offering it to farmers as one of the best machines in the market. With the Horse Fower which goes with this machines four horses are calculated to do the work, where six and eight are required in many ether machines. Compared with others, the price is so low that every thrifty farmer may readily become the owner for himself of a Cumberland Valley Thresher and Separator for permanent use on his barn floor. Farmers would do well to call and examine it. THE CARLISLE CIDER MILL, made at our establishment, has won the highest recommendations from all who have used it. it both grinds and crushes the apples. It there-fore requires lighter pressure and produces the largest quantity of clder from the amount of apples put in. The WILLOUGHBY Patent GUM SPRING GRAIN DRILL
