Concert and other entertainments, and, for aught we know, prayer meetings, are entered at unreaonable hours-crowding bed time pretty closely-and all because it isn't polite to go early, we suppose or else that some people delight in showing off their new clothes. It is a miserable habit, and we wish somebody would take hold and "bust" it. SATURN.-The planet Saturn, being now favorably situated for observation, is watched with the greatest interest on account of the recently discovered fact that the inner dusky of semi-transparent ring has disappeared. Saturn always been one of the most interesting planets to astronomers. When first discovered it was thought to consist of three bodies, the largest being considered the centre of a system; but in 1655 Huyghens made the announcement that the planet 'is surrounded by a thin, flat ring, no where attached to its surface." Then came the discovery that the ring was double, and finally Sir Wm. Herschell discovered the satellites "like pearls strung on a silver thread;" and in 1852 the transparent ring, now invisible, was nade out. This remarkable series of the planet from the earth, has suggested for Saturn the title, "the marvel of marfvelous heavens." ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY,-Late on Sunday night, (says the Harris burg Patriot,) an attempt was made to rob W. H. Weaver on the old section of the Harrisburg bridge, while he was driving over it with a horse and carriage. As he approached the "cattle gate," which had been closed, a short distance from the Cumberland end, Mr. Weaver was asked to hand over his money, watch and chain to a footpad. This request was declined, and the refusal to deliver had scarcely been determined on before Mr. Weaver jumped from the vehicle and grappled the prowler. He soon got the advantage of him, and made him beg for mercy. Fearing that the footpad might have an associate near, Mr. Weaver hurriedly drove to this city, and communicated his experience to Thompson Myers, night-watchman. The two went back to where the encounter took place, but the scoundrel was not to be found.

DEATH AND FIRE BY LIGHTNING, On Monday afternoon of last week the barn belonging to Dan. Billman in Spring twp., near Bridgeport; was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed by fire. Another son was in the basement of the building at the time putting away the horses, and he hearing the stroke came up and dragged his brother away from the fire, and sucseeded in getting out some of the vehicles that were in the barn. All of Mr. B.'s crop of grain and a quantity of hay with many farming implements were destroyed. The horses were turned out in time to save them, so that no stock was burned except two calves. There

PACKER'S PATENT ICE CREAM FREEZERS.—Being particularly partial to good Ice Cream, we recently ordered and received by Express, one of C. W. Packer's celebrated Ice Cream Freezers, patented in 1860 1867. Mr. P. manufac tures all sizes, from two to fifteen quarts, at the following prices-2 quasts freezer, $3.50; 3 quarts, $4.50; 4 quarts, $5.50; 6 quarts, $7.000; 3 quarts, $9.00; 10 quarts, $12.00; 15 quarts, 15.00. These Freezers have been in use since 1860,, with the most flattering results, and they are sold by all the leading hardware and grocery houses in the country. The Fredzer is very easy to work, indeed a child can work it; it is constructed with geared wheels, with crank on the side, its dasher scraping and beating all the time so thoroughly, that no one can fail to make ice cream remarkable for its smoothness and lightness. It is a wonderful labor-saver, and freezes Cream, Fruits or Water Ices beautifully in a few minutes. Besides, it is strong, durable

THE RIGHT OF STUDENTS TO VOTE. The Supreme Court has recently rendered an important decision on the right from Allentown, and involved the quesion whether the students of Muhlenberg college had the right to vote. Although the case grew out of a municipal election the decision of the Supreme Court is based on general principles as to the resdence, and applies equally to State and National elections. The Supreme Court

1. The question turns wholly upon their residence, the students being otherwise duly qualified voters. The residence required in section 1, article 3, of the State constitution means home, fixed abode, domicile of the elector, as distinguished from a place of temporary soourning.

2. The students of the college having come to Allentown "for no other purpose than to receive a collegiate education," and intending to leave after graduating, and intending to leave after graduating, it is evident that the college was not their true home in the sense intended by the constitution, and that therefore they had no right to vote in Allentown.

3. The fact that some of the students support themselves, and "have left the home of their parents, and never intend to return and make it a permanent abode," does not after the case, as they came to Allentown for no other perpose than to receive a collegiate education.—They have still a domicile in the place where their home is, and until they leave it voluntarily and actually obtain another their domicile continues there.

cnows that his sufferings during the heated term," which, let us hope, is now at an end, were not measured by degrees of Fahrenheit or centigrade most of our readers have probably been amazed, not to say indignant, to find that on some days of exceptional sweltering the thermometer indicated a comparatively low temperature, whilst their inner consciousness suggested something near the boiling point. In fact, our sensations of heat depend liscoveries, considering the distance of much less on the actual temperature atmosphere of the than on its condition to dryness or moisture. In dry air a cooling process is constantly going on in the evaporation of the perspiration; but when the air is already, saturated with moisture this evaporation no longer occurs, and under such circu mstences one will feel hotter with the thermometer at 85 degrees than on a dry day when it marks 100 degrees. They, therefore, who wish to learn on rising the probabl discomfort of the day should consult a hygrometer rather than a thermometer which too often only mocks their woe. which too often only mocks their woe. If there be as much vapor of water in the heated air as it can conveniently hold, then prepare for misery which nothing can alleviate, and shun all bodily exertion as little short of self slaughtor. If, on the other hand, the atmosphere be thirty and with ever so little moistured in it. then you may snan little moisture in it, then you may snap your fingers at the "aineties" and play impings of cricket, or base ball, or row boat races, or clamor and gesticulste like one-frantic, or do such other things as excitable people insist on doing in the broiling sun, and all with impusity if not with comfort. ity, if not with comfort.

PATRONIZE YOUR OWN TOWN. There is no necessity whatever for our citizens to go abroad for that which they can easily obtain at home. Dry goods, provisions, millenery, hardware, and household furnishing goods of every decription can be obtained at home upon as liberal terms as could be had elsewhere. Patronize then, the busis ness men among whom you reside: they deserve your patronage, for they substantially aid in building up and beautifying our town. Her merchants and business men have ungrudgingly used their means in extending their accommodations in catering for the public taste, and as the membership of every community is held together by the law of mutual independence, it is but fair and just to give the business men and merchants of your own locality the oreference.

A SAD FALLING OUT.-It is indeed a sad falling out when, after years of the closest intimacy, the hair parts company with the head. Fortunately the lamentable separation may be easily prevented and the twain more closely united than over by a timely and systematic use of Lyon's Kathairon, the most potent invigorant of the hair and promoter of its growth and beauty known to modern pharmacy.-It completely obviates the dry and parched condition of the roots of the hair, which is preliminary to it coming DRY VS. This is right, for we believe nowhere else are the ladies more beautiful, more accomplished and more beloved than here. But this debrence to the sex, we fear, is gradually leading them to disregard some of the common "little politenesses" due as much from them as from the "other side." The custom is becoming general-indeed, as for that, we may say i nasbeen general for some time pastthat when two three ladies promenade the streets they usually take up the entire pavement, and any one coming in the opposite direction is either run into thegutter or pinned against the wall intil they have passed. They rarely nanifest the least disposition to give a ingle inch, and the gentleman, we are pleased to note, are too polite to put on a frown or utter even the gentlest pro test. But we submit whether the latter duties will be abolished after the first have not some street rights which the "dear creatures" are bound to respect -that is, whether the law of politeness should not suggest to them that a little bit of consideration for the personal comfort and convenience of " miserable man" when compelled to walk the the streets is not due. We believe that in many cases the habit is the the result of mere thoughtlessness, and now that the matter is called to the attention of the ladies there will be a reform .-In the language of Hamlet, when instructing the players, "Oh, reform it to California and the Torritories; and passingers starting from Cartisle, on their way Westward, cannot do better than to take the Burlington Route.

This line has published a pamphlet called "How to go West," which contains much valuable information; a large correct map of the Great West which can be obtained free of charge ssing the General Passenger Agent E by addressing the General Pa & M. R. R., Burlington, Iowa.

& One-halt the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste and re-coil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harm-less, pleasant to take, and, more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress of gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for stomeghache, constination, fatulency, aroun for stomachache, constipation, flatulency, croup and worms. It contains neither minerels, morphine nor alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect phine nox alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever mot such unqualified endorsement by the physicians. Take no more bitter pills, nare the physicians. Take costs or slekening offs. The Castoria costs but 50 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. ItOSE & CO., 53 Broadway, New York.
