

LOCAL ITEMS.

SEVERAL heavy showers of rain fell in this vicinity last week. The street, around the Market-house, is now cleaned weekly.

THE Greason, at this place, will shortly be occupied by United States troops. Our school keepers have done a good business the present summer.

THE work on the First Presbyterian Church in this place, is rapidly approaching completion. The jail in this place is nearly empty of occupants.

THE Greason and Buckleaw Club meetings, held in Good Will hall, are well attended. SEVERAL valuable farms and other property changed hands during the present season.

A COLORED camp-meeting will be held near Bolling Springs, sometime this month. READ the extract from Senator Sumner's great speech in the first paper to-day's paper.

WE are prepared to print Greason and Brown notes, for clubs and others, at short notice. It is rumored that another circus will visit Carlisle shortly.

IT is anticipated that there will be a big crowd in attendance at our county fair, should the weather prove propitious. THE String Band, of which Prof. Widner is leader, serenaded a portion of our citizens on Wednesday night last.

A NUMBER of pavements in this borough are in a very bad condition. Now is the time to repair them, before the winter season sets in. CIDER barrels are in great demand in this county at present.

SEVERAL lots of fine porkers were weighed and sold at the Market-house last week. Maj. A. A. Line, was the principal purchaser. THE time for canning tomatoes and fruit is now at hand.

SEE election proclamation in another column. SEVERAL heavy showers of rain fell in this vicinity last week.

THE street, around the Market-house, is now cleaned weekly. THE Greason, at this place, will shortly be occupied by United States troops.

OUR school keepers have done a good business the present summer. THE work on the First Presbyterian Church in this place, is rapidly approaching completion.

THE jail in this place is nearly empty of occupants. THE Greason and Buckleaw Club meetings, held in Good Will hall, are well attended.

SEVERAL valuable farms and other property changed hands during the present season. A COLORED camp-meeting will be held near Bolling Springs, sometime this month.

READ the extract from Senator Sumner's great speech in the first paper to-day's paper. WE are prepared to print Greason and Brown notes, for clubs and others, at short notice.

It is rumored that another circus will visit Carlisle shortly. IT is anticipated that there will be a big crowd in attendance at our county fair.

THE String Band, of which Prof. Widner is leader, serenaded a portion of our citizens on Wednesday night last. A NUMBER of pavements in this borough are in a very bad condition.

Now is the time to repair them, before the winter season sets in. CIDER barrels are in great demand in this county at present.

SEVERAL lots of fine porkers were weighed and sold at the Market-house last week. Maj. A. A. Line, was the principal purchaser.

THE time for canning tomatoes and fruit is now at hand. Vegetables and fruit stored away for winter's use does not come amiss.

A LAD named George Leonard, residing at Eberly's Mills, this county, accidentally fell from a tree, one day last week, and broke his arm.

THESE of our friends who wish job work done for the approaching fall, should bring it in at once.

OUR Hivesmen drive quite an extensive business on Sunday last, running to and from camp-meeting, near Bolling Springs.

HON. CHARLES R. BUCKLEAW, next Governor of Pennsylvania, will address the citizens of Cumberland county this night, sometime during the present month.

WE learn it is the intention of Mr. E. N. Baugher, chairman of the county committee, to have a Greason and Buckleaw campaign club organized in every town and township in the county.

GREASON and BUCKLEAW meetings are now in progress in every section of our county. That's right, boys, keep the ball rolling, and let your motto be VICTORY!

At the Greason and Buckleaw club meeting on Saturday evening last, a motion was moved and carried, changing the time of meeting from Saturday to Friday evening.

JACK STARKS has just received at his store on Pomfret street, 800 lbs. of fine hams, several barrels of the fresh mackerel, 2000 crocks, all sizes, for butter, also the best assortment of glass jars that he was able to procure.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Charles Albert will deliver a brief sermon, on next Sabbath morning, in the Sabbath School room of the English Lutheran Church, at 11 o'clock.

THE school is requested to meet at 10 o'clock, in the school room. The exercises will be interspersed with singing by the school.

CROWDED OUT.—Nearly all our editorial matter prepared for to-day's paper has been crowded out by our advertising customers.

THE Life Insurance Law of Massachusetts, is recalled to our readers, and is acknowledged to afford the greatest security, and to be the best insurance law that exists in any State in the Union.

THE State exercises a most rigid supervision over all its companies. It requires a minimum return each year—verified by oath, including the distinctive number of each policy issued during the year.

THE State Insurance Commissioners are then required to calculate and certify to the public the amount of such policy, by a rule prescribed by statute.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.

A person aged thirty-five years, paying one year's premium, would be insured for the full amount named in the policy for two years and three days.

THE John Hancock Company, as authorized by the non-forfeiture law of the Commonwealth, is held responsible to the insured for the full amount of insurance, so long as there is any returnable value in the policy.