Canadian Independence. The Montreal Post says:

"As sure as the destiny of Canada points to an issue, so sure, if Canada remain united, will that issue be independence. It may be a question of years, but it is worth waiting for. It may be a question involving subordinacy to England for a time, but the direct tendency of that country's legislation is to train us for independent self government. We are at present too few in population, but its rapid increase will soon obviate that difficulty. We may be divided but only on social and local questions. We may full out by the way, but let no stranger intermedial with our quarrels; our fortune is in our hands—we may make or mar it, just as prudence folly may influence us; but let no fanatical speculation, no political stratagem, divide our unity of effort."

orose growth of hair, which is now from one to two inches in length, and growing very first. Yours, truly Hair Restorative—In our colomistoday will be found Prof. Wood's novertisement of the above article to which we call attention. What it has done, we have witnessed upon several of our acquaintances in St. Louis. Hair once gray met our view, black or brown, as the case might be, being the color of early, manhood; and as fine and glossy as sitk, and that without any other application than the Restorative—It that done this upon others, will it not do the same tor any of our renders whose "frusty pates" were once like the "truven locks" of Lochiel's warlike chief if they will try it? We think so.—Jacksonville Constitutionalist. Oribor 20.
