Bumorous,

THE BLESSINKS OF RAININK. The following stanzas were composed by a new poe during a recent thunder shower. It's very fuir for a be ng, we hope he will do better next time: How pleank 'tis to set inside, With somethink nice to read.

And watch the glumy cleaninks A doin' of its deeds. The frightened wimmin run along, Shart eeny most to deth-Lor! how they hold their dresses up,

And how I hold my breath. The leaves all got their faces washe And blessed torrinks fell, How happy is the feller now Who's got a number A numberill is an excellent thing When in the rain you're cought; Buit when it stops a rainink.

Why, it isn't good for much. The rain is a nother excelent thing, It wets the country round, And makes the beets and parsnip:

(lo poking up the ground. Lightoin's poorer stuff, and made Or bottles and of silk, And thunder's only infide to spile And sour the mornin's milk.

PADDY VS. JOHN BULL.

A travelling gentleman, looking for the house of an acquaintance in Dublin, inquired of a native born Irishman : "Who lives in that house over the way?

"Jonny O'Brien, to be sure," replied Patrick, "but he don't live there now, for he is dead, he is."

"Ah! how long has he been dead ?" "And, your honor, if he had lived till next Monday he would have been dead a fortnight." Our travelling friend pursued his walk and his inquiries, and seeing a very large funeral procession, he asked another native, whose funeral that was.

"Be gorrah, Sir," said Pat, with a most innocent look, "it's myself that cannot say for sartin, but I'm after thinkin, it's the man's in the coffin."

That is very well for Patrick, but the oth-cr is a real John Bull. An English barber in the season of the epidemic, remarked to one of his customers that there was "cholera in the hair."

"Then I hope you are careful about the brushes you use."

"'Oh," said the barber, "I don't mean the 'air of the 'ed, but the hair of the hatmosphere."

KEEN REJOINDER.

Mr. Buffum, of Lynn, Mass., was under cross examination by an attorney named Lord, who did his best to perplex and browbeat him so as to overset the testimony he had given against his client. The question was something relating to machinery, and Mr. Buffum had used the word "philosophieally" in his evidence. Mr. Lord continually harped upon this phrase, and endeavored to make the witness ridiculous in the eyes of the jury. At last he inquired. "Pray, Mr. Witness, as you seem to be r great philosopher, can you tell me what the consequence would be if the air should be exhaustel from a hogshead ?"

"Yes, sir," replied Mr. Buffum, "the head would fall in."

"Indeed, sir," pursued the counsel, "can OF RICH AND ELEGANT JEWELRY. you tell me, philosophically, why the head

THE ANT THAT FIGHTS ITSELF The insects, as I have often said, are ountless; swarm everywhere and everything. Their tenacity of life is most amusing. nve told you of the manner in which one half of a bull-dog ant fights the other, if cut in two. I saw an instance of it just now .--One giant cut one in two that was annoying him. The head immediately seized the body with its mandible, and the body began stinging away manfully at the head. The fight went on for half an hour without any diminished sign of life;-this is what they always do. Instead of dying as they ought to do, they set and light away for hours, it some of the other ants do not come and carry them or bury them we know not .- How-

It is purely veretable in its composition, and prepared ac-cording to the latest improvements in Pharmaceut ical Chemistry, by which we are able to separate the net-ive principles of medicines from their in suscous and buffy accompaniments, and present them in a more concentrated and reliable form than in a crude-state. More reliable, for in the crude state it is impossible to judge accurately of the properties of any medicines and often nauseous doses are swallowed without pro-ducing the desired effect. In this confection we have the active principles of themost effectual Vermifuges, free from their unpleasant tasis and odors, and more safe and certain in its effects. These Confections, while they are powerfully spe-cific sguinest worms, are mild and harmless in all other main Michicine Suce. Odd Feilow's Hall.
