THE PAIR OF EDUCATED MULES.

Dan Rice claims the origin and invention of this new species of quadruped performances. None be-fore him were succeeded in teaching a dumb beast the arts and requirements of Paulominnets, gymnas; and low comeduans. His great success in this branch of amusement has as usual induced a host of others to give eickly imitations of his performances. But their learned mules only too plainly beirny the origin and pedigree of their tutors, exhibiting on all occusions the Ass in a Lion's skin.
