M. At length we have authentic intelligence of Walker the fillibuster. The latest lelegraphic news leaves him in New Orleans, glorified; and we venture to say that the United States authorities dare not molest, or make him atraid. Cannot on area-of-freedom extension party be getten up to nominate him for the Presidency in 1860? As he has actually been driven from the soil of Nieuragua, that salubrious spot is now open to new lovers of liberty. Who will save it from the grasping hand of the tyrant? Who will build a school-house upon every hill, and cause its fertile valleys to teem with Anglo-Saxon freemen? Who will inaugurate the regeneration of the effete Spanish American THEOS? Where is Kinney? We have no doubt that any ambitious lifth-rate man, provided he lack all principle, and have eminent standing among the blackguard and handto-faouth offscourings of our cities, can find sympathizers and backers in abundance for any reckless scheme his Lrain may batch: provided always, that scheme he based upon the genuine fillibuster principle of "robbing ; Peter to pay Paul."

We think that the Central Americans will find more difficulty in disposing, among themselves, of their country, now they have got rid of Walker, than we of providing for that hero. As we have suggested, why should be not be our next President?
