penhaps intolerant people, where there is no society, churches or schools, where the price of land is high, and where the emigrant, after being used to the healtheat climate in the world, has to endure sickness and pain, and perhaps runs his health and that of his family. But here is a thriving settlement, having three towns, containing churches, schools, hotels, stores, saw mills, grist mills, and everything desired. There is a cash market at hand.— The lumber trade last year amounted to over two hundred million feet of lumber. In a short time, owing to the coal, it will become still more valuable, as a number of iron works and manufactories will soon be started; they are at present starting them extensively at Warren.
