We copy from a Baltimore paper the following description of an enormous furniture establishment, which may prove interesting to our readers. Mr. Mathiot's advertisement will be found in another column.

We had occasion a few days since to call at the furniture establishment of Mr. A. Mathiot, Nos. 29 and 31 North Gay street, between Fayette and Frederick, and in the course of a tour of inspection were both surprised and gratified at what we had never before dreamed of, and what probably few of our citizens know, that this is one of the largest furniture warehouses in the United States. We very much doubt if there is any similar establishment near as large, unless it is one where the workshops, show rooms &c., are all comprised in the same building, which is not the case with this.

Mr. Mathiot's warehouse possesses several other interesting and peculiar features, besides the space it occupies, which we will notice in their respective order in the course of our description. The building, or rather the two buildings, which are thrown together by the partition wall being removed, have a front of upwards of 40 feet on Gay street, and extend back 170 feet to Freder They are six stories high, and ick strect. devoted solely to show rooms, except three small apartments, which are used as a fin-

description The second floor, that on a level with Gay street, contains a great variety of furniture steads, sofus, rocking-chairs, wardrobes, ta bles, stands, &c., from the very finest scriptions to ordinary cherry or maple fur niture which the most economical house-keeper is almost compelled to possess.

A WORD FOR THE PURITANS.—One of the most quoted hits at the Puritans is the re-mark of Macaulay, that their opposition to bear-bating was "not on the ground that it, gave the bear pain, but because it gave the people pleasure." Now Mr. Macaulay (says Brown, who is not a Puritan, lsuppose you have judged correctly of the motive of the Puritans' hostillity to bear-bating, were the Puritans in the wrong?.
