> AFTER THE BATTLE .- It would bean utter dereliction of duty to our readers, of both parties, were we to permit the late election, happily over, praised be Providence, to pass without a word of gratulation for the victors, and a crumb of comfort, if possible, for the sufferers. Although individually we have never occupied that unenviable political seat, "on the fence," the Spy has traditionally ridden a-straddle, and during its career has seldom taken active part in politics. We have, wisely, we believe, eschewed partizanship since we came to the throne, and let the country be saved without lending the aid of our mighty pen. It has not been without a severe struggle that we have denied ourself the glorious privilege of reviling the enemy, enjoyed by political fcotemporaries, and we flatter ourself that the public has lost by the bottling up of an immense bolt-aggregation of the retail arti cle-of cheap thunder, which we would have gloried in letting off weekly, in small been pops, against Jones, Brown or Robinson. Ah! we feel that the Spy would have been very efficient in throwing mud. But out of respect for the feelings of "many friends' and "constant readers" we have preserved a noble independence, and now enjoy the reward,-clean hands, and a sleep untrou-bled by the ghosts of the defeated. "Thou canst not say I did it!" We scarcely know how to minister to the complacency of the jubilant " People" without treading on the throbbing corns of the "unterrified." We must acknowledge our entire submission to the will of the majority, however, and as the victory is in itself sufficient glory, we imagine an abstinence from spread eagle and display type on our part will not be deemed a lack of proper enthusiasm. Attest: Wn. F. LLOYD, Clerk. PLEASANT SOUNDS .- "MISS BETSY."-Some years ago there lived in Alabama a family named W--. They were poor, and lived in an humble cottage, but enjoyed all the blessings which naturally arose from the toil of their own hands, never envying or dreaming of the treasures of the rich, until fortune favored them in the death of a relative in Old Virginia, which brought them in possession of six or eight negroes. On to get, they bought a wagon and team, and started the boys to Old Virginny "to haul them ar niggers hum." They soon returned, and the family gave the darkies a hearty reception—somuch so that they surrendered their beds and chairs to them.

The good old lady of the house, whom they called Miss Betsy, was so delighted at her good fortune, that she remained awake during the first night after the arrival of "them ar niggers." At short intervals she would call out to one of the niggers:

"H-a-n-n-a-h! O, H-a-n-n-a-h!" "What do you want, Miss Betsey?" "Nuthing, Hannah! I just wanted to hear you call me Miss Belsey!"

A few days after, Hannah was washing at the spring, when Miss Betsey would go to Fast Line, the door and call out:

"O. H-a-n-n-a-h!" "What do you want, Miss Betsey?" "Nuthin', Hanner! I only wanted to hear you call me Miss Betsey from the spring!" How Two Wrongs Make a Right.—There To ALL wanting Farms, see advertisement of flan month Lands. [Aug. 24-3m] are certain "arguments," so called, that might, be easily controverted, if "the principle" were made "patent" (to use a hackneyed and not over-felicitous term) to the human understanding. A friend mentioned to us a case in point, up in old Saratoga, the other day. Some one had made the apothegmic remark: "Two wrongs don't make a right." "Sometimes they do," interposed a seedylooking bystander, with a down-east nasal twang; "they did me once."

"How was that?" asked his interlocutor: "it is agin the very natur' of things." "Can't help that; there was a fellow passed onto me once a one dollar bill, and it was a counterfeit. Wasn't that wrong?" "Certainly it was wrong, if he knew it to be a counterfeit."

"Wall, expect he did; I did, any way, when I passed it on to another chap. Neow, wasn't that wrong?" "Wrong!-of course, very wrong."

"Wal, it made me 'all right!" was the triumphant rejoinder.

"So two wrongs do make a right, some times!" The "argument" was ended by this precious illustration.

THE HOOSIER AND THE SALT PILE. - Some years ago, several travelers were in a stagecoach crossing the Alleghanies, and among the number was a hoosier and a preacher, the former a prominent cattle-raiser in Indiana. The conversation was general, and the preacher commenced a little chat with an old gentleman of the party.

"I've just heard of a gentleman," said the preacher, "that's been to the Holy Land, and went over the Bible country. It's astonishin' what wonderful things he has seen. He was at Sodom and Gomorrah, and seen the place whar' Lot's wife fell. Ah!" says the preacher, "he went to the very spot; and an old gentleman of the party.

A LEGAL POINT .- A few mornings since one of our lawyers was startled from his dreams of rich clients and fat fees by a loud knocking at his office door. He opened the door, when "a gentleman of Africa," commonly known as Mariposa Jack, stood before him.

"Look here, Judge," said he, "I want your 'pinion on a law pint.''

"Well, go on." "S'pose a man brings some eggs to town and hires anoder nigger to sell 'em, an' dat nigger can't do it and he gibs 'em to me an' I lose de money, kin he do any ting wid

The learned counsel, putting on his wisest look, informed him that he knew of no law to punish him.

"Yah, yah!" chuckled Jack, "I know'd he could'nt, in de fust place-kase de-kase -de eggs was rotten any how. Judge, when duz you want your boots blacked?"

The Annapolis Gazette tells the fol lowing story of a citizen of that place: A person better known for his wealth than for his liberality, was requested to aid in the erection of a church. The subscription book was placed in his hands. He looked at it anxiously and carnestly, and handed the strength of the niggers they were going it back with the astonishing remark: "No sir! I will not give anything; not half as many people go to hell now as ought to go.'

Gentlemen.—The close attention which our own affairs have required since the fire, has hitherto prevented us from writing you about the Safe.

On occasion of the fire 19th of July, by which we suffered a large lose, our store, with a number of other buildings, was consumed. The Safe, of your manufacture, which we had in the store, was exposed to a most intense heat, as is well attested by the effects on its strong iron frame, which from its flaced and scally appearance, looks as though it had been heated for a long time in a furnace. The Safe, with heaps of molice glass and kegs of units, fused into an mass, fell into the cellar, surrounded by burning materials, and there was suffered to remain, (as the contents had been removed before the fire reached us,) until the 2d of August, 14 days afterwards.

The difficulty in centing it open with the best tools that could be procured, convinced us of its power to resist the attempts of burghars, and when it was opened, we found the interior, to the attorishment of ull, entirely unique d by fire.

This test has so fully convinced us of the capabilities of your Safes, that we would not part with the one we have more for a large sum-were we debarred the privilege of getting another. Respectively yours.
