Dickens, will convey an idea of the character and aims of the work: ADDRESS. Nine years of Hauschold Words are the best assurance that can be offered to the public of the spirit and objects of "All the Year Round." In transferring myself, and my strongest energies, from the publication that is about to be discontinued, to the publication that is about to be begun, I have the happiness of taking with me that staff of writers with whom I have labored, and all the literary and business co-operation that can make my work a pleasure. In some important respects, I am now free greatly to selvance on past arrangements. Those I leave to testity for themselves in due course. That fusion of the graces of the imagination with the realities of life, which is vital to the welfare of any community, and for which I have striven from week to week as honestly as I could during the last nine years, will continue to be striven for, "all the year round." The old weekly cares and duties become things of the Past, merely so be assumed, with an increased love for them and brighter hopes springing out of them, in the Present and the

I look, and plan, for a very much wider circle of readers, and yet again for a steadily ex-panding circle of readers in the projects I hope to carry through "all the year round." And I to carry inrough "ant the year round." And the leed confident that this expectation will be realized, if it deserves realization.

The task of my new journal is set, and it will steadily try to work the task out. Its pages shall show to good purpose their motto is remembered in them, and with how much of fidelity and earnestness they tell The Story of our Lives from Year to Year. CHARLES DICKENS.

Books from the Spring Trade Sale AT CHEAP BOOK STORE. RARE opportunity for those in want of Good Books at a small cost.

Never have Books sold cheaper than at the recent Philadelphia Spring Sale.

The proprietor of the Cheap Book Store has evailed himself of the opportunity to purchase a large stock of the most varied assurtment of valuable books of every class and description. He now offers to the public the surse, at proportionably and unusually low tales.

Those in want of valuable standard works, for the improving of a well-scheeted library, will find it to their great advantage to call and examine the extensive stock on head. My object and wish is, as it always was, to supply the wants of the community with anything in my line, on the most remonable terms possible. This we find the better and most advantageous course for all parties. The Political Economist tells as "the chopper an article is, the more universally it can and with be used." Then the cauchasin is, that when we buy cheap, we must sell themp, simply allowing ourselvos a reasonable profit. SUNDAY SCHOOL BOOKS.

F would call especial attention to my large assort-
