Columbia Spy.

PUBLISHED AT P.A. COLUMBIA, P.A.

SATURDAY MORNT, OCT. 29, 1859.

Police Items.

The number is a cozy good one.

"RESCUED BY OUR SPECIAL MOCKUP."

A "Soiree" at the "Sellitan"—On Sunday 15th inst. Mistress Bridget O'Flynn, of intybolant misceodemia and nimety day memory, rolumed to her old simpering at Gandwell's faspiric summer resort. An appropriate reception by her fellowing of the oyster. The artices of export for disappearance at the torpedo. Our disinguished correspondent was not present—cook like will in the dead, and in accordance with the same day per Detroit Express. The Gandwell fashionables. The principles went down to the Bull Pond—the socker—and had a game of base ball. Score—Hoger 1, Hoger 2. Hoger 1 was declared the victor. Hoger 2 was badly used up. Hoger 1 was not much hurt. Hoger 2 was not much hurt. Hoger 1 was not much hurt. Hoger 2 was not much hurt. Hoger 1 was not much hurt. Hoger 2 was not much hurt