The road was through a moun-. sinous and barren region, and on his journev the man was attacked by robbers, and is by them forsaken, wounded, nakes, and nnable to help himself. While the poor mun was lying there, a priest passed by, and then a Levite; but they did not aid him. And then there came a Samaritan, who had compassion on him. He bound up his wounds; he carried him into a place of eafety; and he promised to pay the man into whose care he had committed him. When our Saviour had related the parable, he said, "Which now of these three, thinkest theu, was neighbor unto him that fell among theires."
