

condemned for the crime of which he so calmly confessed himself guilty.

"I have made my escape," he answered with a strange smile.

"I am glad to hear it," I said, thinking it best to humor him, "then you will have no objection to remain quietly where you are for the present; rest will be good for you."

"Very, it is rest that I require," he answered languidly, leaning back in his chair, while I hastened to tell Inspector Park of the sad discovery I had made.

"I thought as much," was all I could elicit from the imperturbable detective. "And now, if you please, sir, I must take the girl into custody, and be off."

"Oh, surely you will not take him away in such a state!"

"Best on all accounts," he replied. "He didn't ought to be left alone for a minute, or he'll be likely enough to do himself a mischief."

Suddenly the thought struck me that some meaning of this kind might lurk in the words used by poor Hermann but a few minutes before, and I rushed up stairs.—He had not moved, but was sitting precisely in the same position, except that his head was sunk a little forward; and yet his attitude was not one of despair.

"Hermann," said I, sorrowfully; but he did not speak. I caught sight of a little phial held fast in his fingers which was answer enough, without bidding these clenched teeth of his open. He had made his escape poor fellow, from madness and misery, and was gone where he would be judged by the light of perfect truth and unfeeling mercy.

There is nothing more to tell. On his table was found a letter, painfully written with the left hand, to Sophie Rudiger, and a melancholy farewell to me. These I enclosed with a few words communicating his wretched end, and sent them to Herr Rudiger, after the coroner's inquest had returned its verdict of "temporary insanity," and my poor friend's remains were laid in a lonely corner of the churchyard. Mr. — telegraphed the number of the notes to London and stopped them before they left Johann Strauss' hands. And now the village is repaired, and I have another assistant, the Rev. Augustine Cope, who keeps the pupils, the parish, and the vicar himself in stern and primitive order. He is talented, energetic, and I truly believe, a man of deep and sincere piety; but I often sigh as I look round my new library, and think of the lost translation of the Latin Fathers, and of its erring and most unhappy author, my poor friend, Hermann Schwarz.

SKULLING RACE.—The race of authors.

WRITER'S EPITAPH.—He could not wait any longer—so he went.

A gold digger's epitaph, according to a Gotham editor, is "Dust to dust."

Inquiries are making whether the cup of sorrow has a saucer? Can any one tell?

A writer notices a dog so very serious that even his tail has not the least bit of a wag about it.

A gentleman who spoke of having been struck by a lady's beauty, was advised to kiss the rod.

A sweet girl is a sort of divinity, to whom even the Scriptures do not forbid us to render "lip-service."

The first swallow-tailed coat that old Soury got, so displeased him that he starched the tails and used it for a boot jack.

Mr. L. of Cincinnati, claims to have the largest vineyard in the United States.—We do not suppose it is more than half as large as Martha's.

Longfellow asks "what a single rose on a lady's forehead indicates." Probably it means that, if she is kissed, it must be under the rose.—Lou Journal.

Prentice of the Louisville Journal says: "If, when you visit a neighbor, he tells you in a very vague way to make yourself at home, obey him literally as soon as possible."

"It is a curious fact," says some entomologist, "that it is only the female musquito that torments us."—Exchange.

Alas! there is not the only female bill most difficult to stand.—Pentecost.

A superficial person, having heard a popular doctrinal preach, said to Dr. Colman: "Oh, sir, I have been fed this evening." The doctor added, "So the calves think after having sucked each others ears."

The proverb, "Lightly come, lightly go," does not apply to the goat, nor to the ruminant, nor to frolics, nor to a light sovereign; for all these playmates come lightly enough, and yet there is the greatest difficulty in getting them to go.

An old cynic, at a concert one night, read in the programme the title of a song, "Oh! Give me a Cot in the Valley I Love." Reading it over attentively, the old fellow finally growled, "Well, if I had my choice, I should ask for a bedstead."

COMPLIMENTARY.—A man not a thousand miles off once asked another who he liked best to hear preach. "Why," said he, "I like to hear Mr. B— best," because, said he, "I don't like to hear any preaching, and his comes the nearest to nothing of any that I ever heard."

A Quick Trip.—At a recent trial, before a justice, the following queer colloquy occurred:—Counsel:—"Did you tell Hooper to go to the devil?"—Witness:—"I rather think I did."—Counsel:—"Well did he rather witness?"—Witness:—"I believe not; but if he did, he made a quick trip of it, for I met him the next day."

The Dalton Post is the promulgator of the annexed joke: Corney and Patrick the mason were looking at a well made wall on Washington street, near the Boxbury line, where the latter admiring the workmanship, ejaculated, "Faith, an' that wall was 't laid in this country."

"How could that be?" was the inquiry. "I mean," he rejoined, "that the man who built and laid that same wall was never in this country, for such work is only done in the old country."

COLUMBIA, PA.
SATURDAY, NOV. 19, 1859.

SEE NEW ADVERTISEMENTS OF A. M. RAMBO'S, ODD FELLOWS' HALL, IN TO-DAY'S PAPER.

Rev. Mr. Ashton will preach in the Town Hall, on Sunday afternoon, (to-morrow) at 3 o'clock.

The Fair.—The Fair for the benefit of the German Reformed Church which has been held for the last four days, in Odd Fellows' Hall, has been well attended and quite successful. The tables are well supplied with useful Fancy Articles which find ready sale, and the refreshments are of first rate quality. This evening is the last evening advertised for holding the Fair, and we would remind the public of the fact. The "Columbia National Band" is present every evening and its music is highly appreciated by the company.

GROCERIES.—We call attention to H. Suydam's advertisements of Fresh Groceries, &c., in to-day's Spy. Mr. Suydam has a fine assortment and can give you satisfaction both in quality and price. Give him a call.

FRESH STOCK AT No. 71.—Go to Eberlein's New Grocery for genuine articles. He advertises a fresh stock of almost everything in his line.

SOMETHING NEW.—Among Flandersmith's stock of good things for the holidays will be found "Fresh Lobster." He has submitted a specimen of this article—Lobster put up in cans—to our investigation, and we pronounce it first-rate. It will be a novelty and a pleasant one at Christmas. He advertises, also, every variety of canned Fruit, and a general assortment of Spices, Fruit, Groceries, and every article in demand for "Holiday Fixings."

"Ze Good Oystair."—You call zat ze good oystair? asked the Frenchman as he swallowed one for the first time. If he got it at Jake Miller's it was surely good. Jacob has given his parveyor in Philadelphia carte blanche, and the result is the best article ever brought into the borough. The genuine, unadulterated "native." None of your lank, shabby, long-legged oysters, with a "spring fresh" in every one; but round, compact, meaty, fat, tastefully delicious shellfish, to eat which brings tears of gratitude into your eyes and words of thankfulness upon your lips. We may be prejudiced in favor of those bivalves, but we think ourselves sufficiently unbiased to judge them righteously. Any one who doubts has but to drop in at the "Franklin" and ask George for a dozen or so, according to appetite; if he don't acknowledge conviction there is no use appealing to his throne of reason any further.

THE CONCERT OF THE PEAK FAMILY.—On Tuesday evening the Peak Family of Bell Ringers had a packed house in the Odd Fellows' Hall. Their Bell Ringing performance was very musical; the manipulation gave evidence of wonderful skill and precision on the part of the musicians. The children appeared in several songs, and Mrs. Peak gave two, including the "Marsellaise," which she rendered with exceeding power. The concert was the most successful given in Columbia for several years.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.—At the election for Directors of the Columbia Bank, held on Wednesday, 9th inst., the following gentlemen were chosen:

Dr. Barton Evans, Henry Copenhoffer, John W. Clark, Thomas Lloyd, E. K. Smith, Wm. McConkey, George B. Joseph, H. Black, Dr. Henry John, Geo. A. Heistand, Glatz, Benjamin F. Heistand, Samuel Trustcott, Christian Mellinger.

Dr. Barton Evans was re-elected President.

THE MANLY ART.—Now, when the mind of the public is awakening to the necessity of physical training and improvement, in the time to call attention to N. G. Hinton's Sparring School, established in connection with his Bowling Saloon, in Front street, above Black's Hotel. By invitation we were present one evening this week to witness Mr. Hinton's manner of instruction.

As far as we can judge it is effective; it certainly is not rough or dangerous, while it gives exercise to every muscle of the body. Mr. Hinton never buffets his pupils as some teachers do, but instructs them in the science in a manner that can be injurious to no one, while it cannot fail to bring with the practice, strength and skill. Give him a call, you who admire the "Manly Art of Self Defence."

COLUMBIA CRICKET CLUB.—A number of young men of our town have recently agreed to organize a Cricket Club, and names were readily obtained to a pledge of the necessary subscription to carry out the design. Some thirty members had offered themselves up to Thursday evening, at which time a preliminary meeting was held in the Hiawatha Club Room, the proceedings of which we give:

N. McDonald was called to the chair. M. D. Wilson was appointed Secretary. On motion of Mr. Merrill the chair appointed the following committees:

On Instruction, Implements, &c.—Jno. Wright, C. C. Hinton, M. D. Wilson.

On Location.—Messrs. D. C. Wann, L. Merrill, W. W. Martin.

On Constitution and By-Laws.—Messrs. H. Brooke, L. Merrill, D. C. Wann.

The meeting adjourned to meet on Friday evening, 25th inst., at the Town Hall, where all details of utility in the formation of a Club are requested to attend.

We have too little time and space this week to speak as we feel on the subject of the formation of this Club. There is some organization, having for its object the promotion of athletic game, wanted in our community, and we promise ourselves to manfully advocate a general support of the present or some similar one of our young men. At present we will only ask all who feel interested to meet next Friday evening at the Town Hall.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Thursday morning about 8 o'clock, a fatal accident happened on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near the Company's Telegraph office, below Mill street. Frank Ferry, conductor on a freight train, was walking on the track when he was knocked down and run over by an locomotive and car which was backing up the track. His thigh was run over, and his neck broken before he could be extricated. He was walking towards the backing train, but was examining his manifest when struck. Some one saw his danger and made an unsuccessful effort to drag him from the track. He was a popular man on the road, and much esteemed by his acquaintances. Deceased was about 30 years of age and resided in Philadelphia, where he leaves a mother, brothers and sisters. The body was carried to Mrs. Beiter's boarding house, and removed the same evening in the 11 o'clock train to the city.

COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.—We invite attention to the advertisement of this Association in to-day's paper. This is no humbug, but every subscriber may rely upon getting the full worth of his money in the engraving alone—a splendid copy of Faed's celebrated painting of "Shakespeare and his Friends." Wm. F. Lloyd has been appointed Honorary Secretary for Columbia, to whom we refer those desiring to subscribe.

THE PRAIRIE.—Another number of Townsend's beautiful edition of Cooper, illustrated by Darley, received from Elias Barr & Co., Agents for the work. The "Prairie" is the concluding volume of the "Leather Stocking Tales," and in it the old woodsman, Cooper's greatest creation, driven by the crowding march of civilization, seeks a home in the wilds of the far West, and finds a peaceful grave. His end is touchingly told. The whole story is replete with stirring adventure, and some of the authors most beautiful description. The illustrations are what Darley alone can make them. For beauty and completeness this series of books has never been equalled by any American publication.

THE HARTFORD REVIEW FOR OCTOBER.—Now just issued, is a very full number, and remarkable for the variety and general attractiveness of the subjects discussed.—Witness the following table of contents:—Militia Forces, Rousseau's Life and Writings, Spiritual Freedom, Modern Poets and Poetry of Italy, Physical Geography of the Atlantic Ocean, Garibaldi and the Italian Volunteers, Tennyson's Idylls of the King, Bonapartism in Italy. Republished by L. Scott & Co., 54 Gold street, York, Price, $3 per annum. Price of the four Reviews, $8 a year; "Blackwood" and the four Reviews, $10.

PAT ON FINANCE.—"There's two ways of doing it," says Pat to himself, as he stood musing and waiting for a job on a Wall street corner. If I save me four thousand dollars, I must lay up two hundred dollars a year for twenty years, or I can put away twenty dollars a year for two hundred years. Now which way will I do? He jehers I think the twenty dollar a year plan is the wisest.

but that was but reopening of an old gun-shot wound; received by that good citizen in a foray upon the smoke-houses and hen coops of the borough of Washington, a year or two since. James never used a knife in his life's difficulties. When he couldn't give a man his gruel without drawing whittle—he would keep out of his way. He always took his punishment like a man, and asked no favors of any nigger on the Hill. "Squash 'no nigger know'd me to cut any nigger's head, did you? I'd drop in my tracks 'fore I'd run, and 'd-d if I wouldn't run 'fore I'd knife a man; det's so!"

In spite of James' eloquence he was ordered to find bail, and in default was confined to the cellar for the night. Next day Solomon, whose better feelings had been worked upon, concluded to relent and settle. He thought it a shame to incarcerate so "well read" a party as he considered James to be, and begged the "Squire" to let the offender off. James appeared in rather a wilted and mellowed frame of mind, the damp air of the lock-up having had a chastening effect. The justice reprimanded him and asserted that in according to the request of Solomon and other petitioners the Court did violence to its inclinations, which most decidedly pointed to incarceration. In consideration of a round sum of costs down, however, the prisoner might go this time.—James awaited no further permission, but fled and "biled."
